Altoona And Carlisle Death Mysteries May Be Connected

Man And Woman Found Slain Are Not Identified

MAY CONNECT WITH CARLISLE MYSTERY

Officers Probe Possibility Of Association With Slaying Of Three Girls

(International News Service)
ALTOONA, Pa., Nov. 26.—A mystery as baffling as that of the discovery of a trio of children near Carlisle, Pa., centered today as they made a vain attempt to identify a man and woman found fatally wounded at a Pennsylvania railroad station near here Saturday. State police at the Altoona barracks said the shooting was a plain case of murder and suicide. The man killed was a woman's body with rifle bullets and then shot himself, they asserted.

Probe Possible Connection
The possibility that the couple may have had some connection with the three children found in a woods near Carlisle was investigated by state police. Clothing found in a traveling bag near the tragic woodland scene where the two lay covered with a blanket was to be checked with that worn by the dead woman. It was definitely established by police that the dead couple registered at an Altoona hotel Thursday (Continued On Page Two)

PA NEW OBSERVES

Dear Pa News:
The Great Horned Owl one of the most interesting of the feathered tribe of our woods, sails silently and swiftly on powerful wings, through the night on a mission of destruction, to grouse, quail, hare, ducks, squirrels, and all other feathered creatures. Sometime during Thursday night of last week a great horned owl visited Gaston Park where he lingered till dawn and was captured. This bird is causing much interest to those who have seen it. The great horned owl holds the same position in this country as the eagle owl of Europe as a terrible destroyer of game. The great horned owl when it is plentiful ranged from eastern North America to south of Labrador and through the south regions to Mexico. The Indians called the owl the death bird because of its hideous cry of wauh-o wauh-o.

OWEN FENFIELD FOX.
The squirrels which inhabit the court house grounds must be wandering pretty far from home. Pa News noted two this morning along Walnut street, a considerable distance from the court house.

With Christmas less than a month away, the little boys and girls are suddenly becoming angelic in their behavior. Local stores are contributing to their better actions by displaying the new toys Santa is going to distribute this year.

Work was started today on four new RWD projects in New Castle. Perfect motoring weather of Sunday drew large numbers of autos to the highways.

Reports from the nation indicate that the greatest Christmas business of several years is forecast for the coming holiday season.

There certainly is money in circulation if one can judge by the thousands that witnessed football (Continued On Page Two)

City To Purchase Street Material

Cascade Street To Cost $93,000; City To Provide Limestone, Tools

Improvement of Cascade street from East Washington street to Croton avenue will cost $93,000, of which the city's share will be approximately $3,000. City Engineer Harry Hoskins today informed members of council when the officials met in formal session at city hall. His information followed a recommendation that the city buy about 2,200 tons of limestone. It will be used on the curbs of Cascade street, Rural avenue and Administration alley, near South Mill St. The limestone will cost about 70 cents a ton, Hoskins told council. After he had told of the city having to spend approximately $3,000, which includes the cost of tools, Finance Director Hoyland remarked, "This is good business. His motion for the city to buy the limestone passed unanimously.

Receives Wounds In Chest And Arm When Gun Is Accidentally Discharged

CONDITION IS NOT SERIOUS

Kenneth Schell, aged 24 years, of Croton avenue, is in the Jameson Memorial hospital, suffering with gun shot wounds of the chest, right arm, and hand, received when the gun of his brother, Everett, was accidentally discharged Saturday afternoon. His condition was reported good at the hospital today.
In company with George Jackson, also of this city, the two brothers were hunting rabbits about a mile this side of Pulaski, when Everett Schell's gun was accidentally discharged, the charge striking Kenneth about the upper part of the body. Fortunately, he was some little distance away, and his clothing helped to take up the force of the charge.
He was brought to the Jameson Memorial hospital at 3:35 p. m., where he is now recuperating from his injuries.

EIGHT MACHINES HELD BY COUNTY

Dividing a group of officers into three sections, County Detective A. Sharp Leslie visited seven places Saturday night and confiscated eight slot machines. The machines are in the office of the district attorney today.
Places where machines were confiscated are: Percy Simpson, Butler road; Pearl Frey, 827 Addis street; Mary Colang, 909 East Washington street extension; G. E. Hess, Pulaski township; Frank Rocco, 304 Fourth street; Ellwood City (two machines); Joe Rubino, 202 Franklin avenue; Ellwood City; Jim Farnese, Ellport.

In addition to County Detective Leslie the following officers took part in the visits: State Policemen Hughmanick and Engle; Sheriff Ed Hartman; Deputies Ben Hartman and John Taylor, Chief Morrison of the Ellwood City police and Lieutenant Hartman. The hour of the surprise was 8:30.

To Ask Destruction
A petition is being presented to the court today by District Attorney Alley asking that an order be handed down providing for destruction of the machines. ### Samuel Insull Ready To Face New Charges Following Acquittal

(International News Service)
CHICAGO, Nov. 26.—Samuel Insull, fallen utilities czar, acquitted of mail fraud by a federal jury Saturday, is eager and anxious to face a second federal indictment and pending state charges to complete his vindication.
The aged Insull is confident, one of his close associates revealed today, that he will be found not guilty of the charge of violating the national bankruptcy act.
Through his attorney, Floyd Thompson, Insull announced he would demand an early trial.
United States Attorney Dwight Green, who headed the prosecution in the mail fraud case, is to confer with Attorney General Cummings, and it was deemed highly probable the indictment would be quashed.
Insull, in high good spirits, declared today:
"I am ready to face these other trials that are pending. I have been vindicated in this case and I am confident I will be vindicated in the others."
Samuel Insull's younger brother, Martin, associated with him in the development of the vast utility empire, was to have gone on trial today in Cook county criminal court for allegedly embezzling $344,000 from the Middle West Utilities company to protect his private brokerage accounts. The trial was postponed until Dec. 3, however, as many of the thousands of documents and records used in the mail fraud case are wanted by state embassies.
A second state indictment charge involving both Martin and Samuel, is scheduled for trial January 17.

It was rumored on LaSalle street today that Samuel Insull, Jr., has planned new ventures and will return to the business world in an effort to recoup his fortune as soon as his remaining court battles are out of the way.

SO-CALLED ONE-MAN CLUBS ARE CLOSED ON SUNDAY

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Nov. 26.—Many so-called "one man" clubs that were closed last Sunday as a result of the state superior court's decision that liquor sales on Sunday are illegal, according to reports received by the liquor control board today.
Reports from Philadelphia were that "one man" clubs there were closed up tight and similar advice were received from other sections of the state, a majority of the clubs in Harrisburg were closed.
Fear Loss of License
Most Pittsburgh operators, fearing loss of their licenses next year if they continued Sunday dispensing of beer and liquor, closed their doors sharply at midnight and refused to admit customers. A few clubs were operating but those that did resorted to the secretive methods of the speakeasy era.
Clyde E. Smith, head of the enforcement division of the liquor board, announced his agents will begin vigorous enforcement of the superior court ruling. He expressed the hope that "one man" clubs could be put out of business by a vigorous application of the Sunday closing order. Officials pointed out that clubs of this type survive mainly on Sunday business when legitimate establishments are closed. Smith warned that revocation of licenses of clubs found selling on Sunday will be sought.

Foiled Effort On Emperor's Life In Manchukuo
(BULLETIN)
SHANGHAI, Nov. 26.—An unsuccessful attempt upon the life of Emperor Tang T'oh of Manchukuo, the former Henry Pu-Yi, was made in Mukden today.
Five Chinese patriots were seized as the would-be assassins. They face execution.
Disguised as Coolies, the Chinese patriots attempted to enter the tomb of the emperor's ancestors at Mukden as the emperor was offering sacrifices there.
Alert Japanese detectives stopped the quintet and found they carried bombs. The patriots hurled the bombs, however, before they could be confiscated, and they exploded.
Several guards were injured, and a solemn procession being conducted in connection with the emperor's ceremony was thrown into great confusion.

Girl Is Killed In Triple Crash

Seven More In Hospitals As Result Of Accident Near Connellsville

(International News Service)
CONNELLSVILLE, Pa., Nov. 26.—Seven persons were confined to hospitals at Connellsville and Uniontown today following a triple automobile accident near here last night that took the life of a 16 year old high school girl.
Lillian Irene Blise, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frances Blise, South Union township, was killed instantly in the crash, which occurred on a straight stretch of highway on Route 51, near Crab Apple reservoir, 10 miles west of Connellsville.
Margaret Terlosky, eight, is confined at Connellsville hospital, and is the most seriously injured of the seven. She suffered a possible fractured skull and is in a semi-conscious condition.

Several more projects of the RWD got under way today, according to George Muehlbach, director for the RWD here. Men were started on Cascade street, on the alleyway surrounding the relief headquarters on South Mill street, and on school improvement jobs in Mahoning and Neshaunock townships.
Approval for two more projects was received, these two being street repairs in South New Castle Boro and the repair of five Hydrants in New Castle.

Says Woman Slain Rode On Bus With Three Children

Bus Driver Identifies Photo That Seems To Connect Two Tragedies

Believe Children Came From Some Point Far Distant From Carlisle

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Nov. 26.—An unidentified woman found shot to death with a man at Duncansville, near Altoona, today was identified from a photograph by Paul White, Harrisburg bus driver, as the woman who accompanied three children on his bus last Wednesday on a run from New York to Harrisburg.
White had previously made an almost positive identification of the youngest of the three girls found dead in the mountains near Carlisle as the youngest of the three girls with the woman on the bus last Wednesday.

See Possible Link
The bus driver's identification strengthened a possible link between the mysterious deaths of the three children and the equally mysterious deaths of a man and woman at Duncansville.
The steward on White's bus was reached by Pennsylvania state police while he was enroute to Chicago and substantiated the driver's story.
State police said the steward told them he doubted whether he would be able to recognize any of the girls, however.

Girls Not Identified
Carlisle, Pa., Nov. 26.—Three babies in the woods—apparently chestnut-haired sisters, fifteen, ten and seven years old—mysteriously dead and unknown, furnished a triple tragedy puzzle today apparently as barren of clues to solution as when they were found Saturday morning, tucked between blankets on a bleak mountainside as if sleeping.
Two visits to the still forms in the morgue here during the bitter cold hours before dawn this morning developed nothing. Both groups, anxious men and women (Continued On Page Seventeen)

SO-CALLED ONE-MAN CLUBS ARE CLOSED ON SUNDAY

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Nov. 26.—Many so-called "one man" clubs throughout that state closed their doors yesterday as a result of the state superior court's decision that liquor sales on Sunday are illegal, according to reports received by the liquor control board today.

Reports from Philadelphia were that "one man" clubs there were closed up tight and similar advice was received from other sections of the state, a majority of the clubs in Harrisburg were closed.

Fear Loss of License
Most Pittsburgh operators, fearing the loss of their licenses next year if they continued Sunday dispensing of beer and liquor, closed their doors sharply at midnight and refused to admit customers. A few clubs were operating but those that did resort to the secretive methods of the speakeasy era.

Clyde E. Smith, head of the enforcement division of the board, announced his agents will begin vigorous enforcement of the superior court ruling. He expressed the hope that "one man" clubs could be put out of business by a vigorous application of the Sunday closing order.

Officials pointed out that clubs of this type survive mainly on Sunday business when legitimate establishments are closed. Smith warned that revocation of licenses of clubs found selling on Sunday will be sought.

Mrs. Smith's three year old son by her first marriage, Frank Alstine, was shot through the head. A shot in the mouth had killed their infant daughter, Sabre.

A pistol, stained with blood, was found in the bedroom closet. A revolver lay under the bed. Both Sheriff Sam Drinkard said, had been fired.

The couple had been married less than two years.

Sheriff Drinkard said there was nothing to indicate the family had been wiped out by burglars. Apparently no one had forced entrance to the house. None of the doors or windows were tampered with, he said.

HARRISBURG, Nov. 26.

An unidentified woman found shot to death with a man at Duncansville, near Altoona, today was identified from a photograph by Paul White, Harrisburg bus driver, as the woman who accompanied three children on his bus last Wednesday on a run from New York to Harrisburg.

White, previously made an almost positive identification of the youngest of the three girls found dead in the mountains near Carlisle as the youngest of the three girls with the woman on the bus last Wednesday.

The bus driver's identification strengthened a possible link between the mysterious deaths of the three children and the equally mysterious deaths of a man and woman at Duncansville.

The steward on White's bus was reached by Pennsylvania state police while he was enroute to Chicago and substantiated the driver's story.

State police said the steward told them he doubted whether he would be able to recognize any of the girls, however.

Officers Probe Possibility Of Association With Slaying Of Three Girls

(International News Service)
ALTOONA, Pa., Nov. 26.—A mystery as baffling as that of the discovery of a trio of children near Carlisle, Pa., confronted police today as they made a vain attempt to identify a man and woman found fatally wounded at a Pennsylvania railroad station near here Saturday.

Probed Possible Connection
The possibility that the couple may have had some connection with the three children found in a woods near Carlisle was investigated by state police. Clothing found in a traveling bag near the tragic woodland scene where the trio lay covered with a blanket was to be checked with that worn by the dead woman. It was definitely established by police that the dead couple registered at an Altoona hotel Thursday.

Dear Pa New:
The Great Horned Owl one of the nimblest of the feathered tribe of our woods, sails silently and swiftly on powerful wings, through the night on a mission of destruction, to grouse, quail, hare, ducks, squirrels, and all other feathered creatures. Sometime during Thursday night of last week a great horned owl visited Gaston Park where he lingered till dawn and was captured. This bird is causing much interest to those who have seen it. The great horned owl holds the same position in this country as the eagle owl of Europe as a terrible destroyer of game. The great horned owl when it is plentiful ranged from the eastern North America to south of Labrador and through the south regions to Mexico. The Indians called the owl the death bird because of its hideous cry of waaah-o waaah-o.

Slot Machines Are Confiscated

Officers Seize Machines In Visits Throughout County Saturday Night

EIGHT MACHINES HELD BY COUNTY

Dividing a group of officers into three sections, County Detective A. Sharp Leslie visited seven places Saturday night and confiscated eight slot machines. The machines are in the office of the district attorney today.

Places where machines were confiscated are: Percy Simpson, Butler road; Pearl Frey, 827 Addis street; Mary Colang, 1908 East Washington street extension; G. E. Hess, Pulaski township; Frank Rocco, 304 Fourth street, Ellwood City (two machines); Joe Rubino, 202 Franklin avenue, Ellwood City; Jim Parise, Ellport.
In addition to County Detective Leslie the following officers took part in the visits: State Policeman Hughmanick and Engle; Sheriff Edward D. Pritchard, Deputies Ben Hartland and Elmer Taylor, Chief Morrison of the Ellwood City police and Lieutenant Hartman. The hour of the surprise was 8:30.

WILL SEEK NEW STATE CONSTITUTION

Democrats Will Launch Project

DRAFTING BODY WILL BE NAMED

By HARRY BERGMAN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 26.—That adoption of a new constitution for Pennsylvania will be one of the first objectives of the incoming Democratic administration was clearly apparent today.

On the heels of his action in naming a committee of five men to lay the ground work for a constitutional convention, Governor-elect George Earle is expected to appoint another body within the next few days. The second committee will be charged with the duty of drafting a "broad outline of the new proposed constitution."

By means of the constitutional convention Earle and other Democratic leaders, it was hinted, hope to see the state operating under a new document by January 1, 1935. Critics of the proposal have pointed out it is impossible legally to adopt a new constitution in such a comparatively brief period of time.

Some Changes Desired

However, the governor-elect manifested impatience to get some of his measures on the statute books as soon as possible. He said: "It is imperative that we have a new constitution so as to permit enactment of a graduated income tax, enactment of a graduated inheritance tax with exemption for small estates, old age pensions, consolidation of city and county governments in Philadelphia and modernization of local governments."

Throughout the state consistent with the principle of self-government for communities.

"Constitutional revision will engage the attention of my administration immediately upon my induction into office."

The committee named last Saturday to formulate a suggested program for a constitutional convention is expected to hold its first meeting in Harrisburg early this week.

The committee consists of Charles J. Margiotti, Jefferson county, attorney-general designate in the incoming cabinet; H. Edgar Barnes, Montgomery county, secretary of revenue-designate; former Judge Edward M. Biddle, Jr., Cumberland county; Charles Alvin Jones, Allegheny county, and Harry E. Kalodner, Philadelphia. All members of the body are lawyers.

The governor-elect did not indicate who he is considering for membership on the second committee to outline a proposed constitution, but said the group "will be representative of every part of the state and various groups affected," he added.

"The report of the present committee and the larger committee will, of course, be considered by my entire cabinet in connection with the administrative program which will be submitted to the state legislature next year."

Meanwhile, additional appointments to his cabinet were expected to be announced by Earle within the next few days. He has already named five cabinet appointees and indicated he will reveal further appointments this week.

Biggest Christmas Trade Since 1931 Seen By Stores

NEW YORK, Nov. 26.—Merchants from coast to coast are anticipating the largest Christmas trade since 1931, the National Retail Dry Goods association reported today, asserting December sales are expected to show an increase of 11 per cent over 1933 and 21.5 per cent above December, 1932.

The association's estimates were based on a survey of its 3,000 member department and specialty stores and 30 states are represented in the tabulations.

Should this upswing extend to all lines, the organization's statisticians figured, retail sales during December would be about four and one-half billion dollars. The association previously estimated that 354,000 extra workers would be employed by retailers to handle the Christmas rush.

Realization of the anticipated totals, the survey showed, was predicated on prevalence of favorable weather. December sales total was estimated as indicating a level of retail activity almost equivalent to 1931 results. More than 2,300,000 individual items would be sold.

The association has estimated a Christmas business of $300,000,000 in the toy division alone.

Deaths of the Day

Tribute to the late Mrs. Mary T. Williams, wife of William D. Williams, was paid by a large assemblage of friends and relatives, at 3:30 p. m., Saturday, in the residence, 1001 East Washington street.

The funeral services were in charge of Dr. C. B. Winger, pastor of the Central Presbyterian church, assisted by Rev. Rees T. Williams, pastor of the First Congregational church.

Two beautiful vocal selections, "Face to Face," and "Lead Kindly Light," were rendered by Mrs. Rees T. Williams, accompanied by Mrs. John M. Evans.

Palbearers were Ben Lloyd, Evan Thomas, Lou Morris, David Evans, James Taylor and Isaac Isaacs. Interment was made in Oak Park cemetery.

Mrs. Hannah Rebecca Harvey.

Mrs. Hannah Rebecca Harvey, aged 87, widow of John W. Harvey, died Sunday at 5:30 a. m. at the home of her niece, Mrs. Carl Rodgers, Fording road, where she has been residing the past few months, after an illness incident to her advanced age.

She was born at Greenville July 4, 1847, the daughter of Joseph and Emma Wigton, and was of the family that was massacred by Indians in the early pioneer days at the Stone House on the Slippery Rock-Bethel road.

She was a member of the Edenburg Methodist church.

Surviving is one brother, Harvey Wigton, Kent, O.; also a number of nieces and nephews.

Funeral services will be held Tuesday, Nov. 27, at two p. m. from the home of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Rodgers, Fording road, with the Rev. W. S. Ingersoll officiating. Interment will be made in the Edenburg cemetery.

Mrs. Margaret Ward Flynn.

Mrs. Margaret Ward Flynn, aged 78, widow of Frank P. Flynn, Sr., who died four years ago, died at 1:30 this morning in the New Castle hospital after an illness of two months.

She was born in England, the daughter of William and Ellen Ward, and came to New Castle when a small child. She was a member of St. Mary's church and the ladies' auxiliary of the B. E. of T.

She is survived by three sons: George L. Flynn, Corry; Fred J. Flynn, Frank P., Jr., this city, and four grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held on Thursday at 10 a. m. from St. Mary's church, with interment in St. Mary's cemetery.

Mrs. Pauline Schmitzer.

Mrs. Pauline Schmitzer, aged 72, 9 West Front street, widow of Herman Schmitzer, died in the New Castle hospital Sunday at 3:55 a. m. following a week's illness.

She was born in Germany and had been a resident of this city the past 30 years. She was a member of St. Joseph's church.

Surviving are three sons: Frank, of West Allegheny; Herman, of Braddock; and Joseph of this city; a brother, Fritz Schmitzer, Germany, and two grandchildren.

She has been taken to the Burke funeral home, North Jefferson street, where she will remain until the time of funeral services at nine a. m. in St. Joseph's church, with the Rev. Fr. J. A. Doerr officiating.

Interment will be made in St. Mary's cemetery, Sharon.

R. W. Hainer Funeral.

Funeral services for Russell Wilson Hainer were held Saturday afternoon from the home of his sisters, 313 Edgewood avenue, with Dr. G. S. Bennett of the First Christian church officiating.

Interment was made in Oak Park cemetery. Palbearers were Charles Davis, Edward Hainer, Robert Hainer, Louis Haug, William Kennedy and Ralph Shiner.

R. E. O'Donnell Is Named As President For Ensuing Year

During the reunion of the E. & A. veterans of the Pennsylvania railroad on Saturday afternoon, officers were elected for the coming year.

R. E. O'Donnell was elected president; J. C. McMichael, first vice president; W. A. Glasser, second vice president; S. E. Park, third vice president; I. W. Tate, fourth vice president; C. J. Callahan was elected treasurer and A. E. Stahl was elected secretary for the 14th consecutive time.

C. M. Frost retired this year as president of the organization. Plans will soon start for the 1935 reunion which will be held on the last Saturday in November.

Club Closed In County Sunday

Clubs in New Castle were closed Sunday in compliance with the recent order of the State Liquor Control board and the advice of District Attorney Mont L. Alley to the "beer only" clubs.

In most cases it is said the clubs closed promptly at midnight on Saturday and did not reopen until six this morning. State investigators, Michael Serko, who is stationed here, expects to see that the law is enforced every Sunday.

Biggest Christmas Trade Since 1931 Seen By Stores

NEW YORK, Nov. 26.—Merchants from coast to coast are anticipating the largest Christmas trade since 1931, the National Retail Dry Goods association reported today, asserting December sales are expected to show an increase of 11 per cent over 1933 and 21.5 per cent above December, 1932.

The association's estimates were based on a survey of its 3,000 member department and specialty stores and 30 states are represented in the tabulations.

Should this upswing extend to all lines, the organization's statisticians figured, retail sales during December would be about four and one-half billion dollars. The association previously estimated that 354,000 extra workers would be employed by retailers to handle the Christmas rush.

Realization of the anticipated totals, the survey showed, was predicated on prevalence of favorable weather. December sales total was estimated as indicating a level of retail activity almost equivalent to 1931 results. More than 2,300,000 individual items would be sold.

The association has estimated a Christmas business of $300,000,000 in the toy division alone.

On his way to England, who should be waiting to greet him at the station? You'll never guess. La Baker herself!

Royal rebukes followed. The young Duke was told to give up the gal and go on another good-will tour to Australia.

He was on the spot—and knew it. He compromised by promising his parents to marry quickly.

In desperation, he called on his cousin, the Marchioness of Milford Haven.

"I am in a pretty kettle of fish," he is said to have sighed to her. "I've got to get married, but all the Princess I know are so ugly."

"Have you seen Marina of Greece?" the Marchioness wanted to know. "She is very good looking and everyone says she's charming."

George admitted that he had met her, but had forgotten what she was like, adding, however, "I suppose a Greek princess will do well as any other."

He went, he saw, he conquered. The susceptible British prince fell in love with the fascinating, blue-eyed Greek princess.

Within a week he was following Marina to the castle of her brother-in-law, Prince Paul of Yugoslavia, begging her to be his bride.

The Greek had a word for it—"Yes." For the pretty brunette princess had been a severe case of love at first sight.

DRAFTING BODY WILL BE NAMED

International News Service Staff Correspondent

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 26.—That adoption of a new constitution for Pennsylvania will be one of the first objectives of the incoming Democratic administration was clearly apparent today.

On the heels of his action in naming a committee of five men to lay the ground work for a constitutional convention, Governor-elect George H. Earle is expected to appoint another body within the next few days. The second committee will be charged with the duty of drafting a broad outline of the new proposed constitution.

By means of the constitutional convention Earle and other Democratic leaders, it was hinted, hope to see the state operating under a new document by January 1, 1936. Critics of the proposal have pointed out it is impossible legally to adopt a new constitution in such a comparatively brief period of time.

Some Changes Desired
However, the governor-elect manifested impatience to get some of his measures on the statute books as soon as possible. He said:

"It is imperative that we have a new constitution so as to permit enactment of a graduated income tax, enactment of a graduated inheritance tax with exemption for small estates, old age pensions, consolidation of city and county governments in Philadelphia and modernization of local governments."

throughout the state consistent with the principle of self-government for communities.

"Constitutional revision will engage the attention of my administration immediately upon my induction into office."

The committee named last Saturday to formulate a suggested program for a constitutional convention is expected to hold its first meeting in Harrisburg early this week.

The committee consists of Charles J. Margiotti, Jefferson county attorney-general designate in the incoming cabinet; H. Edgar Barnes, Montgomery county secretary of revenue-designate; former Judge Edward M. Biddle, Jr., Cumberland county; Charles Alvin Jones, Allegheny county; and Harry E. Kalodner, Philadelphia. All members of the body are lawyers.

The governor-elect did not indicate who he is considering for membership on the second committee to outline a proposed constitution, but said the group "will be representative of every part of the state and various groups affected," he added.

"The report of the present committee and the larger committee will, of course, be considered by my entire cabinet in connection with the administration program which will be submitted to the state legislature next year."

Meantime, additional appointments to his cabinet were expected to be announced by Earle within the next few days. He has already named five cabinet appointees and indicated he will reveal further appointments this week.

spectacles throughout the nation on Saturday afternoon in this section were glad to see the warms of blankets. It was a raw, chilly day.

Although the weather was as cold as November's should be, a host of men and women riders went to Troop F stables on Sunday, mounted their favorite horses and enjoyed several hours' sport over the surrounding territory. Sergeant Homer Russell stated that during the day the entire 35 horses owned by the troop had been ridden, mostly by civilians. This was the largest turnout of civilian riders in many weeks.

The youngest riding enthusiasts are Girl Scouts of Troop No. 2. They have been taking lessons for some time and are now fairly well advanced in the art.

An East North street resident has been awakened each morning before 5 o'clock by the surprising sound of roosters crowing. A market owner evidently has a good supply of the fowls in his cellar for the Thanksgiving shoppers.

In the national observance of a day of prayer for the nation Sunday one of the ministers suggested an HRP organization, in addition to the many alphabetic organizations that have been formed; this to be Humility, Repentance and Prayer.

Pa New thought he was seeing things when he noticed an old street car being hauled down the main street on a truck. It was one which had been used as a lunch counter, and had no under frame or trucks on it.

Talking of bumper crops harvested on Lawrence county farms, F. F. Russell of R. F. D. 4 has a corn harvest this year that's worth noting in black and white. Mrs. Sara R. Shuler writes Pa New that Mr. Russell has just finished harvesting 1,150 bushels of corn from the nine acres he planted.

Agreement To Co-operate For Good Of National Emergency, Is Reached

(International News Service)

TOKYO, Nov. 26.—Japan's two opposing political parties today reached an agreement "for cooperation in the national emergency."

While the definite object of the unusual union between the Seiyukai and Minseito parties was not disclosed, it was believed to be a logical result of Japan's isolationist policy as exemplified by her intention to denounce the Washington naval treaty.

A spokesman declared the aim of the two parties would be "formulation of a long-sighted national policy."

Government circles looked askance at the rapprochement, fearing it to be a precursor of agitation aimed at overthrow of the government.

Both parties denied this, however, declaring they were determined to safeguard constitutionalism.

Class Of 63 Is Up For Naturalization

Judge James A. Chambers Presides And W. C. McDougall, Pittsburgh, Examines

Sixty-three applicants for final papers presented themselves for examination at Naturalization court held at the court house this morning by Judge James A. Chambers, with W. C. McDougall, of the department at Pittsburgh, as examiner.

As the applicants had all stood a preliminary examination very few questions were asked at the final. Each of the applicants was accompanied by two witnesses who told how long they had known the applicant and of his or her good moral character.

All of the applicants were asked if they had been arrested for any crime and if so, the nature of the crime and the disposition of the case. One of the applicants who was up for final examination, it was found, had concealed the fact that he had been arrested several times for violation of the Prohibition laws. He could not give a very good explanation of why he had concealed this fact at his preliminary examination, and so his application was turned down.

Most of those who were up for final examinations were of Italian or Slavish descent. Their citizenship papers will be made out later.

Club Closed In County Sunday

Clubs in New Castle were closed Sunday in compliance with the recent order of the State Liquor Control board and the unkind of District Attorney Mont L. Alley to the "beer only" clubs.

In most cases it is said the clubs closed promptly at midnight on Saturday and did not reopen until six this morning. State Investigator Michael Sarko, who is stationed here, expects to see that the law is enforced every Sunday.

Man Is Killed In Plunge Of Truck

(International News Service)

KANE, Pa., Nov. 26.—Dominic Massi, 50, of Morrison, Pa., was killed instantly today when a truck in which he was riding plunged over a 15-foot embankment on the Kittau highway, 11 miles north of here.

John Thieges, 38, also of Morrison, escaped unhurt even though trapped beneath the overturned vehicle. He was freed by another passenger in the truck, Earle Wallace.

The accident was the first since the road was opened two weeks ago. Police had a Thieges on a charge of driving without an operators license and plates.

Democrats Will Launch Project

DRAFTING BODY WILL BE NAMED

International News Service Staff Correspondent

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 26.—That adoption of a new constitution for Pennsylvania will be one of the first objectives of the incoming Democratic administration was clearly apparent today.

On the heels of his action in naming a committee of five men to lay the ground work for a constitutional convention, Governor-elect George H. Earle is expected to appoint another body within the next few days. The second committee will be charged with the duty of drafting a "broad outline of the new proposed constitution."

By means of the constitutional convention Earle and other Democratic leaders, it was hinted, hope to see the state operating under a new document by January 1, 1936. Critics of the proposal have pointed out it is impossible legally to adopt a new constitution in such a comparatively brief period of time.

Some Changes Desired
However, the governor-elect manifested impatience to get some of his measures on the statute books as soon as possible. He said:

"It is imperative that we have a new constitution so as to permit enactment of a graduated income tax, enactment of a graduated inheritance tax with exemption for small estates, old age pensions, consolidation of city and county governments in Philadelphia and modernization of local governments."

"Constitutional revision will engage the attention of my administration immediately upon my induction into office."

The committee named last Saturday to formulate a suggested program for a constitutional convention is expected to hold its first meeting in Harrisburg early this week.

The committee consists of Charles J. Margotti, Jefferson county, attorney-general designate in the incoming cabinet; H. Edgar Barnes, Montgomery county, secretary of revenue-designate; former Judge Edward M. Biddle, Jr., Cumberland county; Charles Alvin Jones, Allegheny county; and Harry E. Kaldner, Philadelphia. All members of the body are lawyers.

The governor-elect did not indicate who he is considering for membership on the second committee to outline a proposed constitution, but said the group "will be representative of every part of the state and various groups affected," he added.

"The report of the present committee and the larger committee will, of course, be considered by my administration in connection with the administration program which will be submitted to the state legislature next year."

Meantime, additional appointments to his cabinet were expected to be announced by Earle within the next few days. He has already named five cabinet appointees and indicated he will reveal further appointments this week.

By means of the constitutional convention Earle and other Democratic leaders, it was hinted, hope to see the state operating under a new document by January 1, 1936.

Critics of the proposal have pointed out it is impossible legally to adopt a new constitution in such a comparatively brief period of time.

However, the governor-elect manifested impatience to get some of his measures on the statute books as soon as possible. He said:

Although the weather was as cold as November's should be, a host of men and women riders went to Troop F stables on Sunday, enjoyed their favorite horses and enjoyed several hours' jaunt over the surrounding territory. Sergeant Homer Messel stated that during the day the entire 35 horses owned by the troop had been ridden, mostly by civilians. This was the largest turnout of civilian riders in many weeks.

Biggest Christmas Trade Since 1931 Seen By Stores

NEW YORK, Nov. 26.—Merchants from coast to coast are anticipating the largest Christmas trade since 1931, the National Retail Dry Goods association reported today, asserting December sales are expected to show an increase of 11 per cent over 1933 and 21.5 per cent above December, 1932.

The association's estimates were based on a survey of its 5,000 member department and specialty stores and 30 states are represented in the tabulations.

Should this upswing extend to all lines, the organization's statisticians figured, retail sales during December would be about four and one-half billion dollars. The association previously estimated that 354,000 extra workers would be employed by retailers to handle the Christmas rush.

Realization of the anticipated totals, the survey showed, was predicated on prevalence of favorable weather. The December sales total was estimated as indicating a level of retail activity almost equivalent to 1931 results. More than 2,300,000 individual items would be sold.

The association has estimated a Christmas business of $200,000,000 in the toy division alone.

Opposing Political Parties In Japan Are In Agreement

(International News Service)

TOKYO, Nov. 26.—Japan's two opposing political parties, today reached an agreement "for cooperation in the national emergency."

While the definite object of the unusual union between the Seiyukai and Minseitō parties was not disclosed, it was believed to be a logical result of Japan's isolationist policy as exemplified by her intention to denounce the Washington naval treaty.

A spokesman declared the aim of the two parties would be "formulation of a long-sighted national policy."

Government circles looked askance at the rapprochement, fearing it to be a precursor of agitation aimed at overthrow of the government.

Both parties denied this, however, declaring they were determined to safeguard constitutionalism.

Class Of 63 Is Up For Naturalization

Judge James A. Chambers Presides And W. C. McDougall, Pittsburgh, Examines

Sixty three applicants for final papers presented themselves for examination at Naturalization court held at the court house this morning by Judge James A. Chambers, with W. C. McDougall, of the department at Pittsburgh as examiner.

As the applicants had all stood a preliminary examination very few questions were asked at the final. Each of the applicants was accompanied by two witnesses who told how long they had known the applicant and of his or her good moral character.

All of the applicants were asked if they had been arrested for any crime, and if so, the nature of the crime and the disposition of the case. One of the applicants who was up for final examination, it was found, had concealed the fact that he had been arrested several times for violation of the Prohibition laws. He could not give a very good explanation of why he had concealed this fact at his preliminary examination, and so his application was turned down.

Most of those who were up for final examinations were of Italian or Slavish descent. Their citizenship papers will be made out later.

In the order the court will hand down a time will be set for the owners of the machines to appear and claim them if they can show they are not gambling machines. If no one appears, they do appear and are refused the machines, they will be smashed by the county detective.

On Friday afternoon, Nov. 30, the Lawrence county court will hear the petition of District Attorney Mont L. Alley asking for the destruction of slot machines confiscated Saturday night. The hearing will be at 1:30, and at that time the court will pass upon the question of whether or not the slot machines are legal.

Altoona, Pa., Nov. 26.—While every effort to identify a man and woman found shot to death in the lonely Spring Meadow Station failed today, the possibility that the couple may be linked with the death of three children found near Carlisle, Pa., was strengthened by developments at Harrisburg.

There a picture of the woman who was shot to death near Dunsmuirville was shown Paul White, driver of a bus which carried a woman and three children into Pennsylvania from New York last week.

After studying the picture closely, White said the woman appearing in the photograph looked like the one who accompanied the children on the New York to Harrisburg run.

Entertained

Mr. and Mrs. Roland Gilkey of 450 County Line street, and Mrs. C. Barclay entertained jointly in the former's home, Saturday afternoon, at a party honoring Mr. and Mrs. James A. W. Killip of Philadelphia, the latter being given further recognition, due to the fact it was her birthday anniversary.

An informal social program was carried out, and a sumptuous dinner was served in their honor.

Mr. and Mrs. Killip have been speaking in the schools of the county during the past week in the interest of "alcohol education."

Celebration Held

Thirty friends and relatives of Mr. and Mrs. Edward H. Flynn, whose marriage was recently announced, assembled in their home on Bell avenue, Saturday evening, in the form of a celebration.

Informal pastimes were in vogue, and at conclusion, refreshments were served by Mrs. F. L. Flynn. Later, the honored couple, were presented with a number of lovely gifts, treated to a shower of rice, and "taken for a ride," winding up with a hilarious evening.

BRIDE-ELECT HONORED AT DESSERT-BRIDGE

Miss Charlotte Alexander, a bride-elect of Thanksgiving day, has been fêted at many pre-nuptial parties, and on Saturday afternoon she was again honored at another delightful affair when Miss Clara Bernine presided as hostess over a beautifully appointed dessert-bridge in her home on Northview avenue. The guest list included members of the Red Seal club.

At 1 o'clock those assembled were given their places around a large table centered with a bouquet of valley lilies arranged in an unique horseshoe shaped vase. Nuptial suggestions, including bridal place cards, completed the attractive setting. Delicious dessert was served, after which bridge was enjoyed.

At conclusion of play, trophies were awarded to Isabelle Jones and Miss Alexander, the latter also being the recipient of a handsome gift from the club members.

The regular meeting of the club will occur on December 13, the place to be decided.

LOVELY DINNER FOR OUT OF TOWN FOLKS

Miss Grace Wilson, East North street, entertained at a dinner of charming appointments Sunday.

A lovely centerpiece of flowers, in red and white, was attractive, and among the guests were several from out of town, including Mr. and Mrs. Harry Fisher of Pittsburgh, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Mayne of Beaver.

Birthday Surprise

Saturday evening Mrs. Mary Burns, West Washington street, was invited to the home of her son Elmer, Glenn avenue, and upon arriving there found a number of relatives and friends gathered to aid her in the celebration of her birthday.

Entertained

Mr. and Mrs. Rolland Gilkey of 450 County Line street and Mrs. C. Barclay entertained jointly in the former's home, Saturday afternoon, at a party honoring Mr. and Mrs. James A. W. Killip of Philadelphia, the latter being given further recognition due to the fact it was her birthday anniversary.

An informal social program was carried out, and a sumptuous dinner was served in their honor.

Mr. and Mrs. Killip have been speaking in the schools of the county during the past week in the interests of "alcohol education."

Celebration Held

Thirty friends and relatives of Mr. and Mrs. Edward H. Flynn, whose marriage was recently announced, assembled in their home on Bell avenue, Saturday evening, in the form of a celebration.

Informal pastimes were in vogue, and at conclusion, refreshments were served by Mrs. F. L. Flynn. Later, the honored couple, were presented with a number of lovely gifts, treated to a shower of rice, and "taken for a ride," winding up a hilarious evening.

BRIDE-ELECT HONORED AT DESSERT-BRIDGE

Miss Charlotte Alexander, a bride-elect of Thanksgiving day, has been fêted at many pre-nuptial parties, and on Saturday afternoon she was again honored at another delightful affair when Miss Clara Bernine presided as hostess over a beautifully appointed dessert-bridge in her home on Northview avenue. The guest list included members of the Re-Deal club.

At 1 o'clock those assembled were given their places around a large table centered with a bouquet of valley lilies arranged in an unique horseshoe shaped vase. Nuptial suggestions, including bridal place cards, completed the attractive setting. Delicious dessert was served, after which bridge was enjoyed.

At conclusion of play, trophies were awarded to Isabelle Jones and Miss Alexander, the latter also being the recipient of a handsome gift from the club members.

The regular meeting of the club will occur on December 13, the place to be decided.

LOVELY DINNER FOR OUT OF TOWN FOLKS

Miss Grace Wilson, East North street, entertained at a dinner of charming appointments Sunday.

A lovely centerpiece of flowers, in red and white, was attractive, and among the guests were several from out of town, including Mr. and Mrs. Harry Fisher of Pittsburgh, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Mayne of Beaver.

LOCAL GUESTS AT GOLDEN WEDDING
A. I. Broadhead and daughter Miss Alma Broadhead, Monroe street, have returned from Leechburg, where they attended, yesterday, an observance of the golden wedding anniversary of the former's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Oliver.

Today, November 26, marks in reality, the wedding event of a half century ago, when Hannah Broadhead and A. M. Oliver a native of Nova Scotia, were united in marriage at the bride's home, in Rathmel, Jefferson county. The couple have three children living, all daughters; Bertha, at home, Mrs. Roy Kasten, of Indiana Harbor, Ill., and Mrs. A. T. Beman, of Flint, Mich.

They were present at the family dinner on Sunday, at which there were covers for twenty five, at a table beautified with gold and white appointments. Among other guests were three brothers of Mrs. Oliver, A. I. Broadhead, of New Castle; O. J. Broadhead, of Sharon, and T. J. Broadhead, of Apollo, Pa. Five grandchildren and one great grandchild shared in the event.

Mr. Oliver is in his seventy eighth year and his wife in her seventieth. They are both in good health and good wishes for continued health and happiness were conveyed through the presentation of lovely gifts to them.

Baldwin Bible Class
Members of the Baldwin Bible class of the Highland U. P. church will have their November meeting Tuesday evening in the church.

Surprise Party
A surprise party was held in honor of Mrs. Angelina De Caprio of Home street, Saturday, celebrating fifty winters she has seen.

Singing and dancing to gay music were avenues of pleasure, together with a delicious luncheon. The honored guest was presented with handsome gifts. Instigators of the affair were Mrs. Conietta Ascione and Mellina De Caprio.

F. L. C. Club Members
Mrs. Arthur Harris of Young street, will entertain in her home Tuesday evening, members of the F. L. C. club.

JUNIOR COUNCIL MEMBERSHIP PARTY

Yesterday afternoon in Temple Israel, the Jewish Junior Council Section of New Castle, Miss Doris Shenkan, president, entertained at a delightful "Membership Luncheon-Bridge" that proved one of their outstanding parties of the season. The occasion was largely attended by former members, and those recently admitted into the organization.

Activities began at 1 o'clock with the serving of a delicious menu, Miss Rosalyn Safer, general chairman, and committee, in charge. The tables were beautifully appointed in the season's tones.

Miss Florence Shapo filled the role of toastmistress for the afternoon program and cleverly introduced Mrs. Marcus Feuchtwanger, Mrs. M. Schoenberger and Mrs. William Cosel, each of whom gave short and instructive talks.

Florence Shapo, Beatrice Gonick and Esther Fishkin featured with talks on "Council" that were well received.

Another novel part of the entertainment was the singing of two songs, the words being well and appropriately composed by Miss Rosalyn Freeman, to tunes of popular numbers. The affair was put in the Junior Council annals as a fine success.

Daughters of Lydia
Mrs. J. M. Anderson was hostess to the Daughters of Lydia of the First Presbyterian church Saturday afternoon in the home of Mrs. J. Norman Martin, North Mercer street.

Mrs. F. R. Woods led the devotionals, with Mrs. F. S. Breneman presiding. Mrs. Anderson had an interesting paper on "Alaska" and Mrs. John Madigan discussed "India."

Refreshments were served by the hostess and her committee: Mrs. John Madigan, Mrs. C. H. Bauder, Mrs. E. W. Beadel and Mrs. John Foster.

December 26 will mark the date of the next meeting.

Entertained

Mr. and Mrs. Rolland Gilkey of 450 County Line street and Mrs. C. Barclay entertained jointly in the former's home, Saturday afternoon, at a party honoring Mr. and Mrs. James A. W. Killip of Philadelphia, the latter being given further recognition, due to the fact it was her birthday anniversary.

An informal social program was carried out, and a sumptuous dinner was served in their honor.

Mr. and Mrs. Killip have been speaking in the schools of the county during the past week in the interests of "alcohol education."

Celebration Held

Thirty friends and relatives of Mr. and Mrs. Edward H. Flynn, whose marriage was recently announced, assembled in their home on Bell avenue, Saturday evening, in the form of a celebration.

Informal pastimes were in vogue, and at conclusion, refreshments were served by Mrs. F. L. Flynn.

Later, the honored couple, were presented with a number of lovely gifts, treated to a shower of rice, and "taken for a ride," winding up a hilarious evening.

D. U. V. Meeting

The Daughters of Union Veterans will have an all-day quilting Tuesday in the City building with a turndown dinner at noon.

The women will assemble at 10 o'clock.

GWYNETH LLOYD TO MARRY P. E. HOSKINS

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Lloyd, of Franklin avenue, announce the engagement of their daughter, Gwyneth Lloyd, to Paul E. Hoskins, of Centreville, Pa. The wedding will take place in December.

Miss Lloyd, who is a well known local nurse, has been in New York City lately, but has returned to her home here.

MERRY PARTY AT McKISSICK HOME

Mr. and Mrs. Edward McKissick entertained fourteen guests in their home at 202 South Crawford avenue, Saturday evening, at a very merry party.

A candy making contest was a feature of the evening's entertainment, each of the women guests bringing with her a dish of delicious home made candy which the men later judged. After due deliberation, they decided the prize should go to Mrs. Arthur Lundy.

Mr. and Mrs. John Bowden won awards at cards. Much laughter was occasioned by a game called rhymes, in which each guest submitted an original verse about the guest seated next. Refreshments appropriate to the season were served, the hostess having for her aides, Mrs. Charlotte Donley and Miss Dorothy Burdett.

NINETEETH BIRTHDAY
OF CHARLES C. SHOAFF

Charles C. Shoaff celebrated his nineteenth birthday, Sunday at his home on Highland Heights, with members of his family, children, grandchildren, great grandchildren and many other relatives and friends dropping in to extend congratulations.

A family dinner was enjoyed in the evening, but the day was a fairly quiet one as the guest of honor has not been in the best of health lately, although yesterday was one of his good days and he enjoyed it to the utmost. Many gifts were bestowed upon him to further commemorate the occasion.

Mr. Shoaff has one daughter, Mrs. Robert Shoaff, of Norwood avenue, and one son Thomas T. Shoaff, of Fulton street. He was for a number of years janitor at the Lawrence school, where he endeared himself to hundreds of children as well as older associates.

Shower Honors

Mrs. George Ward

Mrs. George Ward, nee Marguerite Jenkins, whose marriage in the summer was just recently dissolved, was honored with a miscellaneous shower recently, over which her sister, Miss Helen Jenkins, presided in the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Jenkins on Grant street.

Guests were associates in the Sabbath school class at the First U. P. church, taught by Mrs. Scott McCaslin, and they numbered 18, including two special guests, Mrs. McCaslin and Miss Mollie Komarc. Bingo and guessing contests were provided for amusement with awards falling to Misses Betty Shirra and Alice Ebeling.

Mrs. Ward was presented with beautiful gifts.

Honored At Shower

The McKissick home on the Wilmington road was the scene of an enjoyable party Friday evening, when Mr. and Mrs. Robert McKissick and Mr. and Mrs. Russell Clark entertained jointly, at a miscellaneous shower in honor of Mrs. John Kegarise, nee Mary Shover, and bride of recent date.

Many beautiful gifts were presented to the honored one, and during the evening program the guests participated in a variety of games.

The serving of lunch by the hostesses concluded the event. Miss Louise Park assisted with the menu.

Local Guests At Golden Wedding

A. I. Broadhead and daughter Miss Alma Broadhead, Monroe street, have returned from Leechburg, where they attended, yesterday, an observance of the golden wedding anniversary of the former's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Oliver.

Today, November 26, marks in reality, the wedding event of a half century ago, when Hannah Broadhead and A. M. Oliver a native of Nova Scotia, were united in marriage at the bride's home, in Rath-

Jefferson county. The couple have three children living, all daughters; Bertha, at home, Mrs. Roy Kasten, of Indiana Harbor, Ill., and Mrs. A. T. Bemyan, of Flint, Mich.

They were present at the family dinner on Sunday, at which there were covers for twenty five, at a table beautified with gold and white appointments. Among other guests were three brothers of Mrs. Oliver.

A. I. Broadhead, of Sharon, and T. J. Broadhead, of Apollo, Pa. Five grandchildren and one great grandchild shared in the event.

Junior Council Membership Party

Yesterday afternoon in Temple Israel, the Jewish Junior Council Section of New Castle, Miss Doris Shenkan, president, entertained at a delightful "Membership Luncheon-Bridge" that proved one of their outstanding parties of the season. The occasion was largely attended by former members, and those recently admitted into the organization.

Activities began at 1 o'clock with the serving of a delicious menu, Miss Rosalyn Safer, general chairman, and committee, in charge. The tables were beautifully appointed in the season's tones.

Miss Florence Shapo filled the role of toastmistress for the afternoon's program and cleverly introduced Mrs. Marcus Feuchtwanger, Mrs. M. Schoenberger and Mrs. William Cosel, each of whom gave short and instructive talks.

Florence Shapo, Beatrice Gonick and Esther Fishkin featured with talks on "Council" that were well received.

Another novel part of the entertainment was the singing of two songs, the words being well and appropriately composed by Miss Rosalyn Freeman, to tunes of popular numbers. The affair was put in the Junior Council annals as a fine success.

Young Menorahs Meet

The Young Menorahs club met at the Cosmo Club, November 25, for an election of officers which resulted in Beatrice Sandier being named president; Claire Schiffman, vice president, Betty Broadman, secretary; Esther Ginsberg, treasurer; Pauline Master, publicity and Hannah Ruth Rosenberg, telephone chairman.

Plans were made for a Chanukah party Saturday, December 1 at the

AMBASSADOR OF GOOD WILL

THE United States government might well devote some of its expenditures underwriting baseball tours similar to the one now being made by Babe Ruth and his American League companions in Japan.

With Ruth as its chief, a tour to other countries of the globe would be more than worth all it cost the government—and be many times more deserving than some of the federal projects for which the American taxpayers are now footing the bills.

We believe that Ruth takes his place as "top-hole" among all the unofficial ambassadors of good will who have gone from this country to foreign nations. Have you observed with what tremendous enthusiasm he is being greeted in the Japanese cities to which his team is traveling? Have you read of the unrivaled displays of friendliness shown by the people of Japan to this party of American baseball players? Crowds of 60,000 to 80,000 watch these diamond stars play against teams selected from among the most talented Japanese clubs.

The development of the "great American game" as Japan's most popular sport, the rapidly growing westernization of the Nipponese, the friendly spirit generated by this and other tours of players from the United States—these augur well for continued amicable relations between this country and Japan, all the wartime ruminations set off by the war lords to the contrary notwithstanding.

More power to you, Mr. Ruth, and Connie Mack, and all the rest of your Japanese tour party. You are performing an invaluable service to both the people of Japan and the people of the United States.

A MASTER CRIME IS "BROKEN"

On a day in August, the perfect crime, a marvel of daring, precision and unflinching efficiency, was committed in Brooklyn. From seven to 12 bandits drove up to an ice plant, deployed to strategic positions, covered passersby and employees with machine guns and revolvers, scooped up money bags containing $427,000 from an armored truck, jumped back into automobiles at a given signal, dashed through a circuitous route to the waterfront, 19 blocks away, and completed their escape in two motor speedboats.

Police annals do not record any other crime of such proportions so perfectly planned and executed. The men disappeared as if into thin air. There were no clues and nothing to suggest the identity of any of the gangsters. After several days of futile effort, nothing more was heard of the crime or the criminals and the public assumption was that the robbery had simply been added to the list of unsolved mysteries.

Apparently, this was not the case. New York police have made one arrest and have announced that the case has been "broken" and that the roundup of the bandits will be a matter of only a few days. It goes without saying that the solution of such a crime, planned by criminals of more than ordinary cunning and daring, involved police work of a high order. The whole story, when it is told, should make a thrilling chapter in the history of the New York police department.

NORRIS WARNS THE DEMOCRATIC PARTY

Senator George Norris, a nominal Republican, has been a supporter of the president and friendly to most of the policies of the New Deal. When he utters a solemn warning to the Democratic leaders to "watch their step" and "not get drunk with power" he can not be accused of partisanship. He emphasizes the fact that the Democratic party is not in an impregnable position and that if it does not devote itself to policies rather than to spoils it may have a rude awakening.

The senator from Nebraska has been in the opposition so long that he may find it difficult to go along with the party in power. It may even be suspected that he is preparing to become a thorn in the side of Democracy. In 1928, he says, "The Republicans had the world by the tail" and in less than three years the country had the "Republican party by the throat." He thinks the Democrats should take a lesson from recent political history.

If Norris really is annoyed by Democratic developments, the reputed "plot" to unseat Senator Cutting of New Mexico may be one cause. Norris and other Republican Progressives resented the Democratic campaign against Cutting and will fight any attempt that may be made to award the seat to Representative Chavez.

If both Borah and Norris go on the warpath the majority in the senate might find more trouble than it expects.

THEIR OWN (FIVE) LIVES

The Dionnes beyond challenge are our favorite quintuplets. Their birth by the light of an oil lamp in the rustic woods of Canada and their early lives under the unerring guidance of Dr. Dafoe captured and held our unqualified admiration.

And now the parents of the Dionne quintuplets have gone on record to the effect that they intend to allow the children to lead their own lives. That is a wise decision. Fathers and mothers of one child have thought to manage the affairs of their offspring, only to find themselves deluded. And the problem of directing the destinies of five young ladies in this period of self-expression is certainly more than any experienced parent would care to solve.

The possibility of quintuplet births is so remote that the ratio of single births to them must be expressed in almost astronomical figures; but even so, it would not be so remote as the possibility of managing the later lives of the Dionne children, which their parents have so shrewdly renounced.

Bad luck comes all in a bunch; which is also true of laziness and dumbness.

Moonshiners are active in Virginia. Prohibition didn't prohibit; perhaps repeal doesn't repeal.

The FERA has bought 12,000 tons of cabbage. It should have no trouble supplying the accompanying pork.

The two paupers who struck oil in the almshouse grounds probably regard "Over the hill to the poorhouse" as a success story.

The director of the Bronx Zoo denies that the thickness of animals' fur and the quantity of nuts they store away forecast the severity of the winter. But they are a lot more fun than the Weather Bureau's guesses.

IS THIS TRUE OF US?

PEARL BUCK knows the Chinese better than some of them know themselves, far more deeply than any one of them would admit any woman could ever know them. She has lived among them nearly all of her life and she knows what they think and where their hearts are tending. And knowing them so well, this is what she has set down about them in a recent number of the Asia Magazine:

"There is nothing as yet which the intelligent Chinese finds worth really living for and especially for which he will suffer. He has enthusiasms but they die quickly. He has no convictions of the great worth of anything—not of religion or of love or of art; not even of life, his own life or the life of others. He slips too easily into a dream wherein his days pass pleasantly, wherein he enjoys the peach blossoms, of spring, the lotus of summer, the chrysanthemums of autumn, the light snows upon bamboo in winter. He is rich in his greatest virtues, the flavor of a dish upon the table, the color and the texture of a piece of jade in his hand; if he is poor then the hope of a gambling game, of a sleep in the sun. When death comes, it is as uneventful as his birth."

"Here, I think, is a point. Somehow the sense of reality, of necessity of the value of life, must come back again into the Chinese spirit before that spirit can begin to create. . . . It must be something which will compel the young Chinese to sacrifice. For until he finds something which seems to him worthy of the sacrifice of himself, of his safety and his ease, his spirit will not rise out of the ashes of the past to soar into the future."

But when Mrs. Buck wrote those words was she thinking only of the Chinese? Didn't she say to herself: "This, too, is true of some of my own race? Out of many of them, as well, has gone that rich and dangerous love of life that makes a man spill his whole being out upon the earth in glorious desire to enrich all living for his brothers. Have they, too, lost the joy of glad sacrifice for something nobler than themselves? Are they weary, bitter, sad, old before their time—bewildered children hurt and unable, pathetically wondering if their spirits soar from the ashes of the past into a flaming future?"

It is foolishness for me to wonder if Pearl Buck, writing of the Chinese, is not crying from her heart to all men and women of her own land and time?

PAY YOUR WAY

If you have a relative in a city where an exposition is being held, don't inform him that you expect to attend the attraction and that you will visit him.

If the relative is unmarried by all means don't do it.

People from small towns do not realize that boarders in a big city must pay extra for each guest.

If there are several extra, as at the time of an exposition lasting several months, the aggregate outlay comes to a considerable amount.

Most married couples living in exposition cities have a continual extra expense because of friends and relatives who make their home their headquarters.

Only those who live in cities where there are national attractions can have an idea of the burden these self-invited guests can make.

It is true that one person does not make much difference, but several guests increase household expenses unbelievably.

Economics that the family has to practice when alone must be foregone.

If you wish to visit in the home of a friend or relative for an extended time, see that you do something to pay your way, for hard cash is hard to get and you wreck the family budget if you are a "sponger."

I KNOW NOTHING OF ART

I keep my mouth shut when the sages start.

To voice opinions of some painter's art.

For mastery is mystery, I've found. I cannot view a square and think it round.

I lack that subtle something which can feel. More than the painted canvases reveal.

Mine is a simple mind, nor vast nor deep. My shepherds must be guarding my honest sheep.

A local solicitor in one of the recent drives for money was heard to complain that one of our prominent citizens had only given a dollar and ought to have given ten. And a friend remarked that he must have forgotten the "ought."

It might be just as well to abolish the price-fixing system. Sometimes when you go to buy something, the price fixes you without additional help.

We can see to good reason to quarrel with the assertion of a Texas dietitian, who says that "canned bisties are as good as spinach."

"Do you know how to run a newspaper?" asked the editor. "No, sir," replied the applicant. "Well," said the editor, "I'll try you. I guess you've had experience."

Doors weighing 70 tons, which are 35 feet high, 12 feet wide and a foot thick are being placed on one of the government buildings in Washington. But the job hunters will get in somehow.

Comparative monetary values mean nothing to the child mind. It was only a day or two ago that we heard little Larry, objecting to certain plans for his personal adornment, say he'd rather have a pony than a pair of new pants.

According to present standards the old ladies weren't so hot. For instance, the Venus di Milo, as she stands in the Louvre, doesn't suggest any more sex appeal than a 5-ton truck, and we'll bet Eve would have hugged something terrible in a modern bathing suit.

The idea that congressmen should be given medals has a direct utilitarian appeal. They might make them of leather and breathe new life into the pyrographic industry.

Rackets of "Patriotic" Organizations Investigators Find Many "Caught" Danger of Such Organizations

Central Press
New York Bureau
235 East 45th Street
By LESLIE EICHE
Central Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, Nov. 26.—There is something that the congressional committee investigating "subversive" movements has not made public.

That is—patriotic rackets. Thousands of persons and firms have been drawn into these schemes, according to a former investigator of the committee, who called on this writer a few weeks ago.

The danger does not lie in a Fascist group "seizing" the government. The danger lies in the emotional appeal of these false and actually subversive organizations.

With such appeals as "protect the constitution," "uphold American principles," "keep out the alien," "wipe out the criminal class," "destroy communism," "clean out the schools," "put labor into its place," "rescue this country from the clutches of racial element," "balance the budget," "arm for security," men have organized movements based on Fascist movements elsewhere.

According to the investigator who called on this writer, the congressional investigating committee has facts at hand.

The investigator added: "But the names involved are so well-known, such important persons have been drawn innocently into these schemes, that it is doubtful whether the committee ever will publish the facts concerning the organizations."

WHAT COULD OCCUR
Americans may laugh over the fantastic thoughts of the organizers of groups that seek, in fact, to be all-powerful.

But the organizers are shrewd. They know the weakness of human minds. They know that emotionalism can force even the most intelligent of peoples to surrender all its liberties for "security" and power.

Man still has serious throwbacks to the beginning of time. Like other animals, he grouped under ferocious leaders, to protect himself against other animals. The superior intelligence of man, however, began to demonstrate to him that he survived best standing alone, improving his mind, raising himself to a higher sphere. The animals that grouped merely to fight killed themselves off.

Where today exists a single type of animal that lived as a contemporary of early man?

Those giant animals, which evidently were pointed to in awe by the organizers of man in the early days as beings that should be emulated, are entirely extinct.

(There are a few elephants in circuses, but they are minor affairs compared to the fighting giants of other days.)

Among the most serious throwbacks of man is war. There the herding exists as among the giant animals of prehistoric days. And thus man, too, may exterminate himself.

The basis of appeal of all those racketeer "patriotic" organizations is a form of war—war against our own people, chiefly.

METHOD OF APPROACH
Organizers of the "patriotic" or "Fascist" organizations have an innocent enough appeal. It is no wonder they win over well-known names.

If a business man fears that government expenditures will topple over the profit system, the organizer appeals for funds as a watch dog.

If a nervous man or woman fears intrusion of communism, the same sort of appeal can be made.

If a militant group believes the nation has become too pacific, then plenty of funds are available for militaristic propaganda.

But the basic appeal is one designed to trap all elements of the population at one and the same time—a suggestion to Big Business that it control things, a suggestion to the average man that his gavel would be better with "strong man and a strong government" and a suggestion to the emotionally minded that safety from an "enemy"—"pacifists," "Communists," religious groups or radical groups, etc.—can be obtained only through such organizations.

Of course, there is no surer way to store up trouble than through such organizations—but how many persons stop to think of that, especially when one's economic interests are unstable?

TODAY Is The Day

MONDAY, NOV. 26

The World War Day-By-Day—Nov. 26, 1914.—The war already was influencing the daily life of the average American as much as it would have if the country had been one of the belligerents.

The cost of everything was rising. The "war boom" was under way. The New York Times reported it was "unofficially intimated" at Washington that the United States government, reversing its earlier attitude, would no longer put obstacles in the way of exports of gold and goods and munitions to the warring countries.

Purchasing agents of the government were penetrating to every section of the country. Blue-clad French officers were singing out fat rules in the St. Louis stockyards. British lieutenant-colonels with game-legs were shutting between the offices of J. P. Morgan & Co. and ordinance plants in Connecticut and Pennsylvania. Russian buyers were collecting rake-offs on purchases made in Butte, Seattle and San Francisco. German consuls were scouting around for rubber and copper and wheat to be carried past suspicious British blockade ships in Scandinavian bottoms. Allied trade spies, filtering into American banking houses, were noting that U. S. trade with Germany and the Orient was mounting at the expense of British and German concerns.

Mr. Average American was being beset on all sides with pleas for contributions to this war charity or that. More than 5,000 persons had given a total of $100,000 for Belgian relief. Germans and British and French were spending spare money for orphans of the storm.

The tide of preparedness talk was rising. A Massachusetts congressman got into the front pages of war news with the suggestion that whatever side won would be sure to be "headstrong and high-handed."

Then Roosevelt, from his ivory tower in the offices of the Outlook, was saying much the same thing, and suggesting something resembling the league of nations which Mr. Wilson was to be credited with conceiving four years later.

"I R." insisted that "the one permanent move for obtaining peace which has yet been suggested with any reasonable chance of obtaining its objective is by an agreement among the great powers, in which each should pledge itself not only to abide by the decisions of the common tribunal but to back with force its decisions of the common tribunal."

The biggest Republican was advocating the sort of Article X Republicans were destined to wipe out. Meanwhile the American public was being goaded and hawed by propagandists sent to ride herd on them by Allied and Central Powers. Monstrous lies were being foisted off on trusting listeners and readers of simple truths. Americans were hearing and reading more about this war than any other in history, and very little of what they were told was the truth.

History Un-To-Date.—The first national Thanksgiving Day was held in gratitude for the defeat of the French and opening of the west to British settlement.

This was not, of course, the first Thanksgiving Day in America. That was July 30, 1623, in Massachusetts Bay colony.

Not until 241 years after that first Thanksgiving did the Tuesday in November become a national holiday.

Nov. 26, 1832.—Stage coaches pulled by horses moved along iron-capped wooden rails in Broadway, New York, hauling passengers between city hall and 14th street. Thus was born the first street railway in the United States.

Nov. 26, 1876.—The first woman voted in a regular election—illegally. Lily Maxwell, a shopkeeper, cast a ballot for Jacob Bright in London, and began the battle for equal rights.

(On the 45th anniversary of this notable occasion, English women suffragettes began the practice of pouring ink and acids into public mail boxes, in a campaign of terrorism designed to force the government to take action on pending suffrage legislation.)

Nov. 26, 1878.—The first long distance telephone was put in operation. It worked only one way! From Boston Alexander Graham Bell spoke to men in Essex Institute, Salem, 16 miles distant.

Notable Nativities.—Dr. Mary Walker, b. 1832, pioneer advocate of "dress reform" for women. She induced congress to enact a law per-

NO SO EASY
These English peoples who have their troubles trying to speak and pronounce correctly a foreign language, have no idea of the trouble of the "other fellow" who tries to learn the English language. Many, many English words with seemingly the same look, are pronounced entirely differently.

A Frenchman came to London to learn the English language, and soon got into difficulties with his pronunciation, especially with the group comprising "though," "plough" and "rough."

When the film of "Cavalcade" began its run, and one newspaper reviewer was headed "Cavalcade" pronounced Success, the Frenchman went back home discouraged.

AMBASSADOR OF GOOD WILL

THE United States government might well devote some of its expenditures underwriting baseball tours similar to the one now being made by Babe Ruth and his American League companions in Japan.

With Ruth as its chieftain, a tour to other countries of the globe would be more than worth all it cost the government—and he many times more deserving than some of the federal projects for which the American taxpayers are now footing the bills.

We believe that Ruth takes his place as "top-hole" among all the unofficial ambassadors of good will who have gone from this country to foreign nations. Have you observed with what tremendous enthusiasm he is being greeted in the Japanese cities to which his team is traveling? Have you read of the unrivaled displays of friendliness shown by the people of Japan to this party of American baseball players? Crowds of 60,000 to 80,000 watch these diamond stars play against teams selected from among the most talented Japanese clubs.

The development of the "great American game" as Japan's most popular sport, the rapidly growing westernization of the Nipponese, the friendly spirit generated by this and other tours of players from the United States—these augur well for continued amicable relations between this country and Japan, all the warlike rumblings set off by the war lords to the contrary notwithstanding.

More power to you, Mr. Ruth, and Connie Mack, and all the rest of your Japanese tour party. You are performing an invaluable service to both the people of Japan and the people of the United States.

A MASTER CRIME IS "BROKEN"

On a day in August, the perfect crime, a marvel of daring, precision and unflinching efficiency, was committed in Brooklyn. From seven to 12 bandits drove up to an ice plant, deployed to strategic positions, covered passersby and employees with machine guns and revolvers, scooped up money bags containing $427,000 from an armored truck, jumped back into automobiles at a given signal, dashed through a circuitous route to the waterfront, 19 blocks away, and completed their escape in two motor speedboats.

Police annals do not record any other crime of such proportions so perfectly planned and executed. The men disappeared as if into thin air. There were no clues and nothing to suggest the identity of any of the gangsters. After several days of futile effort, nothing more was heard of the crime or the criminals and the public assumption was that the robbery had simply been added to the list of unsolved mysteries.

Apparently, this was not the case. New York police have made one arrest and have announced that the case has been "broken" and that the roundup of the bandits will be a matter of only a few days. It goes without saying that the solution of such a crime, planned by criminals of more than ordinary cunning and daring, involved police work of a high order. The whole story, when it is told, should make a thrilling chapter in the history of the New York police department.

NORRIS WARNS THE DEMOCRATIC PARTY

Senator George Norris, a nominal Republican, has been a supporter of the president and friendly to most of the policies of the New Deal. When he utters a solemn warning to the Democratic leaders to "watch their step" and "not get drunk with power" he can not be accused of partisanship. He emphasizes the fact that the Democratic party is not in an impregnable position and that if it does not devote itself to policies rather than to spoils it may have a rude awakening.

The senator from Nebraska has been in the opposition so long that he may find it difficult to go along with the party in power. It may even be suspected that he is preparing to become a thorn in the side of Democracy. In 1928, he says, "the Republicans had the world by the tail" and in less than three years the country had the "Republican party by the throat." He thinks the Democrats should take a lesson from recent political history.

If Norris really is annoyed by Democratic developments, the reputed "plot" to unseat Senator Cutting of New Mexico may be one cause. Norris and other Republican Progressives resented the Democratic campaign against Cutting and will fight any attempt that may be made to award the seat to Representative Chavez.

If both Borah and Norris should go on the warpath the majority in the senate might find more trouble than it expects.

THEIR OWN (FIVE) LIVES

The Dionne beyond challenge are our favorite quintuplets. Their birth by the light of an oil lamp in the rustic wilds of Canada and their early lives under the unerring guidance of Dr. Dafoe captured and held our unqualified admiration.

And now the parents of the Dionne quintuplets have gone on record to the effect that they intend to allow the children to lead their own lives. That is a wise decision. Fathers and mothers of one child have thought to manage the affairs of their offspring, only to find themselves deluded. And the problem of directing the destinies of five young ladies in this period of self-expression is certainly more than any experienced parent would care to solve.

The possibility of quintuplet births is so remote that the ratio of single births to them must be expressed in almost astronomical figures; but even so, it would not be so remote as the possibility of managing the later lives of the Dionne children, which their parents have so shrewdly renounced.

Bad luck comes all in a bunch; which is also true of laziness and clumsiness.

Moonshiners are active in Virginia. Prohibition didn't prohibit; perhaps repeal doesn't repeal.

The FERA has bought 12,000 tons of cabbage. It should have no trouble supplying the accompanying pork.

The two paupers who struck oil in the almshouse grounds probably regard "Over the hill to the poorhouse" as a success story.

The director of the Bronx Zoo denies that the thickness of animals' fur and the quantity of nuts they store away forecast the severity of the winter. But they are a lot more fun than the Weather Bureau's guesses.

IS THIS TRUE OF US?

PEARL BUCK knows the Chinese better than some of them know themselves, far more deeply than any one of them would admit any woman could ever know them. She has lived among them nearly all of her life—and she knows what they think and where their hearts are tending. And knowing them so well, this is what she has set down about them in a recent number of the Asia Magazine.

"There is nothing as yet which the intelligent Chinese finds worth really living for and especially for which he will suffer. He has enthusiasms but they die quickly. He has no convictions of the great worth of anything—not of religion or of love or of art; not even of life, his own life or the life of others. He slips too easily into a dream wherein his days pass pleasantly, wherein he enjoys the peach blossoms, of spring, the lotus of summer, the chrysanthemums of autumn, the light snows upon bamboos in winter. If he is rich his greatest virtues are the flavor of a dish upon the table, the color and the texture of a piece of jade in his hand; if he is poor then the hope of a gambling game, or a sleep in the sun. When death comes, it is as unreal as life has been."

"Here, I think, is a point. Somehow the sense of reality, of necessity of the value of life, must come back again into the Chinese spirit before that spirit can begin to create.... It must be something which will compel the young Chinese to sacrifice. For until he finds something which seems to him worthy of the sacrifice of himself, of his safety and his ease, his spirit will not rise out of the ashes of the past to soar into the future."

But when Mrs. Buck wrote those words was she thinking only of the Chinese? Didn't she say to herself, "This, too, is true of some of my own race? Out of many of them, as well, has gone that rich and dangerous love of life that makes a man spill his whole being out upon the earth in glorious desire to enrich all living for his brothers. Have they, too, lost the joy of glad sacrifice for something nobler than themselves? Are they weary, bitter, sad, old before their time—bewildered children hurt and pitiable, pathetically wondering if their spirits soar from the ashes of the past into a flaming future?"

It is foolishness for me to wonder if Pearl Buck, writing of the Chinese, is not crying from her heart to all men and women of her own land and time?

PAY YOUR WAY

If you have a relative in a city where an exposition is being held, don't inform him that you expect to attend the attraction and that you will visit him.

If the relative is unmarried by all means don't do it.

People from small towns do not realize that boarders in a big city must pay extra for each guest.

If there are several extra, as at the time of an exposition lasting several months, the aggregate outlay comes to a considerable amount.

Most married couples living in exposition cities have a continual extra expense because of friends and relatives who make their home their headquarters.

Only those who live in cities where there are national attractions can have an idea of the burden these self-invited guests can make.

It is true that one person does not make much difference, but several guests increase household expenses unbelievably.

Economics that the family has to practice when alone must be foregone.

If you wish to visit in the home of a friend or relative for an extended time, see that you do something to pay your way, for hard cash is hard to get and you wreck the family budget if you are a "sponger."

In these days it isn't long after a man lands a job that the pickets land on the man.

Speaking on the crime problem here an official of the State Welfare department gave as a cause for crime poor housing, bad home environment, lack of leisure, and to a few remarks on original sin. A lot of our worst criminals are known to have come from good homes.

Speaking of California, a judge out there recently ruled that a woman of 81 is too old to marry, despite the wonderful climate. Maybe she appeared as old as she felt she looked.

Minister—Do you promise to love, honor and cherish this woman?
Politician—Yes, whatever the platform is I subscribe to it.

The idea that congressmen should be given medals has a direct utilitarian appeal. They might make them of leather and breathe new life into the pyrographic industry.

Rackets of "Patriotic" Organizations
Investigators Find Many "Caught"
Danger of Such Organizations

NEW YORK, Nov. 26.—There is something that the congressional committee investigating "subversive" movements has not made public.

That is—patriotic rackets. Thousands of persons and firms have been drawn into these schemes, according to a former investigator of the committee, who called on this writer a few weeks ago.

"The danger does not lie in a Fascist group 'seizing' the government. The danger lies in the emotional appeal of these false and actually subversive organizations."

With such appeals as "protect the constitution," "uphold American principles," "keep out the alien," "wipe out the criminal class," "destroy communism," "clean out the schools," "put labor into its place," "restrict this or that religious or racial element," "balance the budget," "arm for security," men have organized movements based on Fascist movements elsewhere.

According to the investigator who called on this writer, the congressional investigating committee has facts at hand.

The investigator added: "But the names involved are so well-known, so important persons have been drawn innocently into these schemes, that it is doubtful whether the committee ever will publish the facts concerning the organizations."

WHAT COULD OCCUR
Americans may laugh over the fantastic thoughts of the organizers of groups that seek, in fact, to be all-powerful.

But the organizers are shrewd. They know the weakness of human minds. They know that emotionalism can force even the most intelligent of people to surrender all its liberties for "security" and power.

Man still has serious throwbacks to his beginnings, when, like other animals, he grouped under ferocious leaders, to protect himself against other animals. The superior intelligence of man, however, began to demonstrate to him that he survives best standing alone, improving his mind, raising himself to a higher sphere. The animals that grouped merely to fight killed themselves off.

Where today exists a single type of animal that lived as a contemporary of early man? There are those giant animals, which evidently were pointed to in awe by the organizers of man in the early days as beings that should be emulated, are entirely extinct.

"There are a few elephants compared to the fighting giants of other days."

Among the most serious threats of man is war. There the herding exists as among the giant animals of prehistoric days. And thus man, too, may exterminate himself.

The basis of appeal of all those racketeer "patriotic" organizations is a form of war—war against our own people, chiefly.

METHOD OF APPROACH
Organizers of the "patriotic" or "Fascist" organizations have an innocent enough appeal. It is no wonder they win over well-known names.

If a business man fears that government expenditures will topple over the profit system, the organizer appeals for funds as a watch dog.

If a nervous man or woman fears intrusion of communism, the same sort of appeal can be made.

If a militant group believes the nation has become too pacifistic, then plenty of funds are available for militaristic propaganda.

But the basic appeal is one designed to trap all elements of the population at one and the same time—a suggestion to Big Business that it could control things, a suggestion to the average man that his lot would be better with "a strong man and a strong government" and a suggestion to the emotionally minded that safety from an "enemy"—"pacifists," "Communists," religious groups or radical groups, etc.—can be obtained only through such organization.

Of course, there is no surer way to store up trouble than through such organizations—but how many persons stop to think of that, especially when one's economic interests are unstable?

Not until 241 years after that first Thanksgiving did the last Thursday in November become a national holiday.

Nov. 26, 1832—Stage coaches pulled by horses moved along iron-capped wooden rails in Broadway, New York, hauling passengers between city hall and 14th street. Thus was born the first street railway in the United States.

Nov. 26, 1876—The first woman voted in a regular election—illegally. Mary Maxwell, a shopkeeper, cast a ballot for Jacob Bright in London, and began the battle for equal rights.

(On the 45th anniversary of this notable occasion, English women suffragettes began the practice of pouring ink and acids into public mail boxes, in a campaign of terrorism designed to force the government to take action on pending suffrage legislation.)

Nov. 26, 1876—The first long distance telephone was put in operation. It worked only one way!

From Boston Alexander Graham Bell spoke to men in Essex Institute, Salem, 16 miles distant.

THE WORLD AND THE MUD PUDDLES

NO SO EASY
These English peoples who have their troubles, trying to speak and pronounce correctly a foreign language, have no idea of the troubles of the "other fellow" who tries to learn the English language. Many, many, English words with seemingly the same look, are pronounced entirely differently.

A Frenchman came to London to learn the English language, and soon got into difficulties with his pronunciation, especially with the group comprising "though," "plough" and "rough."

When the film of "Cavalcade" began its run, and one newspaper review was headed "Cavalcade" pronounced "Success," the Frenchman went back home discouraged.

History Up-To-Date—The first national Thanksgiving Day was held in gratitude for the defeat of the French and opening of the west to British settlement.

This was not, of course, the first Thanksgiving Day in America. That was July 30, 1623, in Massachusetts Bay colony.

Correctly Speaking—
Avoid abrupt change in the point of view with a sentence. In general, retain the same subject and the same voice throughout the sentence.

IS THIS TRUE OF US? PEARL BUCK knows the Chinese better than some of them know themselves. Far more deeply than any one of them could admit any woman could ever know them. She has lived among them nearly all of her life—and she knows what they think and where their hearts are tending. And knowing them so well, this is what she has set down about them in a recent number of the Asia magazine.

"There is nothing as yet which the intelligent Chinese finds really living for and especially for which he will suffer. He has enthusiasms but they die quickly. He has no convictions of the great worth of anything—not even of love or of art, not even of life, his own life or the life of others. He slips too easily into a dream wherein his days pass pleasantly, wherein he enjoys the peach blossoms, of spring, the lotus of summer, the chrysanthemums of autumn, the light snows upon bamboo in winter. If he is rich his greatest worries are the color and the texture of a piece of jade in his hand; if he is poor the hope of a gambling game, of a sleep in the sun. When death comes, it is as unreal as life has been.

"Here, I think, is a point. Somehow the sense of reality, of necessity of the value of life must come back again into the Chinese spirit before that spirit can begin to create. It must be something which will compel the young Chinese to sacrifice. For until he finds something which seems to him worthy of the sacrifice of himself, of his safety and his ease, his spirit will not rise out of the ashes of the past to soar into the future."

But when Mrs. Buck wrote those words was she thinking only of the Chinese? Didn't she say to herself: "This, too, is true of some of my own race? Out of many of them, as well, has gone that rich and dangerous love of life that makes a man spill his whole being out upon the earth in glorious desire to enrich all living for his brothers. Have they, too, lost the joy of glad sacrifice for something nobler than themselves? Are they weary, bitter and self-defeating their spirit scarred from the ashes of the past into a flaming future?"

It is foolishness for me to wonder if Pearl Buck, writing of the Chinese, is not crying from her heart to all men and women of her own land and time?

NEW YORK, Nov. 26.—There is something that the congressional committee investigating "subversive" movements has not met in public. That is—patriotic rackets.

Nov. 26, 1934.—The day already was influencing the daily life of the average American as much as it would have if the country had been one of the belligerents.

The cost of everything was rising. The "war boom" was under way. The New York Times reported it was "unofficially" estimated at Washington that the United States government, reversing its earlier attitude, would no longer put obstacles in the way of exports of gold and goods and munitions to the warring countries.

Purchasing agents of the government were penetrating to every section of the country. Blue-clad French officers were single out flat mules in the St. Louis stock yards. British lieutenant-colonels with game-legs were shutting between the offices of J. P. Morgan & Co. and ordinance plants in Connecticut and Pennsylvania. Russian buyers were selecting take-offs on purchases made in Seattle, San Francisco, Genoa, and elsewhere.

Scouts were scouring around for rubber and copper and wheat to be carried past suspicious British blockade ships in Scandinavian bottoms. Allied trade spies, filtering into American banking houses, were noting that U. S. trade with Latin America and the Orient was mounting at the expense of British and German concerns.

Mr. Average American was being beset on all sides with pleas for contributions to this war charity or that. More than 5,000 persons had given a total of $100,000 for Belgian relief. Germans and British and French were spending spare money for orphans of the storm.

The tide of preparedness talk was rising. A Massachusetts congressman got into the front pages of war news with the suggestion that whatever side won would be sure to be "headstrong" and "high-handed."

Theodore Roosevelt, with his ivory lower in the offices of the Outlook, was saying much the same thing, and suggesting something resembling the league of nations which Wilton was to be credited with coming four years later.

"T. R." insisted that "the one permanent move for obtaining peace which has yet been suggested with any reasonable chance of obtaining its objective is by an agreement among the great powers, in which each should pledge itself not only to abide by the decisions of the common tribunal but to back with force the decisions of the common tribunal."

The biggest Republican was advocating the sort of Article X Republicans were destined to wipe out. Meanwhile the American public was being goaded and lured by propaganda sent to ride herd on them by Allied and Central Powers. Monstrous lies were being foisted off on simple truths. Americans were hearing and reading more about this war than any other in history, and very little of what they were told was the truth.

AMBASSADOR OF GOOD WILL

THE United States government might well devote some of its expenditures underwriting baseball tours similar to the one now being made by Babe Ruth and his American League companions in Japan.

With Ruth as its champion, a tour to other countries of the globe would be more than worth all it cost: the government—and be many times more deserving than some of the federal projects for which the American taxpayers are now footing the bills.

We believe that Ruth takes his place as "top-hole" among all the unofficial ambassadors of good will who have gone from this country to foreign nations. Have you observed with what tremendous enthusiasm he is being greeted in the Japanese cities to which his team is traveling? Have you read of the unrivalled displays of friendliness shown by the people of Japan to this party of American baseball players? Crowds of 60,000 to 80,000 watch these diamond stars play against teams selected from among the most talented Japanese clubs.

The development of the "great American game" as Japan's most popular sport, the rapidly growing westernization of the Nipponese, the friendly spirit generated by this and other tours of players from the United States—these augur well for continued amicable relations between this country and Japan, all the warlike rumblings set off by the war lords to the contrary notwithstanding.

More power to you, Mr. Ruth, and Connie Mack, and all the rest of your Japanese tour party. You are performing an invaluable service to both the people of Japan and the people of the United States.

A MASTER CRIME IS "BROKEN"

On a day in August, the perfect crime, a marvel of daring, precision and unflinching efficiency, was committed in Brooklyn. From seven to 12 bandits drove up to an ice plant, deployed to strategic positions, covered passersby and employees with machine guns and revolvers, scooped up money bags containing $427,000 from an armored truck, jumped back into automobiles at a given signal, dashed through a circuitous route to the waterfront, 19 blocks away, and completed their escape in two motor speedboats.

Police annals do not record any other crime of such proportions so perfectly planned and executed. The men disappeared as if into thin air. There were no clues and nothing to suggest the identity of any of the gangsters. After several days of futile effort, nothing more was heard of the crime or the criminals and the public assumption was that the robbery had simply been added to the list of unsolved mysteries.

Apparently, this was not the case. New York police have made one arrest and have announced that the case has been "broken" and that the roundup of the bandits will be a matter of only a few days. It goes without saying that the solution of such a crime, planned by criminals of more than ordinary cunning and daring, involved police work of a high order. The whole story, when it is told, should make a thrilling chapter in the history of the New York police department.

Present Solid Front To Yugoslavia

(International News Service)
VIENNA, Nov. 26.—In a little hunting lodge at Wildalpen, high in the forests of Upper Styria, the eyes of Europe were turned anxiously today.

Believed to be welding a solid front against Yugoslavia, which accused Hungary of complicity in the murder of King Alexander, were representatives of Austria, Hungary, and Italy.

The meeting is being held in the closest secrecy. Around the rough board table in the lodge were Chancellor Kurt Schuschnigg of Austria, Premier Julius Goemboes of Hungary, Prince Ernst Rudiger Von Starhemberg, Austrian vice-chancellor, and Ambassador Pretiosi, Italian representative in Vienna.

Count Stephen Bethlen De Bethlen, former prime minister of Hungary, arrived in Vienna and hurried on to the lodge.

France, which is lined up with the other countries, while Czechoslovakia and Rumania are aligned with Yugoslavia, will probably be informed of the outcome of the conversations.

Today's parley was a continuation of the talks begun yesterday. A joint Austro-Italian declaration is being drawn up, according to one report, and it will have the backing of Hungary.

Protests Any Appointment For McCloskey

(International News Service)
JOHNSTOWN, Pa., Nov. 26.—David L. Lawrence, Democratic state chairman, received from Rep. H. G. Andrews today a "protest" against any plan to appoint Mayor Eddie McCloskey of Johnstown "to any office under the incoming administration."

Andrews told Lawrence McCloskey opposed two Democratic legislative candidates in the Johnstown district.

"I shall consider McCloskey's appointment as a personal affront and also as an insult to all Democrats who labored in good faith for the success of their party," Andrews stated.

Among the offices with which McCloskey's name has been linked is a state boxing commission position.

Counterfeiting Ring Broken Up

This is the complete counterfeiting plant captured by U. S. Secret Service agents when they swooped down on house in Tenny, N. J., after months of investigation. More than $700,000 in bogus $100 bills, matching those passed on night clubs and gamblers were found in the house, and Egidio Girardi (inset), artist, was arrested. Dozen others picked up at other places also are held. (Central Press)

Hope To Employ 40,000 Men On Work Project
(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Nov. 26.—Work relief project payrolls are to be stepped up in Allegheny county until a total of 40,000 are employed, according to assurances given by County Works Administrator James L. Stuart.

The program, which will see the placing of approximately 5,000 men and women on relief projects each week until the 40,000 are employed, was announced following conferences with Congressman Henry Ellenbogen, who charged the previous program was influenced by politicians and lacked initiative.

Also taking part in the conference was Arch Mandel, special investigator of the federal emergency relief administration. Following his inquiry, Mandel announced that the procedure in putting men to work had been simplified.

Military College Has Changed Hands

Privately Owned Penn Military College Is Sold By Hyatt Family

(International News Service) CHESTER, Pa., Nov. 26.—Private-ly owned for 114 years, Pennsylvania Military College here, second oldest institution of its kind in the United States, today became a publicly administered school. Purchase of the college from the Hyatt family which has owned it for 75 years was announced by John G. Few, president of the Sun Shipbuilding and Drydock Company. Henceforth the school will be conducted as a non-profit venture under the direction of the newly-established Hyatt foundation. Few is a member of the foundation. A drive to raise $150,000 for the school will be soon be launched, it was announced.

To make a cutting, choose a young vigorous shoot, but not one that has grown too rapidly, or it will be soft and sappy. With a sharp knife, cut the stem just below a leaf where it joins the stem, using a downward stroke. This causes the pressure made by the knife to come on the old wood. If it came on the cutting, it would crush the tissue and make it harder to root.

Three Nations Ponder Charges Of Yugoslavia

Austria, Hungary and Italy Present Solid Front To
Yugoslavia

(International News Service) VIENNA, Nov. 26.—In a little hunting lodge at Wildalpen, high in the forests of Upper Styria, the eyes of Europe were turned anxiously today.

Believed to be welding a solid front against Yugoslavia, which accused Hungary of complicity in the murder of King Alexander, were representatives of Austria, Hungary, and Italy.

The meeting is being held in the closest secrecy. Around the rough board table in the lodge were Chancellor Kurt Schuschnigg of Austria, Premier Julius Goembs of Hungary, Prince Ernst Rudiger Von Stachenberg, Austrian vice-chancellor, and Ambassador Pretiosi, Italian representative in Vienna.

Count Stephen Bethlen De Bethlen, former prime minister of Hungary, arrived in Vienna and hurried on to the lodge.

France, which is lined up with the other countries, while Czechoslovakia and Rumania are aligned with Yugoslavia, will probably be formed of the outcome of the conversations.

Today's parley was a continuation of the talks begun yesterday.

A joint Austro-Italian declaration is being drawn up, according to one report, and it will have the backing of Hungary.

She was the first woman physician in the world to hold a commission as army surgeon. (And the first woman ever exchanged as a prisoner of war for a man of her rank in the service.) Among other notable services, she originated the postcard receipt for registered mail, which was adopted by the postoffice department only after repeated urging. She also secured passage of a law permitting senders to place their names and addresses on mail, thus saving thousands of packages and letters that would otherwise have gone astray. The postoffice opposed this reform. Dozen others picked up at other places also are held. (Central Press)

Hope To Employ 40,000 Men On Work Project

Work Relief Project Payrolls Are To Be Stepped Up In Allegheny County

(International News Service) PITTSBURGH, Nov. 26.—Work relief project payrolls are to be stepped up in Allegheny county until a total of 40,000 are employed, according to assurances given by County Works Administrator James L. Stuart.

The program, which will see the placing of approximately 5,000 men and women on relief projects each week until the 40,000 are employed, was announced following conference with Congressman Henry Ellenbogen, who charged the previous program was influenced by politicians and lacked initiative.

Also taking part in the conference was Arch Mandel, special investigator of the federal emergency relief administration. Following his inquiry, Mandel announced that the procedure in putting men to work had been simplified.

TOBACCO EXPERTS ALL SAY:

"Camels are the most refined, most expensive, most delicious, most domestic, most popular and most popular of all tobaccos."

Camel smokers notice a positive energy-refreshing effect from smoking Camels when they are tired or "out of sorts." Above is Ray Baker, star newspaper man of the International News Service. He says: "The man on the INS desk has a high-pressure job. A big story breaks and I am on the desk for ten hours... twelve hours... working at top speed! Whenever I feel 'all in' Camels bring back my 'pep.' For over ten years I've preferred Camels—I can smoke them continually without jangled nerves." Science confirms the experience of smokers regarding Camel's "energizing effect." Camel's matchless blend of costlier tobaccos never upsets the nerves. And you never tire of their finer flavor!

On Court House Hill

An amicable action in ejectment has been filed at the prothonotary's office by Frank and William Mantz against John and Mary Zay, to secure possession of a property on Elm street.

The Equitable Building and Loan Association has filed a scire facias sur mortgage against Joseph Valentine. The amount of the claim of the association is $10,263.83.

Motion for a trial has been made by the defendant in the case of the William Schuette Company of Pittsburgh against the First National Bank of Ellwood City, which was tried at court last week. The controversy was over $3500 which was claimed by the plaintiff that the bank was to hold in escrow pending an effort to settle a claim of the Globe Indemnity Company against the Ellwood Lumber Company. The verdict was in favor of the plaintiff for the $3500 with interest.

The Fidelity Trust Company has filed papers at the prothonotary's office to foreclose a mortgage against Ben Zeller, of Ellwood City. The mortgaged property is at the corner of Lawrence avenue and Chestnut Way, and the amount of the claim $33,882.49.

The same company has filed foreclosure proceedings against Jacob Bretton and Ben Balter, on a property located at the corner of Lawrence avenue and Cedar alley, the amount of the claim being $10,962.81. A third foreclosure is against Jacob Bretton and Ben Balter, the mortgage being for $36,476.54, on a property at the corner of Lawrence avenue and Seventh street.

The county commissioners have received blue prints from the state highway department of proposed changes in highways in Scott and North Beaver townships in addition to the West Pittsburgh road and the Youngstown road in Union township. The commissioners have not yet approved any of the plans as they all involve the payment of damage claims by the county.

The office of Chairman of the County Democratic Committee has assumed new importance since the recent election. Register and Recorder William R. Hanna, who holds the position, is likely to be pretty busy once the Democratic organization at Harrisburg gets into full swing in handing out the jobs. David L. Lawrence, head of the state committee, who is to be secretary of the commonwealth, will have about 3000 jobs to hand out at Harrisburg and some 15,000 throughout the state, and of course the county chairmen will be consulted.

Sent To Jail For Lunchroom Fight

Five Persons Concerned In Fight In East Side Business Place

Kenneth VanEman was fined $10 in default of which he was committed for 10 days in the county jail by Mayor Mayne in police court yesterday. Byron Minner, who was arrested at the same time as VanEman, was discharged. They were charged with having participated in a fight in an east side lunchroom.

According to the police, VanEman is alleged to have knocked down a young man in the restaurant. An elderly man remarked that VanEman had no right to do such a thing, whereupon VanEman, it is charged, knocked him down.

Minner, who was in the restaurant, objected to hurting the elderly man, took off his coat and in a moment the fight was on, excepting that Minner was "double teamed," as a brother of Kenneth VanEman came to his brother's assistance, according to the police.

Patrolman Nelson was summoned and he squelched the battle. He landed Kenneth VanEman and Minner at the city police station and in court Sunday morning Minner was discharged and Kenneth VanEman sent to the county jail.

Italy's expenditures for education have nearly doubled in 12 years.

Here's Duck Story From Pymatuning

GREENVILLE, Pa., Nov. 26.—Dr. John T. Gamble of the Thiel College Biology department, and his friend, Paul W. Russell, were hunting in the marshlands near the Pymatuning dam. The professor shot a duck which fell near his companion on the opposite side of a small stream.

"Hold it by the neck until it's dead," Dr. Gamble called, anxious to preserve the duck and its feathers for the college museum. Apparently quite dead, Russell tossed the bird across the brook to his friend. Once in mid-air the duck shook itself, swung about and winged away. The hunters watched it fly out of sight.

CAMEL'S COSTLIER TOBACCOS NEVER GET ON YOUR NERVES!

On Court House Hill

An amicable action in ejectment has been filed at the prothonotary's office by Frank and William Mantinos against John and Mary Zay, to secure possession of a property on Elm street.

The Equitable Building and Loan Association has filed a scire facias sur mortgage against Joseph Valentine. The amount of the claim of the association is $10,263.63.

Motion for a trial has been made by the defendant in the case of the William Schutte Company of Pittsburgh against the First National Bank of Ellwood City, which was tried at court last week. The controversy was over $3500 which was claimed by the plaintiff that the bank was to hold in escrow pending an effort to settle a claim of the Globe Indemnity Company against the Ellwood Lumber Company. The verdict was in favor of the plaintiff for the $3500 with interest.

The Fidelity Trust Company has filed papers at the prothonotary's office to foreclose a mortgage against Ben Balter, of Ellwood City. The mortgaged property is at the corner of Lawrence avenue and Chestnut Way, and the amount of the claim $33,382.49.

The same company has filed foreclosure proceedings against Jacob Bretton and Ben Balter, on a property located at the corner of Lawrence avenue and Cedar alley, the amount of the claim being $19,962.81. A third foreclosure is against Jacob Bretton and Ben Balter, the mortgage being for $36,476.54, on a property at the corner of Lawrence avenue and Seventh street.

The county commissioners have received blue prints from the state highway department of proposed changes in highways in Scott and North Beaver townships in addition to the West Pittsburg road and the Youngstown road in Union town-ship. The commissioners have not yet approved any of the plans as they all involve the payment of damage claims by the county.

The office of Chairman of the County Democratic Committee has assumed new importance since the recent election. Register and Recorder William R. Hanna, who holds the position, is likely to be pretty busy once the Democratic organization at Harrisburg gets into full swing in handing out the jobs. David L. Lawrence, head of the state committee, who is to be secretary of the commonwealth, will have about 3000 jobs to hand out at Harrisburg and some 15,000 throughout the state, and of course the county chairmen will be consulted.

B'Nai B'Rith To Have Open Meeting

Mr. and Mrs. Ellsworth Martin and children Shirley and Walter who have been located near Harrisburg are guests of Mrs. Martin's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Offutt.

Sent To Jail For Lunchroom Fight

Five Persons Concerned In Fight In East Side Business Place

Kenneth VanEman was fined $10 in default of which he was committed for 10 days in the county jail by Mayor Mayne in police court yesterday. Byron Miner, who was arrested at the same time as VanEman, was discharged. They were charged with having participated in a fight in an east side lunchroom.

According to the police, VanEman is alleged to have knocked down a young man in the restaurant. An elderly man remarked that VanEman had no right to do such a thing, whereupon VanEman, it is charged, knocked him down.

Miner, who was in the restaurant, objected to hurting the elderly man, took off his coat and in a moment the fight was on, excepting that Miner was "double teamed", as a brother of Kenneth VanEman came to his brother's assistance, according to the police.

Here's Duck Story From Pymatuning

GREENVILLE, Pa., Nov. 26.—Dr. John T. Gamble of the Thiel College Biology department, and his friend, Paul W. Russell, were hunting in the marshlands near the Pymatuning dam. The professor shot a duck which fell near his companion on the opposite side of a small stream.

"Hold it by the neck until it's dead," Dr. Gamble called, anxious to preserve the duck and its feathers for the college museum.

Apparently quite dead, Russell tossed the bird across the brook to his friend. Once in mid-air the duck shook itself, swung about and winged away. The hunters watched it fly out of sight.

Cabinet Crisis Near In Japan

Minister Of Finance Resigns As Huge Budget Is Being Considered

(International News Service)
TOKIO, Nov. 26.—Japan's billionyen budget for the Army and Navy today resulted in the sensational resignation of finance minister Sa-danobu Fujii.

His health was given officially as the reason for the unexpected action, but it is well known that he opposed approval of the budget at an all-night sitting of the cabinet last Thursday.

Coming on the eve of a special session of the diet to pass the budget, Fujii's resignation might have the way for a major cabinet crisis, it was feared.

New Castle Boy Wins Prize Award

(Special To The News)
NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Nov.
26.—William Shira, New Castle, has been awarded the Delta Nubia, honorary mathematics fraternity, prize in mathematics for having maintained the highest average in math last year. Dr. H. L. Black, head of the Westminister department announces.

In addition to his high standing in mathematics, Shira held an almost perfect academic standing for his freshman work last year, averaging 2.85 out of a possible 3.00.
A leather-bound volume, chemical and mathematical handbook was given Shira in recognition of his work. The Delta Nubia award, an annual one, was started in 1932.

Report Week End Accidents Here

Several Minor Traffic Mishaps Are Reported To Police

Several accidents occurred on city streets during the past 24 hours according to reports submitted by autoists to police. No persons were injured in the accidents.

Arthur Johnson, Volant, R. D. 2, reported he was driving north on Highland and that his auto struck a parked car belonging to Mrs. E. J.
Blanning, 707 Highland avenue, early Sunday morning. The cars were damaged. Johnson said he fell asleep.

Adam Scerba, 1633 Fremont St., S. E. Warren, O. told police he was driving east on the state street hill and a V-8 going in the opposite direction at a high rate of speed struck his car, Saturday. He did not obtain the number of the car.

Harry Schell, R. D. 1 reported that he had his car parked at the Janson Memorial hospital and his brakes gave way. The car descended a grade and struck a car belonging to Leon Drumm, of Garfield avenue.
The accident occurred at 7:30 p. m.
Saturday.

Edith E. Branchard, 716 Blaine street, reported she was driving south of North Mill street and that a National Guard truck, carrying Pennsylvania license 994 was driven from the curb near North street and struck her car, at 2:30 Saturday.

John Ewing, New Middletown, O. was driving east on East Washington street and when making a left turn into North Beaver street a car carrying Pennsylvania license plates
3E39R struck his car, at 7:30 p. m.
Saturday.

Kenneth VanEman was fined $10 in default of which he was committed for 10 days in the county jail by Mayor Mayo in police court yesterday. Byron Minner, who was arrested at the same time as Van Eman, was discharged. They were charged with having participated in a fight in an east side lunchroom.

According to the police, VanEman is alleged to have knocked down a young man in the restaurant. An elderly man remarked that VanEman had no right to do such a thing, whereupon VanEman, it is charged, knocked him down.

Minner, who was in the restaurant, objected to having the elderly man, took off his coat and in a moment the fight was on, excepting that Minner was "double teamed," as a brother of Kenneth VanEman came to his brother's assistance, according to the police.

Patrolman Nelson was summoned and he squelched the battle. He landed Kenneth VanEman and Min-ner at the city police station and in court Sunday morning Minner was discharged and Kenneth VanEman sent to the county jail.

July's expenditures for education have nearly doubled in 12 years.

Here's Duck Story From Pymatuning

GREENVILLE, Pa., Nov. 26.—Dr.
John T. Gamble, of the Thiel College Biology department, and his friend, Paul W. Russell, were hunting in the marshlands near the Pymatuning dam. The professor shot a duck which fell near his companion on the opposite side of a small stream.

"Hold it by the neck until it's dead," Dr. Gamble called, anxious to preserve the duck and its feathers for the college museum.

Apparently quite dead, Russell tossed the bird across the brook to his friend. Once in mid-air the duck shook itself, swung about and winged away. The hunters watched it fly out of sight.

Matthew Jenkins had the misfortune to be hurt in the mine Monday. He received a badly cut ear and was hurried about the body.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Jenkins, Mr. and

Sharon Police Sergeant One Of Accused In Conspiracy To Sell Stolen Car

(International News Service) PITTSBURGH, Nov. 26.—Assistant United States District Attorney Fred Weir today put the finishing touches on his case against Richard C. Vasconi, Sharon police sergeant, and William Coxson, co-defendant, who go on trial in federal court tomorrow charged with handling and selling a stolen car.

Two other men, William C. Brooks and Albert V. Ongley, were named in the indictment last September charging the men with disposing of a coupe allegedly stolen from William Moser of Girard, O. Brooks and Ongley pleaded guilty, while Vasconi and Coxson waived arraignment and pleaded not guilty.

They are at liberty. Vasconi on $2500 bail and Coxson on reduced bond of $500.

In three counts the men are accused of "bartering, receiving, concealing and storing, and selling and disposing" of the "hot" car, sometime between Oct. 7 and Oct. 24, 1933.

Complains Of Water Nuisance

Croton Avenue Resident Claims Surface Water Flows Into Basement

Dr. Samuel Warner, 442 Croton avenue, today complained in a communication to councilmen who met in the City building that, despite several requests, the county had not alleviated a water nuisance in Hutchinson street between the P. R. R. and Croton avenue. Streets Director B. F. Butler in reply informed his colleagues the department did not possess sufficient funds to remedy the condition permanently.

The condition is caused by surface water coming from the hill and flowing into the lower portion of Hutchinson street, over the curb and into the basement of the Warner residence.

Streets Director Butler said the only way the condition can be permanently overcome would be to pave the street and lower the gutters, and the department has no funds with which to do that sort of a job now.

Dr. Warner also said that no wall, as planned, had been built along Hutchinson creek, and there was a probability that a large gasoline truck may skid some day, plunge into the creek and a disastrous fire may occur.

In reply to this councilmen declared that plans had been made for a wall along the edge of the embankment, but this was not done because brick was not used as the material.

Today they indicated that as soon as possible they would request RWD officials to assign stone workers to build rough stone piers to which cables or chains would be attached.

Climate comes from the Greek, meaning "to slope" climate being the consequence of the slope of the earth towards the sun.

Good Conduct At Dances May Bring Refunds

Councilmen Have New Idea Of Dealing With Beer Parlor Dances

"TAXI-DANCING" HERE, SAYS DAVIES

Council convened in the city building today and decided to penalize proprietors of beer parlors in which patrons are allowed to dance should police be summoned to quell any trouble in such places.

The penalization will be made possible through an ordinance to be drafted by Solicitor White which will say that the state dance law provisions shall be enforced yet permit council to make a refund to places where no trouble occurs.

The council indicated the city will collect an annual license fee of $15 and charge $1 for a permit each time a dance is held. If no trouble occurs the proprietor will be given a refund from this latter charge each month.

The amount of the fund has not been named yet by council. The mayor informed colleagues that, in his opinion, none of the proprietors could afford to pay the city more than $50 a year which would include the annual license.

When Mayor Mayne brought up the matter of enforcing the state law which would increase the city's revenue, Solicitor White told him that the law would have to be enforced but there was a legal way in which the charges could be reduced.

He explained the plan mentioned in the foregoing after which Safety Director Davies said the solicitor should, while writing the measure, put in regulatory provisions.

Taxi-Dancing Here.

Solicitor White informed Davies that if the police saw anything they did not believe proper they could cause the dance license to be taken away from the places without giving a reason.

Safety Director Davies then said: "They say there is taxi-dancing here." They also said that he heard of girls being hired for dance purposes. He did not mention names, places or reveal the identities of the informants.

Mayor Mayne said he did not agree with the charge, declaring: "I do not believe there is such a thing going on here. At least, I have never heard of it and I get around quite a bit."

It was decided that Solicitor White should draft the ordinance which will be studied by council and the refunds, if they are given, will be dependent upon whether or not police have been called to such places.

Will Pay Tribute To Orville Wright

Revealed That Orville Wright Does Not Have License To Pilot Any Airplane

(International News Service) WASHINGTON, Nov. 26.—Orville Wright, father of aviation, is not licensed to operate any kind of aircraft, it was noted today as 14,000 American pilots prepared to pay homage to the Dayton, O., pioneer.

The nationwide celebration will be held December 17 to commemorate the day in 1903 when the Wright brothers first lifted a heavier-than-air machine from the ground.

The experiment was made in an old "Pusher" type of ship from Kill Devil hill, one of a series of sand dunes bordering the Atlantic ocean near Kitty Hawk, N. C.

The ship in which Orville Wright was strapped for the experiment is in the British museum in London, because of a misunderstanding between Wright and the Smithsonian institution.

Sharon Police Sergeant One Of Accused In Conspiracy To Sell Stolen Car

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Nov. 26.—Assistant United States District Attorney Fred Weir today put the finishing touches on his case against Richard C. Vasconi, Sharon police sergeant, and William Coxson, co-defendant, who go on trial in federal court tomorrow charged with handling and selling a stolen car.

Two other men, William C. Brooks and Albert V. Ongley, were named in the indictment last September charging the men with disposing of a coupe allegedly stolen from William Mozer of Girard, O. Brooks and Ongley pleaded guilty, while Vasconi and Coxson waived arraignment and pleaded not guilty.

They are at liberty. Vasconi on $2500 bail and Coxson on reduced bond of $500.

In three counts the men are accused of "bartering, receiving, concealing and storing, and selling and disposing" of the "hot" car, sometime between Oct. 7 and Oct. 24, 1933.

Complains Of

Croton Avenue Resident Claims
Surface Water Flows
Into Basement

Dr. Samuel Warner, 442 Croton avenue, today complained in a communication to councilmen who met in the City building that, despite several requests, the county had not alleviated a water nuisance in Hutchinson street between the P. R. R. and Croton avenue. Streets Director B. F. Butler in reply informed his colleagues the department did not possess sufficient funds to remedy the condition permanently.

The condition is caused by surface water coming from the hill and flowing into the lower portion of Hutchinson street, over the curb and into the basement of the Warner residence.

Streets Director Butler said the only way the condition can be permanently overcome would be to pave the street and lower the gutters, and the department has no funds with which to do that sort of a job now.

Dr. Warner also said that no wall, as planned, had been built along Neshannock creek, and there was a probability that a large gasoline truck may skid some day, plunge into the creek and a disastrous fire may occur.

In reply to this councilmen declared that plans had been made for a wall along the edge of the embankment, but this was not done because brick was not used as the material.

Today they indicated that as soon as possible they would request RWD officials to assign stone workers to build rough stone piers to which cables or chains would be attached.

Climate comes from the Greek, meaning "to slope" climate being the consequence of the slope of the earth towards the sun.

Good Conduct
At Dances May Bring Refunds

Councilmen Have New Idea
Of Dealing With Beer
Parlor Dances

"TAXI-DANCING"
HERE, SAYS DAVIES

Council convened in the city building today and decided to penalize proprietors of beer parlors in which patrons are allowed to dance should police be summoned to quell any trouble in such places.

The penalization will be made possible through an ordinance to be drafted by Solicitor White which will say that the state dance law provisions shall be enforced yet permit council to make a refund to places where no trouble occurs.

The council indicated the city will collect an annual license fee of $15 and charge $1 for a permit each time a dance is held. If no trouble occurs the proprietor will be given a refund from this latter charge each month.

The amount of the fund has not been named yet by council. The mayor informed colleagues that, in his opinion, none of the proprietors could afford to pay the city more than $50 a year which would include the annual license.

When Mayor Mayne brought up the matter of enforcing the state law which would increase the city's revenue, Solicitor White told him that the law would have to be enforced but there was a legal way in which the charges could be reduced.

He explained the plan mentioned in the foregoing article which Safety Director Davies said the solicitor should, while writing the measure, put in regulatory provisions.

Taxi-Dancing Here.

Solicitor White informed Davies that if the police saw anything they did not believe proper they could cause the dance license to be taken away from the places without giving a reason.

Safety Director Davies then said: "They say there is taxi-dancing here." They also said that he heard of girls being hired for dance purposes. He did not mention names, places or reveal the identities of the informants.

Mayor Mayne said he did not agree with the charge, declaring: "I do not believe there is such a thing going on here. At least, I have never heard of it and I get around quite a bit."

It was decided that Solicitor White should draft the ordinance which will be studied by council and the refunds, if they are given, will be dependent upon whether or not police have been called to such places.

Will Pay Tribute To Orville Wright

Revealed That Orville Wright
Does Not Have License To Pilot Any Airplane

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 26.—Orville Wright, father of aviation, is not licensed to operate any kind of aircraft, it was noted today as 14,000 American pilots prepared to pay homage to the Dayton, O., pioneer.

The nationwide celebration will be held December 17 to commemorate the day in 1903 when the Wright brothers first lifted a heavier-than-air machine from the ground.

The experiment was made in an old "Pusher" type of ship from Kill Devil hill, one of a series of sand dunes bordering the Atlantic ocean near Kitty Hawk, N. C.

The ship in which Orville Wright was strapped for the experiment is in the British museum in London, because of a misunderstanding between Wright and the Smithsonian institution.

The evangelistic services in the Free Methodist church at Highland Heights are attracting large congregations. Sunday was a day of unusual inspiration. The evening discourse upon "The Man Whom God Called a Fool" was a masterpiece of logic. At the close of the sermon a number went to the altar for prayer. This evening Dr. Blew will address the congregation on "The Signs of the Times." Dr. Blew has lived in Russia as a research scholar from the University of Berlin and will speak of the momentous events now occurring in Russia, Italy, Germany and the Orient in their relationship to the prophecies of the Bible.

There will be services each night this week.

Will Try Two In Stealing Of Auto*Sharon Police Sergeant One Of Accused In Conspiracy To Sell Stolen Car

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 26.—Assistant United States District Attorney Fred Weir today put the finishing touches on his case against Richard C. Vasconi, Sharon police sergeant, and William Coxson, co-defendant, who go on trial in federal court tomorrow charged with handling and selling a stolen car.

Two other men, William C. Brooks and Albert V. Ongley, were named in the indictment last September charging the men with disposing of a coup allegedly stolen from William Mozor of Girard. O. Brooks and Ongley pleaded guilty, while Vasconi and Coxson waived arraignment and pleaded not guilty.

They are at liberty, Vasconi on $2500 bail and Coxson on reduced bond of $500.

In the three counts the men are accused of "bartering, receiving, concealing and storing, and selling and disposing" of the "hot" car, sometime between Oct. 7 and Oct. 24, 1933.

Complains Of Water Nuisance*Croton Avenue Resident Claims Surface Water Flows Into Basement

Dr. Samuel Warner, 442 Croton avenue, today complained in a communication to councilmen who met in the City building that, despite several requests, the county had not alleviated a water nuisance in a Hutchinson street between the P. R. R. and Croton avenue. Streets Director B. F. Butler in reply informed his colleagues the department did not possess sufficient funds to remedy the condition permanently.

The condition is caused by surface water coming from the hill and flowing into the lower portion of Hutchinson street, over the curb and into the basement of the Warner residence.

Streets Director Butler said the only way the condition can be permanently overcome would be to pave the street and lower the gutters, and the department has the funds with which to do that sort of a job now.

Dr. Warner also said that no wall, as planned, had been built along Nesheannock creek, and there was a probability that a large gasoline truck may skid some day, plunge into the creek and a disastrous fire may occur.

In reply to this councilmen declared that plans had been made for a wall along the edge of the embankment, but this was not done because brick was not used as the material.

Today they indicated that as soon as possible they would request RWP officials to assign stone workers to build rough stone piers to which cables or chains would be attached.

Good Conduct At Dances May Bring Refunds*Councilmen Have New Idea Of Dealing With Beer Parlor Dances*"TAXI-DANCING" HERE, SAYS DAVIES

Council convened in the city building today and decided to penalize proprietors of beer parlors in which patrons are allowed to dance should police be summoned to quell any trouble in such places.

The penalization will be made possible through an ordinance to be drafted by Solicitor White which will say that the state dance law provisions shall be enforced yet permit council to make a refund to places where no trouble occurs.

The council indicated the city will collect an annual license fee of $15 and charge $1 for a permit each time a dance is held. If no trouble occurs the proprietor will be given a refund from this latter charge each month.

The amount of the fund has not been named yet by council. The mayor informed colleagues that, in his opinion, none of the proprietors could afford to pay the city more than $50 a year which would include the annual license.

When Mayor Mayne brought up the matter of enforcing the state law which would increase the city's revenue, Solicitor White told him that the law would have to be enforced but there was a legal way in which the charges could be reduced.

He explained the plan mentioned in the foregoing after which Safety Director Davies said the solicitor should, while writing the measure, put in regulatory provisions.

Taxi-Dancing Here. Solicitor White informed Davies that if the police saw anything they did not believe proper they could cause the dance license to be taken away from the places without giving a reason.

Safety Director Davies then said: "They say there is taxi-dancing here." They also said that the head of girls being hired for dance purposes. He did not mention names, places or reveal the identities of the informants.

Mayor Mayne said he did not agree with the charge, declaring: "I do not believe there is such a thing going on here. At least, I have never heard of it and I get around quite a bit."

It was decided that Solicitor White should draft the ordinance which will be studied by council and the refunds, if they are given, will be dependent upon whether or not police have been called to such places.

Will Pay Tribute To Orville Wright*Revealed That Orville Wright Does Not Have License To Pilot Any Airplane

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26.—Orville Wright, father of aviation, is not licensed to operate any kind of aircraft, it was noted today as 14,000 American pilots prepared to pay homage to the Dayton, O., pioneer.

The nationwide celebration will be held December 17 to commemorate the day in 1903 when the Wright brothers first lifted a heavier-than-air machine from the ground.

The experiment was made in an old "Pusher" type of ship from Kill Devil hill, one of a series of sand dunes bordering the Atlantic ocean near Kitty Hawk, N. C.

The ship in which Orville Wright was strapped for the experiment is in the British museum in London, because of a misunderstanding between Wright and the Smithsonian institution.

Fete Postmaster At Hotel Banquet

Glowing Tribute Paid To Steen On Saturday;
Event Surprise Him

WILSON CHAIRMAN OF NIGHT PROGRAM

Taken completely by surprise, Postmaster Richard A. Steen was escorted from his home to The Cathedral on Saturday evening and fete at a testimonial banquet which the postal employees of New Castle gave to manifest their loyalty to one of their own who not so long ago was named to the highest local office which the postal system can bestow.

Waiting to greet Mr. Steen in the hotel lobby was the host of postal workers who have worked together with their postmaster—"Dick" they call him—and the wives of many of the employees. They provided one grand welcome for him and then went to the dining room for dinner and a program.

Here for the occasion was a high official of the National Federation of Post Office Clerks, William O'Connell, secretary and treasurer, from Washington, D. C.

With Mr. O'Connell as the principal banquet speaker was Judge R. Lawrence Hildebrand, the postoffice's retired veterans and others still in the mail service.

Presiding as toastmaster for the testimonial occasion was Frank M. Wilson, who retired several years ago after serving a long period as superintendent of mails. He opened the program at 8:45 and it wasn't until late that his job was over.

Secretary and Treasurer Otto brought greetings from the national federation to the clerks and other employees of the local office and conveyed the federation's best wishes to Mr. Steen. He also discussed the clerks' problems at length.

Judge Hildebrand was a guest speaker who represented his townsmen, and he paid a glowing tribute to the postmaster in the toast he gave as he closed his remarks.

May your service, Mr. Steen, Judge Hildebrand said, "continue to receive the commendation of the public you serve, the approbation of your fellow workers and the favor of your superiors at Washington and may your tenure of office be long, honorable and pleasant."

Mayor Mayne was to have spoken, but he was unable to be present. Congressman-elect Charles R. Eckert, who had previously notified the banquet planners that he would not be able to attend, wired his congratulations to Mr. Steen. Other telegrams were received.

Steen Speaks.

Toastmaster Wilson called upon Mr. Steen for remarks toward the close of the speaking program, and the man for whom the banquet was given, responded fittingly.

He asked for the continued cooperation of the postal force to make the system here better. He told the force "to tell your friends that when we move into the new building it will not alone be a bigger office but a better one." He again thanked them for the gesture of faithfulness—a real surprise—and sat down.

Coming from Erie for the dinner was Howard C. Miller, state vice president of the clerks' federation, and Orville Gorman, Ed Mosket and Theodore Hogan of the Erie local. Meadville was represented by Clyde Beers and Fred Cotton.

At the speakers' table with the honored guest sat Mrs. Steen, Toastmaster Wilson, Assistant Postmaster and Mrs. James G. Leslie, Mr. and Mrs. Arch Fleming and George Swisher.

Musical entertainment for the evening was lavishly provided by a local orchestra and a blackface comedian act was staged by Harry Ross and Peter Mele. Special musical numbers were also sung.

Sponsored by New Castle Local No. 227 of the clerks' federation, the affair was participated in by all of the local employees. Thomas L. Donegan was chairman, assisted by Thornton Allen and P. S. Richards.

No Gold Coins For Coming Christmas

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 26.—For the first time in history, gold coins will not be available for Christmas presents this year.

Figures at the treasury today showed there is very little gold in circulation. Officials said that practically all of that outstanding is held by collectors of precious coin and is highly unlikely to change hands during Christmas giving.

A year ago there was $310,970,000 in gold coin and $213,049,000 in gold certificates in circulation. Treasury books still show that $135,751,000 in certificates are outstanding although all gold and gold certificates have been called back to the treasury.

In all probability, a considerable portion of the gold certificates marked as outstanding have been destroyed through fires or otherwise while the treasury statements indicate no gold outstanding, it was believed that a sizeable volume of this metal issued by the government is still in hoard and that much of it had been moved out of the country before gold exports were placed under a license system.

GIRL SCOUTS

Girl Scout Troop 6 met in City hall, Saturday morning, for the weekly session which was opened with games. After going to patrol corners, an open Court of Honor was held.

It was decided to hold the December Court of Awards at Trinity church, instead of the Municipal Golf club as previously announced. The menu for this date was chosen and bureaus assigned, and the girls planned the entertainment program.

Helen Allan and Elizabeth Erce passed their first class aid work. The meeting was closed with taps. Scribe, JOAN THOMPSON.

KEYSTONE TROOP
The Keystone Troop of the Girl Scouts held a meeting in the City building. They opened the meeting by using the horseshoe formation. Miss Geraldine Felter then took five girls to visit the central fire station—Marjory, Verna and Donna Brooks, Ruth Nowalk and Jane Coates. Those passing signal-lights were Edwina Connery and Es-ther Nowalk. Next week the girls are going to make Christmas gifts. Scribe, WANDA HANNA.

TROOP 2 MEETING
Troop 2 of the Girl Scouts, met in Highland school Thursday. Edith Cleveland and Phyllis VanDine were in charge. Miss Leona Sankey taught the girls a dance, with Irene Pauline and Dorothy Wise illustrating the steps.

MOTHERS ARE GUESTS
A delicious 6 o'clock tureen dinner, prepared entirely by the Girl Scouts of Troop No. 11, was enjoyed by the scouts and their mothers on Saturday evening, in the Central Christian church.

Special guests of the occasion were three scout committees members Mrs. Robert Thompson, Mrs. I. Davis and Miss Laura Bell. Places were set for forty at a delightfully decorated table suggestive of the Thanksgiving season, with fall flowers and Japanese lanterns adding to the effect. Pop songs were sung throughout the evening and the "Goodnight song" brought the gathering to a close.

Scribe, RUTH FULLWOOD.

THANKSGIVING EVENT
Sixty five girls of the Benjamin Franklin junior high school enjoyed a Thanksgiving party at the "Y" Friday evening. Their "admittance tickets" were articles of food which to pack Thanksgiving baskets for needy families. Seven of these baskets were packed and will be distributed soon. Candied apples and popcorn balls were served. Miss Lillie Abraham was in charge of games.

A similar party will be enjoyed by the senior high Girl Reserves tonight, with the additional feature of being a "star party." The members have been asked to come dressed to represent movie stars.

A Thanksgiving meeting will be enjoyed by the George Washington Club Tuesday afternoon.

The Modern Cinderella club will have a special meeting Wednesday night.

RECREATION DAILY
Recreation classes are being conducted in the Y. W. C. A. gymnasium every afternoon from 5 to 6 o'clock except Tuesdays and are open to all young women free of charge, whether employed or unemployed. Volley ball and basketball are several features.

A class in mixed crafts is being conducted this afternoon and another in interior decorating Tuesday afternoon.

Y. M. C. A. Notes

MEET THIS EVENING
Members of the Key Men's Club athletic organization, will gather in the Y tonight at 7:30 for a regular business meeting. President Dario Baptiste announces.

THANKSGIVING SERVICE
Dr. G. S. Bennett, pastor of the First Christian church, will deliver a Thanksgiving message before the Phalanx fraternity on Wednesday evening November 28 at 7:30 o'clock.

WILL DINE AT HOME
Members of the Y's Men's Club will go to the Margaret L. Henry Children's home for dinner Wednesday evening and enjoy an inspection of the home after dining. The dinner hour is 6.

The club proposes to do service work at the home.

AT CAPITAL SESSIONS

Secretary Hull Issues Warning

United States Will Not Hasten To Improve Economic Relations With Germany

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 26.—A sharp warning from Secretary of State Hull that the United States will not hasten to improve its economic relations with Germany so long as that nation discriminates against American creditors today was in the hands of the German government.

This warning was contained in a new note of protest against the German government's action in entering bargain agreements with other countries in which other foreign creditors of Germany were granted more favorable treatment than American bondholders.

The new American protest and warning was designed to prompt the German government to make full payment to American bondholders on the Young plan payments which become due December 1.

Highland Church Pageant Sunday

Preliminary to the Thanksgiving holiday and preparatory to the thank offering service a pageant "When Money Talks" was presented Sunday evening in Highland U. P. church.

The pageant was directed by Miss Elizabeth Mitholland and Dr. T. J. McPate.

Those in the cast were Isabel Ralph, Dorothy Blum, Howard Rumbaugh, Jim Marshall, Charlotte Withers, Gertrude Graham, Tenney McPate, Thelma Merrilles, Bertha Dodds, Helen Allen, Mrs. Irvine Ralph, Heber Baldwin, Betty McKeel, Gerald Emery, Elizabeth Richardson, Frank Baldwin, Helen Wilson, Clarence Ruthvauff, Katherine McGrath, Phyllis Elder, Jean Allen, Dorothy McClung, Jeannette Vogan, Marjory Blum, Mrs. James Vogan, Mrs. Glenn Throop, Mrs. William Klee, Norma Nixon, Jack Nixon, Joe Vogan and Margaret Graham.

The quartet included Miss Bess Allen, Mrs. John Rodgers, the Rev. D. L. Ferguson and Richard Johns.

Primitive Church Services Attract

Sunday night a large congregation that filled the auditorium of the Primitive Methodist church heard Evangelist C. M. Duway deliver a powerful sermon on "Neglecting a Great Salvation."

The church was well filled when the hour for service arrived and the congregation joined heartily in the singing. Mrs. Barrie and Miss Lewis sang "Yes, I Know," and Rev. Duway's sermon followed. The climax of the discourse was the prayer of the preacher, portrayed the dangers of neglect. As the invitation was given several responded. Services will continue nightly through this week.

Fete Postmaster At Hotel Banquet

Glowing Tribute Paid To Steen On Saturday;

WILSON CHAIRMAN OF NIGHT PROGRAM

Taken completely by surprise, Postmaster Richard A. Steen was escorted from his home to the Cas-tleton on Saturday evening and fete at a testimonial banquet which the postal employees of New Castle gave to manifest their loyalty to one of their own who not so long ago was named to the highest local office which the postal system can bestow.

Waiting to greet Mr. Steen in the hotel lobby was the host of postal workers who have worked together with their postmaster—"Dick" they call him—and the wives of many of the employees. They provided one grand welcome for him and then went to the dining room for dinner and a program.

Here for the occasion was a high official of the National Federation of Post Office Clerks, William Otte, its secretary and treasurer, from Washington, D. C.

With Mr. Otte as the principal speaker was Judge R. Lawrence Hildebrand, the postoffice's retired veterans and others still in the mail service.

Presiding as toastmaster for the testimonial occasion was Frank M. Wilson, who retired several years ago after serving a long period as superintendent of mails. He opened the program at 8:45 and it wasn't until late that his job was over.

Secretary and Treasurer Otte brought greetings from the national federation to the clerks and other employees of the local office and conveyed the federation's best wishes to Mr. Steen. He also discussed the clerks' problems at length.

Judge Hildebrand was a guest speaker who represented his townsmen, and he paid a glowing tribute to the postmaster in the toast he gave as he closed his remarks.

"May your service, Mr. Steen," Judge Hildebrand said, "continue to receive the commendation of the public you serve, the approbation of your fellow workers and the favor of your superiors at Washington and may your tenure of office be long, honorable and pleasant."

Major Mayne was to have spoken, but he was unable to be present. Congressman-elect Charles R. Eckert, who had previously notified the banquet planners that he would not be able to attend, wired his congratulations to Mr. Steen. Other telegrams were received.

Steen Speaks.
Toastmaster Wilson called upon Mr. Steen for remarks toward the close of the speaking program, and the man for whom the banquet was given, responded fittingly.

He asked for the continued cooperation of the postal force to make the system here better. He told the force "to tell your friends that when we move into the new building it will not alone be a bigger office but a better one." He again thanked them for the gesture of faithfulness—a real surprise—and sat down.

Coming from Erie for the dinner was Howard C. Miller, state vice president of the clerks' federation, and Orville Gorman, Ed Mosket and Theodore Hogan of the Erie local. Meadville was represented by Clyde Beers and Fred Cotton.

At the speakers' table with the honored guest sat Mrs. Steen, Toastmaster Wilson, Assistant Postmaster and Mrs. James G. Leslie, Mr. and Mrs. Arch Fleming and George Swisher.

Musical entertainment for the evening was lavishly provided by a local orchestra and a blackface comedian act was staged by Harry Ross and Peter Mele. Special musical numbers were also sung.

Sponsored by New Castle Local No. 227 of the clerks' federation, the affair was participated in by all of the local employees. Thomas L. Donegan was chairman, assisted by Thornton Allen and P. S. Richards.

No Gold Coins For Coming Christmas

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 26.—For the first time in history, gold coins will not be available for Christmas presents this year.

Figures at the treasury today showed there is very little gold in circulation. Officials said that practically all of that outstanding is held by collectors of precious coin and is highly unlikely to change hands during Christmas giving.

A year ago there was $310,970,000 in gold coin and $213,049,000 in gold certificates in circulation. Treasury books still show that $135,751,000 in certificates are outstanding although all gold and gold certificates have been called back to the treasury.

In all probability, a considerable portion of the gold certificates marked as outstanding have been destroyed through fires or otherwise while the treasury statements indicate no gold outstanding, it was believed that a sizeable volume of this metal issued by the government is still in hoard and that much of it had been moved out of the country before gold exports were placed under a license system.

GIRL SCOUTS

TROOP 6

Girl Scout Troop 6 met in City hall, Saturday morning, for the weekly session which was opened with games. After going to patrol corners, an open Court of Honor was held.

It was decided to hold the December Court of Awards at Trinity church, instead of the Municipal Golf club as previously announced. The menu for this date was chosen and turens assigned, and the girls planned the entertainment program.

Helen Allen and Elizabeth Eroe passed their first class aid work. The meeting was closed with taps. Scribe, JOAN THOMPSON.

KEYSTONE TROOP

The Keystone Troop of Girl Scouts held a meeting in the City building. They opened the meeting by using the horseshoe formation. Miss Geraldine Ferver then took five girls to visit the central fire station—Marjory, Verna and Donna Brooks. Ruth Nowalk and Jane Coates. Those passing signals were Edwina Conner and Esther Nowalk. Next week the girls are going to make Christmas gifts. Scribe, WANDA HANNA.

TROOP 2 MEETING

MOTHERS ARE GUESTS

A delicious 6 o'clock tureen dinner, prepared entirely by the Girl Scouts of Troop No. 11, was enjoyed by the scouts and their mothers on Saturday evening, in the Central Christian church.

Special guests of the occasion were three troop committee members Mrs. Robert Thompson, Mrs. I. Davis and Miss Laura Bell. Places were set for forty at a delightfully decorated table suggestive of the Thanksgiving season, with fall flowers and Japanese lanterns adding to the effect. Pop songs were sung throughout the evening and the "Goodnight song" brought the gathering to a close. Scribe, RUTH FULLWOOD.

THANKSGIVING EVENT

Sixty five girls of the Benjamin Franklin junior high school enjoyed a Thanksgiving party at the "Y" Friday evening. Their "admittance tickets" were articles of food with which to pack Thanksgiving baskets for needy families. Seven of these baskets were packed and will be distributed soon. Candied apples and popcorn balls were served. Miss Lillie Braham was in charge of games.

A similar party will be enjoyed by the senior high Girl Reserves to night, with the additional feature of being a "star party." The members have been asked to come dressed to represent movie stars.

A Thanksgiving meeting will be enjoyed by the George Washington Club Tuesday afternoon.

The Modern Ciderella club will have a special meeting Wednesday night.

RECREATION DAILY

Recreation classes are being conducted in the Y. W. C. A. gymnasium every afternoon from 5 to 6 o'clock except Tuesdays and are open to all young women free of charge, whether employed or unemployed. Volley ball and basketball are several features.

A class in mixed crafts is being conducted this afternoon and another in interior decorating Tuesday afternoon.

MEET THIS EVENING

Members of the Key Men's Club athletic organization, will gather in the Y tonight at 7:30 for a regular business meeting. President Dario Baptiste announces.

THANKSGIVING SERVICE

Dr. G. S. Bennett, pastor of the First Christian church, will deliver a Thanksgiving message before the Phalanx fraternity on Wednesday evening November 28 at 7:30 o'clock.

WILL DINE AT HOME

Members of the Y's Men's Club will go to the Margaret L. Henry Children's home for dinner Wednesday evening and enjoy an inspection of the home after dining. The dinner hour is 6.

The club proposes to do service work at the home.

AT CAPITAL SESSIONS

Secretary Hull Issues Warning

United States Will Not Hasten To Improve Economic Relations With Germany

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 26.—A sharp warning from Secretary of State Hull that the United States will not hasten to improve its economic relations with Germany so long as that nation discriminates against American creditors today was in the hands of the German government.

This warning was contained in a new note of protest against the German government's action in entering bargain agreements with other countries in which other foreign creditors of Germany were granted more favorable treatment than American bondholders.

The new American protest and warning was designed to prompt the German government to make full payment to American bondholders on the Young plan payments which become due December 1.

Highland Church Pageant Sunday

Preliminary to the Thanksgiving holiday and preparatory to the thank offering service a pageant "When Money Talks" was presented Sunday evening in Highland U. P. church.

The pageant was directed by Miss Elizabeth Milholland and Dr. T. J. McFate.

Those in the cast were Isabel Balph, Dorothy Blim, Howard Rumbaugh, Jim Marshall, Charlotte Withers, Gertrude Graham, Tenoy McFate, Thelma Merrillees, Bertha Dodds, Helen Allen, Mrs. Irvine Balph, Heber Baldwin, Betty McFate, Frank Baldwin, Helen Wilson, Clarence Rutherford, Katherine McGrath, Phyllis Elder, Jean Allen, Dorothy McClung, Jeannette Vogan, Marjory Blim, Mrs. James Vogan, Mrs. Glenn Throop, Mrs. William Klee, Norma Nixon, Jack Nixon, Joe Vogan and Margaret Graham.

The quartet included Miss Bess Allen, Mrs. John Rodgers, the Rev. D. L. Ferguson and Richard Johns.

Primitive Church Services Attract

Sunday night a large congregation that filled the auditorium of the Primitive Methodist church heard Evangelist C. M. Dunaway deliver a powerful sermon on "Neglecting a Great Salvation."

The church was well filled when the hour for service arrived and the congregation joined heartily in the singing. Mrs. Barris and Miss Lewis sang "Yes, I Know," and Rev. Dunaway's sermon followed. The climax of the discourse was forceful as the preacher portrayed the dangers of neglect. As the invitation was given several responded. Services will continue nightly through this week.

GIRL SCOUTS

TRUMP 6 Girl Scout Troop 6 met in City hall, Saturday morning, for the weekly session which was opened with games. After going to patrol corners, an open Court of Honor was held.

It was decided to hold the December Court of Awards at Trinity church, instead of the Municipal Club as previously announced. The menu for this date was chosen and the girls planned the entertainment program.

Heleen Allen and Elizabeth Eroe passed their first class aid work. The meeting was closed with taps. Scribe, JOAN THOMPSON.

KEYSTONE TROOP

The Keystone Troop of Girl Scouts held a meeting in the City building. They opened the meeting by using the horseshoe formation. Miss Geraldine Feiver then took five girls to visit the central fire station—Marjory Verna and Jane Coates. Those passing signaling were Edwina Conner and Esther Nowalk. Next week the girls are going to make Christmas gifts. Scribe, WANDA HANNA.

TROOP 2 MEETING

MARY LOU FULKERSON

A delicious 6 o'clock tureen dinner, prepared entirely by the Girl Scouts of Troop No. 11, was enjoyed by the scouts and their mothers on Saturday evening, in the Central Christian church.

Special guests of the occasion were three troop committees, members Mrs. Robert Thompson, Mrs. I. Davis and Miss Laura Bell. Places were set for forty at a delightfully decorated table suggestive of the Thanksgiving season, with fall flowers and Japanese lanterns added to the effect.

Pop songs were sung throughout the evening and a "Goodnight song" brought the gathering to a close.

Y. W. C. A. Notes

THANKSGIVING EVENT Sixty five girls of the Benjamin Franklin junior high school enjoyed a Thanksgiving party at the "Y" Friday evening. Their "admission tickets" were articles of food with which to pack Thanksgiving baskets for needy families. Seven of these baskets were packed and will be distributed soon. Candied apples and popcorn balls were served. Miss Lillie Graham was in charge of games.

A similar party will be enjoyed by the senior high Girl Reserves to night, with the additional feature of being a "star party." The members have been asked to come dressed to represent movie stars.

A Thanksgiving meeting will be enjoyed by the George Washington Club Tuesday afternoon.

The Modern Cinderella club will have a special meeting Wednesday night.

RECREATION DAILY Recreation classes are being conducted in the Y. W. C. A. gymnasium every afternoon from 5 to 6 o'clock except Tuesdays and are open to all young women free of charge, whether employed or unemployed. Volley ball and basketball are several features.

A class in mixed crafts is being conducted this afternoon and another in interior decorating Tuesday afternoon.

Y. M. C. A. Notes

MEET THIS EVENING Members of the Key Men's Club athletic organization, will gather in the Y tonight at 7:30 for a regular business meeting. President Darlo Baptiste announces.

THANKSGIVING SERVICE Dr. G. S. Bennett, pastor of the First Christian church, will deliver a Thanksgiving message before the Phalanx fraternity on Wednesday evening November 28 at 7:30 o'clock.

WILL DINE AT HOME Members of the Y Men's Club will go to the Margaret L. Henry Childrens home for dinner Wednesday evening and enjoy an inspection of the home after dining. The dinner hour is 5.

The club proposes to do service work at the home.

AT CAPITAL SESSIONS General Secretary E. L. Meermans, accompanied by a party of New Castle Y men are attending the annual state convention of the Y. M. C. A. at Harrisburg. They will return here tomorrow.

Secretary Hull Issues Warning

United States Will Not Hasten To Improve Economic Relations With Germany

(International News Service) WASHINGTON, Nov. 26.—A sharp warning from Secretary of State Hull that the United States will not hasten to improve its economic relations with Germany so long as that nation discriminates against American creditors today was in the hands of the German government.

This warning was contained in a new note of protest against the German government's action in entering into a new agreement with other countries in which other foreign creditors of Germany were granted more favorable treatment than American bondholders.

The new American protest and warning was designed to prompt the German government to make full payment to American bondholders on the Young plan payments which become due December 1.

Highland Church Pageant Sunday

Preliminary to the Thanksgiving holiday and preparatory to the thank offering service a pageant "When Money Talks" was presented Sunday evening in Highland U. P. church.

The pageant was directed by Miss Elizabeth Milholland and Dr. T. J. McFate.

Those in the cast were Isabel Ralph, Dorothy Blinn, Howard Rumbaugh, Jim Marshall, Charlotte Withers, Gertrude Graham, Tenoy McFate, Thelma Merrilless, Bertha Dodds, Helen Allen, Mrs. Irvine Ralph, Helen Baldwin, Betty McGee, Gerald Emery, Elizabeth Richardson, Frank Baldwin, Helen Wilson, Clarence Rutherford, Katherine McGrath, Phyllis Elder, Jean Allen, Dorothy McClung, Jeannette Vogan, Marjory Blinn, Mrs. James Vogan, Mrs. Glenn Throop, Mrs. William Klee, Norma Nixon, Jack Nixon, Joe Vogan and Margaret Graham.

The quartet included Miss Bess Allen, Mrs. John Rodgers, the Rev. D. L. Ferguson and Richard Johns.

Primitive Church Services Attract

Sunday night a large congregation that filled the auditorium of the Primitive Methodist church heard Evangelist C. M. Dunaway deliver a powerful sermon on "Neglecting a Great Salvation."

The church was well filled when the hour for service arrived and the congregation joined heartily in the singing. Mrs. Davis and Miss Lewis sang "Yes, I Know" and Rev. Dunaway's sermon followed. The climax of the discourse was forceful as the preacher portrayed the dangers of neglect. As the invitation was given several responded. Services will continue nightly through this week.

Observe Thanks For Health Day Here This Week

Event Will Be Observed In Schools Of City And County Wednesday

PROGRAMS WILL BE SIGNIFICANT

Another year has rolled around, and the observance of thanks for health day is near at hand. This day, sponsored by the Pennsylvania Tuberculosis Society, is being observed in all city, county and parochial schools throughout the state on Wednesday, Nov. 28.

Most people, who enjoy good health, take this as a matter of course and are unmindful of how thankful they should be for such a blessing.

Everyone should try to protect and safeguard his health as much as possible, but in cases where people

Appetite gone?

A simple thing, perhaps...yet a very serious one, resulting in loss of strength...body weakness...and possibly many other ills. So why not check-up and snap back to the zest of eating and well being. You will find S.S.S. a great, scientifically-tested tonic—not just a so-called tonic, but one specially designed to stimulate gastric secretions and also having the mineral elements so very, very necessary in rebuilding the oxygen-carrying hemoglobin of the blood to enable you to "carry on." Do try it. Unless your case is exceptional, you should soon enjoy again the satisfaction of appetizing food and good digestion...sound sleep...and renewed strength. Remember, "S.S.S. makes you feel like yourself again."

Do not be misled by the efforts of a few unethical dealers who may suggest substitutes. You have a right to insist that S.S.S. be supplied you on request. Its long years of experience is your guarantee of satisfaction.

do not, the Lawrence County Anti-Tuberculosis Society tries to do it for them. They are trying to prevent tuberculosis in Lawrence county by education, medical and nursing service, tuberculosis clinics, providing milk for tuberculosis patients and undernourished children, assisting with tuberculin tests in the schools, providing X-rays for chest cases, furnishing nursing service at the well baby clinics, providing transportation and clothing for those going to state tuberculosis sanatoria, who are unable to provide for themselves, and assisting in financing medical research in tuberculosis work through the National Tuberculosis Association.

The Christmas seal and its part in combating tuberculosis, which is the greatest enemy of healthy childhood, will be the theme of "Thanks for Health Day" programs. Tuberculosis is the greatest cause of death, except for accidents, among school children. In the age group 15 to 24 there young women die of tuberculosis to every two young men, while one out of four deaths among young women between 15 and 30 years is from the same cause.

Three Weeks Of Revivals Opened At Local Church

Large Crowd Hears Opening Sermon Of Rev. Whitecotton At Wesleyan Church

Rev. Jesse Whitecotton, of Marietta, Ind., a widely known evangelist, opened on Sunday revival services which will continue through December 16 at the Wesleyan Methodist church, located on Lyndal St. Several helpful selections of song were offered previous to the main address which Rev. Whitecotton delivered.

Elmer Welker's Sunday school class members all joined in a hymn. Rev. Whitecotton's interesting and completely absorbing theme was "O Lord Give Us Help, For the God-Man Ceaseless." He exhorted his congregation to love the Creator and in the same motion to sharply define their inordinate love for the mere creature.

Rev. Robert Swauger, pastor, is assisting Rev. Whitecotton in the three weeks of revival campaign.

Large crowds filled the church both morning and evening Sunday. Services will continue tonight at 7:30 o'clock.

AROUND CITY HALL

Police chronology for 48 hours ending at 3:30 p. m. November 25: 19 arrests; drunkenness and fighting two, complaint of wife, one; disorderly conduct, three; drunkenness, four; traffic violations, seven; speeding, one, and committing a nuisance, one.

Indications are that city police will now turn their attention to thieves who have been entering private garages and stealing wheel tools and gasoline from cars. The latest report of theft to be received by the police came from Joe Walker of 244 Smithfield street, who complained that the thieves not only stole two wheels from a car, but also stole the crank. Other reports of gasoline having been drained from cars in private garages also has been received recently.

Michael Kock, 427 Galbreath avenue, had a de luxe 1931 model bicycle Friday night, but it was missing from his home Saturday morning, according to a report made to police. Officers hope to locate the bicycle, which is painted black and

Kill that COLD!

Don't Merely Coddle It with Half-Way Measures!

A cold is nothing to trifle with! It may end seriously. A cold, being an internal infection, calls for an internal treatment. It also calls for a COLD remedy and not something good for a number of other things as well.

Croves' Laxative Bromo Quinine is what a cold requires. It is expressly a cold remedy. It is direct and internal—and it does the four things necessary. It opens the bowels, combats the cold germs and fever in the system, relieves the headache and gummy feeling and tones and fortifies the entire system. Anything less than that is taking chances with a cold. Croves' Laxative Bromo Quinine is sold by all druggists, 30c and 50c. Accept no substitute.

has a flat rim. Not many bicycles have been stolen during the past few weeks. About a year ago members of a gang of boys who made a practice of bicycle stealing were arrested and held for court.

There was dancing in all of the beer places where there are dance floors Saturday night, and indications point to the majority of the proprietors continuing to permit patrons to dance. Council has not yet acted in regard to the law which calls for an annual license fee of $15.00 and a permit charge of $1.00 for each day a dance is held. It is probable that when the matter does receive councilmanic action a compromise resolution will be passed. Some of the proprietors claim they cannot afford to pay several hundred dollars annually to allow patrons the privilege of dancing.

For the first time in many years all of the clubs which dispense beer were closed to the beer trade yesterday. In fact, the situation Sunday was far different than in the days when the Prohibition law was in effect. In those days it was no difficult problem for club members to obtain their home-brew, but yesterday they could not obtain legal beer. And, according to Chief of Police John P. Haven, they will stay closed on Sunday so far as beer is concerned, until the law provides that beer can be sold on Sunday. "Should M. P. Sarko, liquor enforcement agent here, want assistance, he can secure it from this office," the chief declared today.

Two boys on a bicycle in Highland avenue, near Norwood avenue, escaped possible death last night due to the presence of mind of an autoist who was driving north at 8 o'clock. The bicyclists were traveling south against traffic. The autoist swerved his machine into the middle of the street to avoid striking the boys and the bicycle. The latter did not carry a light. Under the law bicycles and other kind of vehicles are supposed to have a light.

You will find S.S.S. a great, scientifically-tested tonic—not just a so-called tonic, but one specially designed to stimulate gastric secretions and also having the mineral elements so very, very necessary in rebuilding the oxygen-carrying hemo-globin of the blood to enable you to "carry on." Do try it. Unless your case is exceptional, you should soon enjoy again the satisfaction of appetizing food and good digestion...sound sleep...and renewed strength. Remember, "S.S.S. makes you feel like yourself again."

Do not be misled by the efforts of a few unscrupulous dealers who may suggest substitutes. You have a right to insist that S.S.S. be supplied you on request. Its long years of preference is your guarantee of satisfaction.

do not, the Lawrence County Anti-Tuberculosis Society tries to do it for them. They are trying to prevent tuberculosis in Lawrence county by education, medical and nursing service, tuberculosis clinics, providing milk for tuberculosis patients and undernourished children, assisting with tuberculin tests in the schools, providing X-rays for chest cases, furnishing nursing service at the well baby clinics, providing transportation and clothing for those going to state tuberculosis sanatoria, who are unable to provide for themselves, and assisting in financing medical research in tuberculosis work through the National Tuberculosis Association.

The Christmas seal and its part in combating tuberculosis, which is the greatest enemy of healthy childhood, will be the theme of "Thanks for Health Day" programs. Tuberculosis is the greatest cause of death, except for accidents, among school children. In the age group 15 to 24 three young women die of tuberculosis to every two young men, while one out of four deaths among young women between 15 and 30 years is from the same cause.

Three Weeks Of Revivals Opened At Local Church

Large Crowd Hears Opening Sermon Of Rev. Whitecotton At Wesleyan Church

Rev. Jesse Whitecotton, of Maran, Ind., a widely known evangelist opened on Sunday revival services which will continue through December 16 at the Wesleyan Methodist church, located on Lyndal St.

Several helpful selections of song were offered previous to the main address which Rev. Whitecotton delivered.

Elmer Welker's Sunday school class members all joined in a hymn. Rev. Whitecotton's interesting and completely absorbing theme was "O Lord Give Us Help, For the God of Man Ceaseth." He exhorted his congregation to love the Creator and in the same motion to sharply define their inordinate love for the more creature.

Rev. Robert Swauger, pastor, is assisting Rev. Whitecotton in the three weeks of revival campaign.

Police chronology for 48 hours ending at 3:30 p. m. November 25: 19 arrests; drunkenness and fighting, two; complaint of wife, one; disorderly conduct, three; drunkenness, four; traffic violations, seven; speeding, one, and committing a nuisance, one.

Indications are that city police will now turn their attention to thieves who have been entering private garages and stealing wheels, tools and gasoline from cars. The latest report of theft to be received by the police came from Joe Walzer of 244 Smithfield street, who complained that the thieves not only stole two wheels from a car, but also stole the crank. Other reports of gasoline having been drained from cars in private garages also has been received recently.

Kill that COLD!

Don't Merely Coddle It with Half-Way Measures!

A cold is nothing to trifle with! It may end seriously. A cold, being an internal infection, calls for an internal remedy. It also calls for a COLD remedy and not something good for a number of other things as well.

Groves Laxative Bromo Quinine is what a cold requires. It is expressly a cold remedy. It is direct and internal—and it does the four things necessary. It opens the bowels, combats the cold germs and fever in the system, relieves the headache and grippiness feeling and tones and fortifies the entire system. Anything less than that is taking chances with a cold. Groves Laxative Bromo Quinine is sold by all druggists, 30c and 50c. Accept no substitute.

has a flat rim. Not many bicycles have been stolen during the past few weeks. About a year ago members of a gang of boys who made a practice of bicycle stealing were arrested and held for court.

There was dancing in all of the beer places where there are dance floors Saturday night, and indications point to the majority of the proprietors continuing to permit patrons to dance. Council has not yet acted in regard to the law which calls for an annual license fee of $15.00 and a permit charge of $1.00 for each day a dance is held. It is probable that when the matter does receive councilmanic action a compromise resolution will be passed. Some of the proprietors claim they cannot afford to pay several hundred dollars annually to allow patrons the privilege of dancing.

For the first time in many years all of the clubs which dispense beer were closed to the beer trade yesterday. In fact, the situation Sunday was far different than in the days when the Prohibition law was in effect. In those days it was no difficult problem for club members to obtain their home-brew, but yesterday they could not obtain legalized beer. And, according to Chief of Police John F. Haven, they will stay closed on Sunday so far as beer is concerned, until the law provides that beer can be sold on Sunday. "Should M. P. Sarko, liquor enforcement agent here, want assistance, he can secure it from this office," the chief declared today.

Two boys on a bicycle in Highland avenue, near Norwood avenue, escaped possible death last night due to the presence of mind of an autoist who was driving north at 8 o'clock. The bicyclists were traveling south against traffic. The autoist swerved his machine into the middle of the street to avoid striking the boys and the bicycle. The latter did not carry a light. Under the law bicycles and other kind of vehicles are supposed to have a light.

RWD Project Has Been Approved And Work Will Get Under Way Today

WILL INCLUDE LATE HISTORY

Through the interest of Capt. Harvey G. Blintrim, commander of Troop F, 103rd Cavalry, and RWD project has been approved making it possible to have a military history of Lawrence county of the late war organizations compiled.

The history will start with the organization of Troop F, in 1904, and will include the records of the men who served on the Mexican border and the World War.

The allotment for the project is such that it will be possible to have a most complete record of the World War veterans residing in the county included in this history.

In addition to the history of all the men residing in the county, who served during the World War, and with Troop F, prior to that time, the history will include information on military documents, diaries, etc. from the Revolutionary war on up to the present date, where such documents are located and the owners. It will also list collections of war relics, and the like.

The work will be carried out under the supervision of Frank E. Patterson, staff engineer in charge of the non-manual labor division of the local works division of the State Emergency Relief Board.

Headquarters will be established in the Legion Home, from whence a staff of ex-service men will gather the information desired.

GULF NO-NOX ETHYL

GASOLINE

with 6 points** of superiority and at NO INCREASE IN COST

IF YOU wanted the very best motor fuel today that money could buy . . . What grade would you ask for? . . . Where would you go to get it?

To answer both of these vital questions for the owners of new and old automobiles, Gulf announces No-Nox Ethyl Aviation Grade Gasoline available today at Gulf stations and dealers at no increase in cost!

Almost every one knows that there has always been an especially fine grade of gasoline for airplanes . . . but up until now that grade has never been available to motorists with high compression ratio motor cars. Now it is . . . Gulf No-Nox Ethyl Aviation Grade Gasoline!

* WHAT IS AVIATION GRADE?

Gulf No-Nox Aviation grade is the finest motor car fuel available, regardless of price. Its high octane rating has been further increased. Its distillation characteristics conform to those of United States government specifications for aviation gasoline.

** WHAT ARE THE SIX POINTS OF SUPERIORITY?

1. Quicker starting
2. Quicker warming up
3. Better acceleration
4. Less crankcase dilution
5. More available power
6. Increased anti-knock properties

This new Gulf No-Nox Ethyl Aviation Grade Gasoline will give you quicker starting on cold mornings because it is more volatile. It will warm up your engine faster . . . give you more available power . . . get you away faster in traffic . . . give you more anti-knock power on hills . . . and more economy for city driving!

It is an ideal motor fuel for winter . . . and there is no increase in cost.

Simply look for the "Sign of the Gulf Orange Disc", identify it, drive it and say: "Fill up my tank with that new No-Nox Ethyl Aviation Grade Gasoline."

You may not be able to fly with it in your motor car, but you'll feel like you can!

TO ALL NEW CAR OWNERS, BOTH PRESENT AND FUTURE... NOTICE!!

From year to year during the past few years, the tendency in design of automobile motors has been towards higher compression ratios to a point where today a gasoline must have high anti-knock properties in order to give maximum fuel performance. The approach of winter weather makes necessary a further quality—quicker starting! Gulf's new No-Nox Ethyl Aviation Grade Gasoline combines both of these essential qualities with four** others to meet the present demands of motorists and approaching winter weather. Try it!

COMMENTS ON ARTICLES

Editor of The News, New Castle, Pa.

Dear Sir:

Your editorial in the News of November 22nd clearly states the fallacies in the present Recovery Administration. It is directed wholly at methods and not at morals. As you say in the title, "Men more responsible than system." This is the fallacy of all reforms and reformers and the reason why they wholly fail to accomplish the desired ends. No reformer proposes to first reform himself. It is toward his neighbors that his whole efforts are directed. May I also say a word in regard to the syndicate articles by Leslie Elchei. These articles follow the usual tactics of all Socialists in America, that is, by boring from within and indirectly attacking our social system. Nothing can illustrate this better than Mr. Elchei's article in the News of November 22nd. Until several months ago,

CREOMULSION

Your own doctor is authorized to cheerfully refund your money on the spot if you are not relieved by Creomulsion.

COUGHS

Mr. Elchei was continually praising the principle as advocated by Raymond Moley. Now that Mr. Moley is apparently swinging to the right, Mr. Elchei is pursuing his usual policy of indirectly attacking Mr. Moley and thus showing his opposition of any swing to the right by the Administration.

All the articles by Mr. Elchei indirectly attacking our present social system and by innuendos and other under hand methods is preaching the doctrine of Marxian Socialism.

Yours very truly,

COMMENTS ON ARTICLES

Editor of The News.

New Castle, Pa.

Dear Sir:

Your editorial in the News of November 22nd clearly states the fallacies in the present Recovery Administration. It is directed wholly at methods and not at morals. As you say in the title, "Men more responsible than systems." This is the fallacy of all reformers and reformers and the reason why they wholly fail to accomplish the desired ends. No reformer proposes to first reform himself. It is toward his neighbors that his whole efforts are directed. These articles follow the usual tactics of all Socialists in America, that is, by boring from within and indirectly attacking our social system. Nothing can illustrate this better than Mr. Eichel's article in the News of November 22nd. Until several months ago,

Mr. Eichel was continually praising the principle as advocated by Raymond Moley. Now that Mr. Moley is apparently swinging to the right, Mr. Eichel is pursuing his usual policy of indirectly attacking Mr. Moley and thus showing his opposition of any swing to the right by the Administration.

All the articles by Mr. Eichel indirectly attacking our present social system and by innuendos and other under hand methods is preaching the doctrine of Marxian Socialism.

Yours very truly,

F. M. UNDERWOOD

BIRTHDAY PARTY

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Mathe Jenkins was the scene of a party held in honor of the tenth birthday of their granddaughter, Betty Marie Wherry. Games were the chief diversion, while Misses Cecil Grandey and Florence Jenkins, nieces of the honored one, furnished several musical numbers on guitar and mandolin. A dainty lunch was served at an early hour with a color scheme of pink and green prevailing, the centerpiece being a beautifully decorated birthday cake. The honor guest was the recipient of many pretty and practical gifts.

Observe Thanks For Health Day Here This Week

Event Will Be Observed In Schools Of City And County Wednesday

PROGRAMS WILL BE SIGNIFICANT

Another year has rolled around, and the observance of thanks for health day is now at hand. This day, sponsored by the Pennsylvania Tuberculosis Society, is being observed in all city, county and parochial schools throughout the state on Wednesday, Nov. 28.

Most people, who enjoy good health, take this as a matter of course and are unmindful of how thankful they should be for such a blessing.

Everyone should try to protect and safeguard his health as much as possible, but in cases where people

Appetite gone?

A simple thing, perhaps...yet a very serious one, resulting in loss of strength...body weakness...and possibly many other ills. So why not check-up and snap back to the zest of eating and well being. You will find S.S.S. a great, scientifically-tested tonic—not just a so-called tonic, but one especially designed to stimulate gastric secretions and also having the mineral elements so very, very necessary in rebuilding the oxygen-carrying hemo-globin of the blood to enable you to "carry on." Do try it. Unless your case is exceptional, you should soon enjoy again the satisfaction of appetizing food and good digestion...sound sleep...and renewed strength. Remember, "S.S.S. makes you feel like yourself again."

Do not be misled by the efforts of a few unscrupulous dealers who may suggest substitutes. You have a right to insist that S.S.S. be supplied you on request. Its long years of preference is your guarantee of satisfaction.

do not, the Lawrence County Anti-Tuberculosis Society tries to do it for them. They are trying to prevent tuberculosis in Lawrence county by education, medical and nursing service, tuberculosis clinics, providing milk for tuberculosis patients and undernourished children, assisting with tuberculosis tests in the schools, providing X-rays for chest cases, furnishing nursing service at the well baby clinics, providing transportation and clothing for those going to state tuberculosis sanatoria, who are unable to provide for themselves, and assisting in financing medical research in tuberculosis work through the National Tuberculosis Association.

The Christmas seal and its part in combating tuberculosis, which is the greatest enemy of healthy childhood, will be the theme of "Thanks for Health Day" programs. Tuberculosis is the greatest cause of death, except for accidents, among school children. In the age group 15 to 24 three young women die of tuberculosis to every two young men, while one out of four deaths among young women between 15 and 30 years is from the same cause.

Three Weeks Of Revivals Opened At Local Church

Large Crowd Hears Opening Sermon Of Rev. Whitecotton At Wesleyan Church

Rev. Jesse Whitecotton, of Marion, Ind., a widely known evangelist, opened on Sunday revival services which will continue through December 16 at the Wesleyan Methodist church, located on Lyndal St.

Several helpful selections of songs were offered previous to the main address which Rev. Whitecotton delivered.

Elmer Welker's Sunday school class members all joined in a hymn. Rev. Whitecotton's interesting and completely absorbing theme was "O Lord Give Us Help For the Godly Man Ceaseth." He exhorted his congregation to love the Creator and in the same motion to sharply define their inordinate love for the mere creature.

Rev. Robert Swanger, pastor, is assisting Rev. Whitecotton in the three weeks of revival campaign. Large crowds filled the church morning and evening. Sunday Services will continue tonight at 7:30 o'clock.

AROUND CITY HALL

Police chronology for 48 hours ending at 3:30 p. m. November 25: 19 arrests; drunkenness and fighting, two; complaint of wife, one; disorderly conduct, three; drunkenness, four; traffic violations, seven; speeding, one, and committing a nuisance, one.

Indications are that city police will now turn their attention to thieves who have been entering private garages and stealing wheels, tools and gasoline from cars. The latest report of theft to be received by the police came from Joe Walzer of 244 Smithfield street, who complained that the thieves not only stole two wheels from a car, but also stole the crank. Other reports of gasoline having been drained from cars in private garages also have been received recently.

Michael Kock, 427 Galbreath avenue, had a de luxe 1931 model bicycle Friday night, but it was missing from his home Saturday morning, according to a report made to police. Officers hope to locate the bicycle, which is painted black and

Kill that COLD!

Don't Merely Coddle It with Half-Way Measures!

A cold is nothing to trifle with! It may end seriously. A cold, being an internal infection, calls for an internal treatment. It also calls for a COLD remedy and not something good for a number of other things as well.

Groves Laxative Bromo Quinine is what a cold requires. It is expressly a cold remedy. It is direct and internal—and it does the four things necessary. It opens the bowels, combats the cold germs and fever in the system, relieves the headache and grippiness feeling and tones and fortifies the entire system. Anything less than that is taking chances with a cold. Groves Laxative Bromo Quinine is sold by all druggists, 30c and 50c. Accept no substitute.

has a flat rim. Not many bicycles have been stolen during the past few weeks. About a year ago members of a gang of boys who made a practice of bicycle stealing were arrested and held for court.

There was dancing in all of the beer places where there are dance floors Saturday night, and indications point to the majority of the proprietors continuing to permit patrons to dance. Council has not yet acted in regard to the law which calls for an annual license fee of $15.00 and a permit charge of $1.00 for each day a dance is held. It is probable that when the matter does come before council action a compromise resolution will be passed. Some of the proprietors claim they cannot afford to pay several hundred dollars annually to allow patrons the privilege of dancing.

For the first time in many years all of the clubs which dispense beer were closed to the beer trade yesterday. In fact, the situation Sunday was far different than in the days when the Prohibition law was in effect. In those days it was no difficult problem for club members to obtain their home-brew, but yesterday they could not obtain legal beer. And, according to Chief of Police John T. Haven, they will stay closed on Sunday so far as beer is concerned, until the law provides that beer can be sold on Sunday. "Should M. P. Sarko, liquor enforcement agent here, want assistance, he can secure it from this office," the chief declared today.

Two boys on a bicycle in Highland avenue, near Norwood avenue, escaped possible death last night due to the presence of mind of an autoist who was driving north at 8 o'clock. The bicyclists were traveling south against traffic. The autoist swerved his machine into the middle of the street to avoid striking the boys and the bicycle. The latter did not carry a light. Under the law bicycles and other kind of vehicles are supposed to have a light.

Mechanics Welcome State Officer Here

Castle Council Host To 91st District Group; Old Members Attend

A gala reception for their state vice counselor, Attorney G. K. Herrington, Pittsburgh, marked a recent meeting of the members of Castle Council, No. 365, Junior Order of United American Mechanics, when they played host to the orders 91st district of Pennsylvania in their rooms in McGowan hall.

New Castle, Sharon, Oil City, Franklin, and Greenville members came to join the New Castle council to hear Herrington speak on the work of the organization and to tell them that "your organization is forging rapidly ahead." He reported that 27 new councils have been organized in Pennsylvania during the past two years.

Other visitors from the Pittsburgh district were Parker Lewis, member of the state judiciary; John K.

Wright, member of the state credential committee, Parker Everett, president of the 84th district, and several other state and district officers.

Two members of the local council who have been members of the organization for over 47 years, Elmer C. Snyder and William C. Hays won applause as they were introduced.

On the committee for the evening celebration were Frank A. Schotstrom, Ed Mitchell, James C. Fox, William Runkle and Walter H. Palmer. The latter officiated as chairman of the meeting. Music and a lunch following the program were other features.

POLICE GET REPORT WEISS IS SEEN ALIVE

Anonymous Tip Received In Case

Philadelphia Kidnaping Hunt Is Spurred Anew By Latest Reports

OFFICIALS BELIEVE WEISS STILL ALIVE

(International News Service)
PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 26.—Spurred by an anonymous tip informing them that William "Bill" Weiss was seen alive last Friday, department of justice agents and police here today redoubled their efforts to solve the mysterious kidnaping of the so-called "master-mind" racketeer. After receiving a telephone call at headquarters the federal agents dashed into Delaware county and searched a number of houses. Harvey said the telephone call was made by a man who said he had seen Weiss and several other men entering a house on Middletown road near Elwyn, Delaware county, last Friday. The agents went to the house, searched it, then visited the towns of Glenn Mills, Lenni and Chester Heights. This newest development indicated the investigating officials clung to the belief Weiss is still alive, although failure of his kidnapers to continue negotiations for payment of the $100,000 ransom demanded pointed to the possibility he had been slain. Weiss was kidnaped in front of his pretentious Overbrook Hills mansion last October 26.

Two Pittsburgh Clubs Pay Fines

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Nov. 26.—Proprietors of two north side clubs who failed to heed the Saturday midnight curfew established by Public Safety Director A. Marshall Bell were paying fines of $50 today on charges of being proprietors of disorderly houses.

Eighty merry-makers in the night spots were arrested when police raiding parties swarmed down on the clubs. All were released at magistrate's hearings a few hours later.

Stamp Club Will Meet This Evening

Driver Found Guilty By Sunday Verdict

FRANKLIN, Pa., Nov. 26.—Out nearly 15 hours, a jury of seven men and five women returned a verdict of guilty of involuntary manslaughter in the case against John Arden Wolfe, 36, driver of the car which struck and killed John W. Kohlman, 44, last August 18. The verdict was reached shortly before 6 o'clock Sunday morning, and Judge Lee A. McCracken of Oil City, aroused by telephone, notified here to receive it and dismiss the jury. It was the first time in anyone's memory a Venango jury verdict was received on Sunday.

All This May Mean War.

Why Must We Lean?

Notre Dame Won.

Old Age Knows Why.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE

THERE IS WAR TALK with a meaning in Europe. Hungary is filled with rage because Jugo-Slavia accuses Hungarians of plotting the murder of King Alexander. The Hungarians are fighters, but not murderers.

England and France are agitated by alleged news that Germany is arming with all possible speed, regardless of the Versailles treaty.

There are a dozen causes for war floating around Europe, and no particular cause for peace, except that no nation could well afford another war—Uncle Sam's pockets being tightly buttoned at present.

JAPAN WANTS it understood she will build as many warships as she chooses, and will repudiate the Washington conference at which this country, guided by the hand of England, like a little baby learning to walk, agreed to a certain ratio of warship construction.

Japan, as an independent nation, has a right to do as she chooses, subject, as all nations are, to consequences.

THE AMUSING PART is that the United States, according to British information, will "now seek an informal accord with Great Britain" on shipbuilding and other things. Why must Uncle Sam always lean against somebody or something? Can't he tell England and the rest of the world: "This is what I am going to do," and do it, instead of everlasting asking: "What do you think I ought to do?"

STANLEY BALDWIN, for England, says the United States must be part of any effort to insure the peace of the world, adding:

"Never will I sanction the British navy being used for the armed blockade of any power until I know what the United States is going to do."

That is much appreciated, but Americans hope the United States, if war comes, again, will know enough to mind its own business, keep its men and its money at home. It has had one lesson.

NOTRE DAME WON, and a forceful young Giant is their captain. Is he Irish, German, Scandinavian, North American? No, his name is Dominic Vaire, descendant of those that built Rome and conquered the world. Much power persists in that old Roman strain, even though it be Latin, not "Nordic."

IN BROOKLYN, N. Y., Miss Louisa Herle died, aged 79, having lived a long time in the basement of her house, most economically. After her death, more than half a million dollars in cash, bank accounts and bonds were found, hidden in the house, with old metal, broken furniture, odds and ends innumerable. The world wonders what comfort the old spinster could have taken in that fortune, living under outward conditions of misery.

The old will know what comfort she took. SHE KNEW THAT SHE WAS INDEPENDENT. She had no need to think poor house or potter's field. She wanted nothing, but she knew that if she did want it, she could have it.

Every day the old lady could say to herself:

"I have the money hidden and I can do as I choose at any moment."

That is a satisfaction in old age.

THIS WILL INTEREST businessmen and newspaper publishers. Mr. James C. Dayton, former publisher of the New York Evening Journal, and one of the ablest, most highly respected newspaper publishers in the United States, thought he wanted to retire, but wisely changed his mind. As business advisor and business ruler, he is associated with this writer in the direction of the New York Mirror. It is not necessary to tell those who know Mr. Dayton that what he advises is done.

ISAAC MOSLEY, a Negro convicted of murder, was executed yesterday in the electric chair at Columbus, O. His last request having been granted, he entered the death chamber dressed in a long white robe. He had begged permission to die "wearing a robe like Christ."

Reporters who saw him die say he seemed very proud of the long spotless gown, fastened around the waist with a black cord, as with a dignified gail, he walked to the chair. He evidently planned an impressive, solemn exit, but observing the crowd, he grinned.

Where do you suppose he went?

Could so simple a mind be held fully responsible for its acts?

A MAN AND A WOMAN were found dead in a queer way on one of the small Galapagos islands. Both died of starvation and thirst. They had baby clothes with them but no baby. Ecuador, owner of the Galapagos, will investigate the strange deaths.

Unusual deaths interest the living. The man who jumped into the mouth of a volcano, another who committed suicide because he lacked courage to fight a duel, one sentenced to death by the pressure of an elephant's foot on his head, a young Indian bride burning herself alive with the corpse of her old, useless husband, a Japanese of high honor who goes to the doorstep of one who has insulted him, and there rips open his own abdomen—these all interest us. We are like curious children, eager for something new. (Copyright, 1934, by King Syndicate, Inc. International Copyright and all Other Rights Reserved.)

Woman Spectator To Race Is Killed

MERCHANTVILLE, N. J., Nov. 26.—A woman spectator was killed on Sunday by a wheel which broke off a racing car during automobile races here.

A car driven by Cliff Hemmingway, Camden, threw a rear wheel which struck several persons and Mrs. Sarah Kait, 38, was knocked down. She died in a hospital from a fractured skull.

Until the close of the eighteenth century all nails were hand-made.

POLICE GET REPORT WEISS IS SEEN ALIVE

Anonymous Tip Received In Case

OFFICIALS BELIEVE WEISS STILL ALIVE

(International News Service)
PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 26.—Spurred by an anonymous tip informing them that William "Bill" Weiss was seen alive last Friday, department of justice agents and police here today redoubled their efforts to solve the mysterious kidnaping of the so-called "master-mind" racketeer. After receiving a telephone call at headquarters the federal agents dashed into Delaware county and searched a number of houses. Harvey said the telephone call was made by a man who said he had seen Weiss and several other men entering a house on Middletown road near Elwyn, Delaware county, last Friday. The agents went to the house, searched it, then visited the towns of Glenn Mills, Lenni and Chester Heights. This newest development indicated the investigating officials clung to the belief Weiss is still alive, although failure of his kidnapers to continue negotiations for payment of the $100,000 ransom demanded pointed to the possibility he had been slain. Weiss was kidnaped in front of his pretentious Overbrook Hills mansion last October 26.

Gather Data For Military History Here

RWD Project Has Been Approved And Work Will Get Under Way Today

WILL INCLUDE LATE HISTORY

Through the interest of Capt. Harvey G. Bintrim, commander of Troop F, 103rd Cavalry, and RWD project has been approved making it possible to have a military history of Lawrence county of the late war organizations compiled.

The history will start with the organization of Troop F, in 1904, and will include the records of the men who served on the Mexican border and the World War.

The allotment for the project is such that it will be possible to have a most complete record of the World War veterans residing in the county included in this history.

In addition to the history of all the men residing in the county, who served during the World War, and with Troop F, prior to that time, the history will include information on military documents, diaries, etc., from the Revolutionary war on up to the present date, where such documents are located and the owners. It will also list collections of war relics, and the like.

The work will be carried out under the supervision of Frank E. Patterson, staff engineer in charge of the non-manual labor division of the local works division of the State Emergency Relief Board.

Headquarters will be established in the Legion Home, from whence a staff of ex-service men will gather the information desired.

WANT TO LOOK YOUNG?

The secret of keeping young is to feel young—do this you must get at the cause—there's no need of having a sallow complexion—dark rings under your eyes—pimples—a bilious look in your face—dull eyes with no sparkle. Your doctor will tell you ninety per cent of all sickness comes from inactive bowels.

Dr. Edwards, a well-known physician in Ohio, perfected a vegetable compound as a substitute for calomel to act on the intestines, which he gave to his patients for years.

IF YOU wanted the very best motor fuel today that money could buy . . . What grade would you ask for? . . . Where would you go to get it?

To answer both of these vital questions for the owners of new and old automobiles, Gulf announces No-Nox Ethyl Aviation Grade Gasoline available today at Gulf stations and dealers at no increase in cost!

Almost every one knows that there has always been an especially fine grade of gasoline for airplanes . . . but up until now that grade has never been available to motorists with high compression ratio motor cars. Now it is . . . Gulf No-Nox Ethyl Aviation Grade Gasoline!

TO ALL NEW CAR OWNERS, BOTH PRESENT AND FUTURE . . . NOTICE!!
CHEVROLET AUTOMOBILES
"Specifications . . . compression ratio . . . master models . . . 5.45 to 1." Page 5, 1934
Chevrolet Repair Manual.

From year to year during the past few years, the tendency in design of automobile motors has been towards higher compression ratios to a point where today a gasoline must have high anti-knock properties in order to give maximum fuel performance. The approach of winter weather makes

GULF REFINING COMPANY
Makers of that GOOD GULF GASOLINE AND MOTOR OILS

*WHAT IS AVIATION GRADE?

Gulf No-Nox Aviation grade is the finest motor car fuel available, regardless of price. Its high octane rating has been further increased. Its distillation characteristics conform to those of United States government specifications for aviation gasoline.

**WHAT ARE THE SIX POINTS OF SUPERIORITY?

1. Quicker starting
2. Quicker warming up
3. Better acceleration
4. Less crankcase dilution
5. More available power
6. Increased anti-knock properties

This new Gulf No-Nox Ethyl Aviation Grade Gasoline will give you quicker starting on cold mornings because it is more volatile. It will warm up your engine faster . . . give you more available power . . . get you away faster in traffic . . . give you more anti-knock power on hills . . . and more economy for city driving!

It is an ideal motor fuel for winter . . . and there is no increase in cost.

Simply look for the "Sign of the Gulf Orange Disc", identify it, drive it and say: "Fill up my tank with that new No-Nox Ethyl Aviation Grade Gasoline."

You may not be able to fly with it in your motor car, but you'll feel like you can!

COMMENTS ON ARTICLES

Editor of The News.

New Castle, Pa.

Dear Sir:

Your editorial in the News of November 22nd clearly states the fallacies in the present Recovery Administration. It is directed wholly at methods and not at morals. As you say in the title, "Men more responsible than system." This is the fallacy of all reforms and reformers and the reason why they wholly fail to accomplish the desired ends. No reformer proposes to first reform himself. It is toward his neighbors that his whole efforts are directed.

May I also say a word in regard to the syndicate articles by Leslie Elchel. These articles follow the usual tactics of all Socialists in America, that is, by boring from within and indirectly attacking our social system. Nothing can illustrate this better than Mr. Elchel's article in the News of November 22nd. Until several months ago,

Mr. Elchel was continually praising the principle as advocated by Raymond Moley. Now that Mr. Moley is apparently swinging to the right, Mr. Elchel is pursuing his usual policy of indirectly attacking Mr. Moley and thus showing his opposition of any swing to the right by the Administration.

All the articles by Mr. Elchel indirectly attacking our present social system and by innuendos and other under hand methods is preaching the doctrine of Marxian Socialism.

Yours very truly,

E. M. UNDERWOOD

NO. 2 MINE

BIRTHDAY PARTY

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Mat-hew Jenkins was the scene of a party held in honor of the tenth birthday of their granddaughter, Betty Marie Wherry. Games were the chief diversion while Misses Cecil Grandey and Florence Jenkins, nieces of the honored one, furnished several musical numbers on guitar and mandolin. A dainty lunch was served at an early hour with a color scheme of pink and green prevailing. The centerpiece being a beautifully decorated birthday cake. The honor guest was the recipient of many pretty and practical gifts.

POLICE GET REPORT WEISS IS SEEN ALIVE

Anonymous Tip Received In Case

OFFICIALS BELIEVE WEISS STILL ALIVE

(International News Service) PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 26.—Spurred by an anonymous tip informing them that William "Bill" Weiss was seen alive last Friday, department of justice agents and police here today renewed their efforts to solve the mysterious kidnaping of the so-called "master-mind" racketeer. After receiving a telephone call at headquarters the federal agents dashed into Delaware county and searched a number of houses. Harvey said the telephone call was made by a man who said he had seen Weiss and several other men entering a house on Middletown road near Elwyn, Delaware county, last Friday. The agents went to this house, searched it, then visited the towns of Glenn Mills, Lenni and Chester Heights. This newest development indicated the investigating officials clung to the belief Weiss is still alive, although failure of his kidnapers to continue negotiations for payment of the $100,000 ransom demanded pointed to the possibility he had been slain. Weiss was kidnaped in front of his pretentious Overbrook Hills mansion last October 26.

Today

All This May Mean War.
Why Must We Lean?
Notre Dame Won.
Old Age Knows Why.
By ARTHUR BRISBANE

THERE IS WAR TALK with a meaning in Europe. Hungary is filled with rage because Jugo-Slavia accuses Hungarians of plotting the murder of King Alexander. The Hungarians are fighters, but not murderers.

England and France are agitated by alleged news that Germany is arming with all possible speed, regardless of the Versailles treaty. There are a dozen causes for war floating around Europe, and no particular cause for peace, except that no nation could well afford another war—Uncle Sam's pockets being tightly buttoned at present.

JAPAN WANTS it understood she will build as many warships as she chooses, and will repudiate the Washington conference at which this country, guided by the hand of England, like a little baby learning to walk, agreed to a certain ratio of warship construction. Japan, as an independent nation, has a right to do as she chooses.

subject, as all nations are, to consequences. THE AMUSING PART is that the United States, according to British information, will "now seek an informal accord with Great Britain" on shipbuilding and other things. Why must Uncle Sam always lean against somebody or something? Can't he tell England and the rest of the world: "This is what I am going to do," and do it, instead of everlastingly asking: "What do you think I ought to do?"

STANLEY BALDWIN, for England, says the United States must be part of any effort to insure the peace of the world, adding: "Never will I sanction the British navy being used for the armed blockade of any power until I know what the United States is going to do." That is much appreciated, but Americans hope the United States, if war comes, again, will know enough to mind its own business, keep its men and its money at home. It has had one lesson.

NOTRE DAME WON, and a forceful young Giant is their captain. Is he Irish, German, Scandinavian, North American? No, his name is Dominic Vaire, descendant of those that built Rome and conquered the world. Much power persists in that old Roman strain, even though it be Latin, not "Nordic".

IN BROOKLYN, N. Y., Miss Louisa Herle died, aged 79, having lived a long time in the basement of her house, more than half a million dollars in cash, bank accounts and bonds were found, hidden in the house, with old metal, broken furniture, odds and ends innumerable. The world wonders what comfort the old spinster could have taken in that fortune, living under outward conditions of misery. The old will know what comfort she took. SHE KNEW THAT SHE WAS INDEPENDENT. She had no need to think poor house or potter's field. She wanted nothing, but she knew that if she did want it, she could have it.

Every day the old lady could say to herself: "I have the money hidden and I can do as I choose at any moment."

THIS WILL INTEREST businessmen and newspaper publishers. Mr. James C. Dayton, former publisher of the New York Evening Journal, and one of the ablest, most highly respected newspaper publishers in the United States, thought he wanted to retire, but wisely changed his mind. As business advisor and business ruler, he is associated with this writer in the direction of the New York Mirror. It is not necessary to tell those who know Mr. Dayton that what he advises is done.

ISAAC MOSLEY, a Negro convicted of murder, was executed yesterday in the electric chair at Columbus, O. His last request having been granted, he entered the death chamber dressed in a long white robe. He had begged permission to die "wearing a robe like Christ." Reporters who saw him die say he seemed very proud of the long spotted gown, fastened around the waist with a black cord, as with a dignified gait, he walked to the chair. He evidently planned an impressive, solemn exit, but observing the crowd, he grinned.

Where do you suppose he went?

Could so simple a mind be held fully responsible for its acts?

A MAN AND A WOMAN were found dead in a queer way on one of the small Galapagos islands. Both died of starvation and thirst. They had baby clothes with them but no baby. Ecuador, owner of the Galapagos, will investigate the strange deaths.

Unusual deaths interest the living. The man who jumped into the mouth of a volcano, another who committed suicide because he lacked courage to fight a duel, one sentenced to death by the pressure of an elephant's foot on his head, a young Indian bride burning herself alive with the corpse of her old, useless husband, a Japanese of high honor who goes to the doorstep of one who has insulted him, and there rips open his own abdomen—these all interest us. We are like curious children, eager for something new. (Copyright, 1934, by King Syndicate, Inc. International Copyright and All Other Rights Reserved.)

Woman Spectator To Race Is Killed

MERCHANTVILLE, N. J., Nov. 26.—A woman spectator was killed on Sunday by a wheel which broke off a racing car during automobile races here. A car driven by Cliff Hemmingsway, Camden, threw a rear wheel which struck several persons and Mrs. Sarah Kalt, 38, was knocked down. She died in a hospital from a fractured skull.

Until the close of the eighteenth century all nails were hand-made.

Power Interests To Battle T. V. A.

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—Terming the Tennessee Valley authority and similar projects unconstitutional, the electric power interests of the nation today inaugurated open, organized warfare against President Roosevelt's power program, featuring construction of vast power plants whose product would be sold at cheap rates to consumers in large areas.

The Edison Electric Institute, an association representing 80 per cent of the country's electric power interests, scored the administration's power program as unfair and threatened to appeal to the courts. Its attack followed the president's statement that in every state in the nation, communities would follow the example of Tupelo, Miss., the first city to contract for all its power from TVA.

The institute's opposition was voiced by Thomas N. McCarter, president of the institute and head of the public service corporation of New Jersey. McCarter said he had obtained from Newton D. Baker, former secretary of war, and James M. Beck, former solicitor general a joint legal opinion declaring the TVA legislation to be "palpably unconstitutional."

Conspiracy Shown In "Fake" Robbery

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Nov. 25.—Reported to have confessed that he conspired with another man to "pull a fake robbery," Fred Miller, 37, Ingram, was held on a county detention here today.

According to detectives, $450 was taken from the store Saturday night.

SAYS INDO-VIN IS MARVELOUS

All His Misery Has Vanished; Back Pains And Nervousness

Mr. Raymond Meyers of 445 Copeland Ave., New Kensington, Pa., is still another former victim of kidney trouble and "nerves" who is publicly praising the new, scientific medicine made from Nature's plants, known as Indo-Vin, which is now being introduced to the public daily here in New Castle at Eckerd's Drug Store.

Following is this widely known man's statement: "My kidneys had gotten into a weak and ailing condition," said Mr. Meyers. "I was always so stiff and sore in my back that when I got up in the mornings I could hardly take a step without simply flinching from the suffering. I always felt 'tagged out' and I never knew what it was to get a good night of rest, for my nerves were 'on edge' ALL THE TIME."

"I tried almost everything, but Indo-Vin was the only medicine I ever found that turned out to be what I needed. It drove the misery right out of my kidneys and all the pains in my back are gone. I can go to sleep and get a full night of rest. I always get up refreshed now, and have ten times the energy that I had before. This medicine is a 'wonder' and I gladly endorse it to all suffering people."

Indo-Vin is now being introduced to the public daily here in New Castle at Eckerd's Drug Store, and sold by every good druggist in all the nearby towns throughout this whole section.

Power Interests To Battle T. V. A.

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Nov. 26.—Terming the Tennessee Valley authority and similar projects unconstitutional, the electric power interests of the nation today inaugurated open, organized warfare against President Roosevelt's power program, featuring construction of vast power plants whose product would be sold at cheap rates to consumers in large areas.

The Edison Electric Institute, an association representing 80 per cent of the country's electric power interests, scored the administration's power program as unfair and threatened to appeal to the courts. Its attack followed the president's statement that in every state in the union, communities would follow the example of Tupelo, Miss., the first city to contract for all its power from TVA.

The institute's opposition was voiced by Thomas N. McCarter, president of the institute and head of the public service corporation of New Jersey. McCarter said he had obtained from Newton D. Baker, former secretary of war, and James M. Beck, former solicitor general, a joint opinion opinion declaring the TVA legislation to be "palpably unconstitutional."

Conspiracy Shown In "Fake" Robbery

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Nov. 26.—Reported to have confessed that he conspired with another man to "pull a fake robbery," Fred Miller, 37, Ingram, was held on a county detective detainer here today.

According to detectives, $450 was taken from the store Saturday night.

SAYS INDO-VIN IS MARVELOUS

All His Misery Has Vanished; Back Pains And Nervousness

Mr. Raymond Meyers of 445 Copland Ave., New Kensington, Pa., is still another former victim of kidney trouble and "nerves" who is publicly praising the new scientific medicine made from Nature's Plants, known as Indo-Vin, which is now being introduced to the public daily here in New Castle at Eckerd's Drug Store.

Following is this widely known man's statement: "My kidneys had gotten into a weak and ailing condition," said Mr. Meyers. "I was always so stiff and sore in my back that when I got up in the mornings I could hardly take a step without simply flinching from the suffering. I always felt 'tagged out' and I never knew what it was to get a good night of rest, for my nerves were 'on edge' ALL THE TIME."

"I tried almost everything, but Indo-Vin was the only medicine I ever found that turned out to be what I needed. It drove the misery right out of my kidneys and all the pains in my back are gone. I can go to sleep and get a full night of rest. I always get up refreshed now, and have ten times the energy that I had before. This medicine is a 'wonder' and I gladly endorse it to all suffering people."

Indo-Vin is now being introduced to the public daily here in New Castle at Eckerd's Drug Store, and sold by every good druggist in all the nearby towns throughout this whole section.

Dedicate Argo To Dean Turner At Westminster

MARY E. TURNER

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Nov. 26.—Dean Mary E. Turner has been designated by the staff of the Argo, junior class yearbook at Westminster College, as the recipient of the dedication of this year's volume of the book, Virginia Rumbaugh, Saxtonburg, editor-in-chief announces.

This year's annual, which will appear on the campus in May, will be printed in shades of brown, and will follow a Gothic theme consistent with the architecture of college buildings. Harvey Snyder, Bellevue, is business manager; and Ann Kenelhart, Pittsburgh, is advertising manager.

Shrine To Have Charity Program

Entertainment Will Be Presented In Pittsburgh Mosque This Week

New Castle Shriners have been invited to attend the unusual entertainment to be presented in Syria Mosque, Pittsburgh, on Wednesday and Thursday evenings, December 5 and 6, for the benefit of the Shrine's charity program.

Dr. J. Huber Wagner, is chairman of the program committee, which has arranged a diversified program which will include numbers by the leading musical, operatic, dramatic, and vaudeville artists of Pittsburgh, in addition to a feature movie and comedy film.

This entertainment is open to the public and reserved seats are being sold for the event.

LOCAL DRIVER LOSES LICENSE

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Nov. 26.—During the week ending November 21, the bureau of highway patrol and safety withdrew the cards of 253 drivers. Of this number 107 were revoked and 146 suspended. Withdrawals were 104 more than the preceding week. Operating privileges were restored to 68. Revocations this year to date total 2986 and suspensions 4032.

Drivers whose licenses were revoked included Sam DeFelice of New Castle. George I. Baker of Enon Valley had his license privileges suspended, while Frank Porter of New Castle, whose card had been suspended, had it restored.

Eagles Club Is Ransacked And Found On Fire

POLICE HOPE TO APPREHEND ROBBERS

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 26.—When the fire and smoke was cleared away in the Eagles club on Seventh street by the Ellwood City fire department at 2:45 o'clock this morning it was revealed that the place was completely ransacked.

Lieut. E. R. Hartman of the local police was attracted by the yelling of Lloyd Thomas on Seventh street, where he resides, and upon investigating discovered smoke issuing from the Eagles' club. Thomas resides across the street from it and had set up a hue and cry upon observing it. Hartman had the fire department notified. When the flames had been extinguished and the smoke had sufficiently cleared away, Lieut. Hartman with Officers Chester Young and K. M. Musser, found the grill room of the club in complete turmoil.

Upon closer examination they found the cash register and a vending machine broken open and the contents taken. A safe was also chiseled open and the valuables taken. The remainder of the contents were strewn on the floor.

The thieves gained entrance into the building by forcing a side door and another one leading into the grill room. Evidently it was the intent to cover up the crime by setting the building on fire. Fire Chief H. T. Plante stated that there was some difficulty in checking the flames, which had worked into the interior of the walls and floor. Local police made a complete canvass of the clubs and lodges in this vicinity, in case the fire had been started to distract attention from similar robberies. There was no evidence of such a situation. Damage to the building was estimated at $150.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Herman of Fombell and Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Callahan and daughter, Imogene, of Ellport, were Sunday guests at the home of Mrs. Herman's brother, Fred Knepp of Enon Valley.

Attempted Hold-up Frustrated Here

Shot Of Negro Bandit Just Misses Woman Passenger In Car Of Ellwood Man

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 26.—Local county and state police have increased their efforts to apprehend a tall negro bandit, who has been terrorizing this section with hold-ups.

At 12:35 a. m. Sunday, a negro endeavored to hold-up Hershel Tritt of Ninth street on the Ellwood-Warrenton road. Tritt was enroute to this city with a lady friend, when they observed a man flagging them down. Tritt slowed his car up and a tall colored man with a pistol in his hand jumped on the running board of the car and ordered Tritt to stop. Tritt instantly stepped on the gas. The thug raised his hand to fire, as Tritt ordered his passenger to duck and did likewise. The bullet just missed her. She was out on the forehead by flying glass as the bullet went through both windows. The negro was knocked loose as the driver increased the speed of his car.

Tritt immediately came to the local police station and made a report. The state highway patrol at Beaver Falls was notified and later conducted an investigation.

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 26.—One of the prettiest weddings of Thanksgiving week occurred this morning at 10:30 in the Italian B. V. M. church on Fourth street when Miss Jennie Tomei, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Tomei of Beaver avenue, and Samuel Sapienza, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Sapienza of Zelienople, were united in marriage by Rev. Fr. Vincent Galliano, in the presence of a large circle of relatives and friends.

The bride was charmingly attired in a stylish white satin gown with corresponding accessories and she carried a bouquet of calla lilies. Miss Virginia Sapienza was maid of honor and was attired in a blue satin gown. Bridesmaids were Misses Yolanda Ricci, Angelina Tomei and Julia Figurel, who were attractively attired in green, coral and yellow taffeta gowns.

James Carozza, Lewis Quazana and Fred Palermini, all of this city, served as ushers.

A wedding breakfast for the bride party and approximately 50 relatives and friends was given in the church basement following the congratulatory period.

Mr. and Mrs. Sapienza left this afternoon on a motor trip through New York state and upon their return home they will reside in Zelienople, where the former is associated with his father in the grocery business.

Is Unanimously Elected President Of Sportsmen Council, Division F At Oil City

NINE COUNTIES IN ORGANIZATION

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 26.—Burgess Judd C. Turner of Ellwood City, well known sportsman of the district, was given an honor Sunday afternoon at Oil City when he was unanimously elected as president of the Sportsmen Council, Division F. This organization consists of representatives of nine counties in the northwestern part of the state.

Burgess Turner was elected following the resignation of Dr. Sampson yesterday previous to this the former was director of Lawrence County and is the president of the Ellwood City Rod and Gun Club.

The organization at this time went on record as favoring a Game and Fish Commissioner for northwestern Pennsylvania, and unanimously approved Jared Rels of New Castle and Charles French of Ellwood City to the above respective commissions. These two would represent nearly 75,000 sportsmen of northwestern Pennsylvania. Mr. French is secretary of the local Rod and Gun Club.

Youth Injured In Peculiar Manner

Steel Bill File Penetrates Stomach Of Herbert Balter In Fall Saturday

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 26.—Herbert Balter, 16, of Pittsburgh Circle, Ellwood City, escaped a critical injury in a peculiar accident at the store of his father on Lawrence avenue Saturday afternoon.

In some manner young Balter had slipped and fell. He landed on a steel bill file, which penetrated his stomach several inches. The steel file had just missed a vital spot. The injury was not serious and he was discharged from the hospital Sunday.

Dinner, Shower For Mrs. Jack Sherling

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 26.—Mr. and Mrs. Jack Sherling (Miss Van Horn) were the guests of honor at a beautifully appointed dinner on Saturday evening, given by the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Sherling, at their home on the New Brighton road, in honor of the marriage of their son, which was an event of early November.

Yellow "mums" were effectively used in the decorations and covers were arranged for 12. The hostess was assisted in serving by Mrs. Lee Pat of New Castle.

After an informal social period the entire group attended a dance at Middle Lancaster, where Mr. Sherling is one of the musicians.

On Wednesday evening Mrs. J. A. Keefer entertained employees of their restaurant at a bridge party at their apartment in the Manos building in honor of Mrs. Sherling, who is employed there.

Three tables were in play during the evening and at the close of the games lovely prizes were awarded the winners. The hostess served a tasty luncheon.

The guest of honor was then presented with a collection of lovely and useful gifts and she responded in a charming manner.

Miss Sara Eiler Given Surprise

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 26.—When Miss Sara Eiler entered the Culp store on Saturday evening she was taken completely by surprise to find a circle of friends had gathered there for the purpose of making merry on the occasion of her fourteenth birthday anniversary.

The hours passed quickly and were kept merry with a wide variety of games, music and contests holding the attention of everyone. A delicious luncheon featuring the traditional birthday cake was served by Mrs. Jacob Culp assisted by Mrs. A. H. Long.

Before departing for home the guests, numbering twenty, presented the honor guest with a number of beautiful and useful gifts in memento of the happy affair.

Auto Of Local Man Is Stolen

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 26.—Local police received the report of a car owned by Edward Schweiger of Glen avenue, this city, stolen in Beaver Valley Sunday evening at 6 o'clock. It was a black 1931 Pontiac sedan with red wire wheels and a rear tire carrier. The car bore Pennsylvania license No. 73616.

The 180 year old grape vine at Cumberland Lodge, Windsor Great Park, England, bore nearly 800 bunches this year.

Great Amateur Fight Card At Shelby Tuesday

Nine Bout Card Is Arranged; Outstanding Amateurs Of District To Battle

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 26.—Shelby auditorium, Ellwood City, will be the mecca for the boxing fans of this territory Tuesday evening when the outstanding amateur pugilists in all divisions of this district will vie for honors. A card that cannot help but appeal to the competitive spirit of sportsmen has been arranged by Matchmaker Joe Latlano.

The show, which will probably be the last of the season, will begin promptly at 8:30. Leading amateurs in nine fast bouts or 27 rounds of boxing will hold the attention of the crowd throughout. If the last fight show here was any indication, Shelby auditorium will be filled to capacity tomorrow night. This whole section will be represented Tuesday by worthy boxers.

Winding up the splendid card of nine bouts will be the main one, between Joey Evans of Ellport, Western Pennsylvania golden glove champion and Sammy Angott of Washington, Pa., state featherweight champion. Angott had reached the semi-final in the Olympics three years ago. He will find a worthy opponent in Evans, who has beaten everything in sight in this territory.

Ray Atkinson of Ellport, golden glove champion, and Tommy Smith of Alliquippa will meet in the semi-final bout at 147 pounds. Other feature bouts will be between Cust Morini of Ellwood City and Al Harge, of Alliquippa at 136 pounds; Mickey Cull of Youngstown, O., eastern Ohio flyweight champion, and Plum Rush of Washington, Pa., Washington county champion; Tony Adams of New Castle vs. Bill Basso of Washington, Pa.; Kid Hunt of Beaver Falls, and Charles Arket of West Pittsburg.

Another interesting feature will be Ray Eberle of Alliquippa, who will be the announcer. Eberle is the man who announces all the fights in Motor Square Gardens, Pittsburgh, and has already handled bouts here.

Police Hold Nine As Result Of Raid

Local Police Drop In On Alleged Gambling Game Here On Sunday Night

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 26.—Nine men were taken to the local lock-up as a result of a raid by police about 8:15 Sunday night. This included the alleged proprietor, "Alabama" Rubino, and eight visitors.

Lieut. E. R. Hartman and Patrolman Chester Young surprised a group of men, when they dropped in on an alleged poker game at "Alabama's" place last night. The raid was indeed made in a clever manner and took the occupants completely unawares. The two policemen had gone to the side of the building, climbed a coal shed, and entered a high window on the first floor from where they dropped to the floor about 12 feet. The occupants were so completely surprised that they could not even attempt to flee. The police were able to confiscate cards and quantity of money in change. Others were said to have gotten away through the front door, when the police dropped to the floor. All arrested posted bond for a hearing to be given today.

Union Service Is Fine Success

Young People's Council Presents Play In First Presbyterian Church Sunday

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 26.—The union service of the Bell Memorial, First Methodist and First Presbyterian churches to support the Y. P. Council in the presentation of the play, "Babes in the Wood," which filled the auditorium of the First Presbyterian church.

The women of the Woman's Missionary Society of the First Presbyterian church were celebrating their annual praise and Thanksgiving service. A short devotional service was led by Mrs. W. H. Shields, assisted by Mrs. J. C. Thomas and Mrs. T. L. Haines. The offertory anthem was sung by a women's double quartet from the Margaret H. Pugh Class: Mesdames Frank Huffman, Floyd Frishkorn, Arthur Grandey, Edward McMillin, Donald Jones, J. C. Beagle, Robert Forbes, Edward Mackasek. The number was well sung and thoroughly enjoyed by all.

Miss Marjorie Streeter officiated at the organ and not only played the service, but also gave a short organ recital before the service which proved a treat to the many who were present for few minutes before the hour for the service. The offering was for the Council and to be used in their efforts for the A. M. E. church and for the boys and girls whom they make happy with their annual Christmas party. The offering was generous.

Babes in the Wood, presented by the following cast: Gordon Worth, an American missionary, Harold Burns, Virginia Worth, his wife, Jane Stevenson; Joan Worth, their daughter; Harriet Johnston; Mr. Ordway, an American newspaper man, Charles Rabberman; Mr. Fox, an American oil driller, Charles McCurdy; Bathena, a young Burness boy, Edward Cable; Ma Ma, Bathena's sister, Rosemary McCandless, Director. Mrs. Charles Rabberman. The cast proved an all star cast and deeply stirred the emotions of all present.

World Recovery Proposals Made

After Study Of Year Commission Recommends Six Major Proposals For Recovery

(International News Service) NEW YORK, Nov. 26.—In a report made after a year's study and hearings in many cities, the commission of inquiry into national policy in international economic relations today recommended to the United States government six major proposals designed to further world recovery and world peace by internal action in this country.

The commission, headed by Dr. Robert M. Hutchins, youthful president of the University of Chicago, urged the government to take as "rapid and dramatic action as possible" to reverse the trend toward economic isolation and to break down barriers to international trade.

Offer Proposals The report recommended the following major proposals: Adoption of political measures, such as immediate settlement of war debts, to relieve the distrust and tension now prevalent in the world. Removal of tariffs where no unemployment would result, and lowering of other tariffs subject to proper safeguards.

Announcement by the president that he does not intend to exercise his present powers to change the gold content of the dollar.

Granting by congress of wider powers to the tariff commission.

Freedom from governmental restrictions on foreign long-term private loans.

Abandonment at the earliest possible moment of all measures tending to restrict agricultural exports.

State Y. M. C. A. Sessions Open

Convention Under Way At Harrisburg—Business Meeting This Afternoon

(International News Service) HARRISBURG, Nov. 26.—With several hundred delegates in attendance, the 65th convention of the State Young Men's Christian Association of Pennsylvania opened here today.

Business of the state organization will be transacted today and the convention will close tonight with a banquet. Dr. John R. Mott, former International Y. M. C. A. secretary and now secretary for the World Missionary Alliance, will be the main speaker this evening.

Theodore Buchanan, of Mt. Lebanon, was elected president of the Y. M. C. A. state council last night. Other officers chosen were vice-president, Jay Davis, Greenville and secretary, George Douthett, Bellefonte.

A business session of the convention will be held this afternoon when expired terms of state committee will be filled. Consideration of a tentative budget for 1935 and proposals and reports from the sub-committees and discussions of general policies of state association work also will be before the convention.

ONLY TWO ARRESTS MADE ON SUNDAY

Only two arrests occurred from 1:45 a. m. Sunday morning until 4:20 p. m. the same day, according to police. One arrest was for violation of an auto traffic regulation and the other was on suspicion. In police court this morning the mayor after hearing the man's history, ordered that he be given breakfast before being turned into the street.

P. R. R. TRAINS COLLIDE

A Pennsylvania railroad fireman, O. W. Sipe, of near Wheatland, sustained slight cuts when his locomotive collided with the rear of a short New Castle bound freight-train at a short distance south of the Wheatland station on the Penn's E. & P. branch early today.

One car of the freight was derailed.

Chairman Named For Inauguration Of New Governor

(International News Service) HARRISBURG, Nov. 26.—Guy Swope, chairman, of the Dauphin County Democratic committee, today was named head of the general inauguration day committee which will plan the ceremonies January 15 including George H. Earle as the first Democratic governor of Pennsylvania in 40 years.

The appointment was made by State Chairman David L. Lawrence. Wendell P. C. Morgenthau, president of the Young Democratic clubs of Pennsylvania, will be chairman of the committee arranging the inaugural ball which will be held in the Zemo Mosque on the night of January 15.

Swope's appointment shattered a precedent of 40 years' standing by which a Dauphin county senator has been head of the inaugural committee. The last chairman was State Senator George L. Reed, of Harrisburg, a Republican.

The inaugural ball, which in the past has been held under the auspices of the 104th military cavalry, will be sponsored by the Democratic clubs of Pennsylvania. The profits of the affair will be given to the families of the five men killed in the Kelynes massacre on the night of November 5.

National Housing Act Modifying Is Needed, Revealed

(International News Service) PITTSBURGH, Nov. 26.—Modifying provisions in the national housing act must be made in order to insure functioning of national mortgage associations, Walter S. Schmidt, president-elect of the National Association of Real Estate Boards, declared here today.

Arriving for a meeting of the Pittsburgh real estate board, Schmidt disclosed that he had included this information in a letter to Federal Housing Administrator James A. Moffett.

According to Schmidt, provisions of the housing act affecting the mortgage associations cannot be carried out unless the government creates a central mortgage discount bank or guarantees the bonds issued against the mortgages purchased by the mortgage associations.

"The most a mortgage association could make would be 4 1/2 per cent," he said. "Their bonds call for four per cent interest. Certainly no one is going to put money into such bonds unless the government guarantees them."

Teachers Elect On December 7

Friday, December 7 has been set as the date of the annual election of officers for the local branch of the Pennsylvania State Educational Association. A general teachers meeting will be held in addition to the election of officers delegates will be elected for the annual state convention to be held in Harrisburg on December 26 and 27.

KITTANNING BOY LOSES HIS LEG

(International News Service) KITTANNING, Pa., Nov. 26.—Fifteen year old Bobby Duimire's football playing days were over today. Surgeons amputated his right leg below the knee yesterday—the leg he injured a week ago in a neighborhood football game—to save his life.

Blood clots formed following the injury, necessitating the operation. Bobby was the district's only seriously injured football victim this season.

Banks Of Nation Ask Roosevelt To Clarify Program

Would Have President Clarify Future Course Of Building Stimulation

(International News Service) WASHINGTON, Nov. 26.—Reduced to virtual state of abject confusion, the banks and vast credit organizations which have agreed to cooperate with the federal housing administration, today expected President Roosevelt to clarify the future course of his efforts to stimulate private building construction.

The confusion was precipitated last week by the announcement of Secretary of the Interior Ickes, as public works administrator, that he has recommended a gigantic low-cost housing construction program to be financed with PWA funds and be in competition with private capital.

This caused James A. Moffett, federal housing administrator, to state such a program would defeat the purpose of the housing act.

Council To View Scene Of Accident

Council met in city hall today and decided to journey to East Washington street near Lutton street for the purpose of making an examination relative to a claim for damages arising out of a recent auto accident. It was claimed by T. H. Hitchcock that his son was driving an auto and that a traffic sign was so low it struck and ruined the top of the auto. The council will decide whether or not the driver was guilty of contributory negligence. It cost $25.00 to repair the top of the auto. Hitchcock claims. Hitchcock said, "I know you gentlemen to be fair-minded and will give me justice."

Dental Talk Heard By Rotarians Today

The future of one of the world's greatest professions, dentistry, will be clouded with uncertainty so long as conditions that tend to lower profession's high standards persist. Dr. W. L. Beal told the Rotary club at luncheon in The Castleton today. He gave an interesting classification talk on "Dentistry."

Dr. Beal was introduced by Rotarian Delace Cole. Guests today included Assemblymen-elect W. J. Eroe, Jr. and James Kelso, Elmer Newton, New Wilmington, and W. Cannon, Jr. of Buffalo.

The club's attention to the New Wilmington club's "pancake supper" on December 10 was again announced.

Gloria Now Just a Bird in a Gilded Cage

Disclosure of complete text of decision of Judge John P. Carew declaring Gloria Vanderbilt, 10, "poor little rich girl," a ward of New York state, reveals that she must remain a virtual prisoner within a 30 mile area of New York, with her life largely confined to the home of her mother (right), Saturdays and Sundays, and the Harry Payne Whitney estate (left) and vicinity the rest of the week.

Eagles Club Is Ransacked And Found On Fire

POLICE HOPE TO APPREHEND ROBBERS

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 26.—When the fire and smoke was cleared away in the Eagles club on Seventh street by the Ellwood City fire department at 2:45 o'clock this morning it was revealed that the place was completely ransacked.

Lieut. E. R. Hartman of the local police was attracted by the yelling of Lloyd Thomas on Seventh street, where he resides, and upon investigating discovered smoke issuing from the Eagles club. Thomas resides across the street from it and had set up a hue and cry upon observing it. Lieut. Hartman had the fire department notified. When the flames had been extinguished and the smoke had sufficiently cleared away, Lieut. Hartman with Officers Chester Young and K. M. Musser, found the grill room of the club in complete turmoil.

Upon closer examination they found the cash register and a vending machine broken open and the contents taken. A safe was also chiseled open and the valuables taken. The remainder of the contents were strewn on the floor.

The thieves gained entrance into the building by forcing a side door and another one leading into the grill room. Evidently it was the intent to cover up the crime by setting the building on fire. Fire Chief H. T. Plante stated that there was some difficulty in checking the flames, which had worked into the interior of the walls and floor. Local police made a complete canvass of the clubs and lodges in this vicinity, in case the fire had been started to distract attention from similar robberies. There was no evidence of such a situation. Damage to the building was estimated at $150.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Herman of Pottsville and Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Gallaher and daughter, Imogene, of Ellport, were Sunday guests at the home of Mrs. Herman's brother, Fred Knepp of Enon Valley.

Attempted Hold-up Frustrated Here

Shot Of Negro Bandit Just Misses Woman Passenger In Car Of Ellwood Man

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 26.—Local, county, and state police have increased their efforts to apprehend a tall negro bandit, who has been terrorizing this section with hold-ups.

At 12:35 a. m. Sunday, a negro endeavored to hold-up Hershel Tritt of Ninth street on the Ellwood-Wampum road. Tritt was enroute to this city with a lady friend, when they observed a man flagging them down. Tritt slowed his car up and a tall colored man with a pistol in his hand jumped on the running board of the car and ordered Tritt to stop. Tritt instantly stepped on the gas. The thug raised his hand to fire, as Tritt ordered his passenger to duck and did likewise. The bullet just missed her. She was cut on the forehead by flying glass as the bullet went through both windows. The negro was knocked loose as the driver increased the speed of his car.

Tritt immediately came to the local police station and made a report. The state highway patrol at Beaver Falls was notified and later conducted an investigation.

Miss Jennie Tomei Weds Sam Sapienza

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 26.—One of the prettiest weddings of Thanksgiving week occurred this morning at 10:30 in the Italian B. V. M. church on Fourth street when Miss Jennie Tomei, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Tomei of Beaver avenue, and Samuel Sapienza, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Sapienza of Zelenople, were united in marriage by Rev. Fr. Vincent Galliano, in the presence of a large circle of relatives and friends.

The bride was charmingly attired in a stylish white satin gown with corresponding accessories and she carried a bouquet of calla lilies. Miss Virginia Sapienza was maid of honor and was attired in a blue satin gown. Bridesmaids were Miss Yolanda Ricci, Angelina Tomei and Julia Figurel, who were attractively attired in green, coral and yellow taffeta gowns.

James Carozza, Lewis Quazana and Fred Palermini, all of this city, served as ushers.

A wedding breakfast for the bridal party and approximately 50 relatives and friends was given in the church basement following the congratulatory period.

Mr. and Mrs. Sapienza left this afternoon on a motor trip through New York state and upon their return home they will reside in Zelenople, where the former is associated with his father in the grocery business.

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 26.—Shelby auditorium, Ellwood City, will be the mecca for the boxing fans of this territory Tuesday evening when the outstanding amateur pugilists in all divisions of this district will vie for honors. A card that cannot help but appeal to the competitive spirit of sportsmen has been arranged by Matchmaker Joe Lattano.

The show, which will probably be the last of the season, will begin promptly at 8:30. Leading amateurs in nine fast bouts or 27 rounds of boxing will hold the attention of the crowd throughout. If the last fight show here was any indication, Shelby auditorium will be filled to capacity tomorrow night. This whole section will be represented Tuesday by worthy boxers.

Winding up the splendid card of nine bouts will be the main event, between Joey Evans of Ellport, Western Pennsylvania golden glove champion and Sammy Angott of Washington, Pa., state feather weight champion. Angott had reached the semi-finals in the Olympics three years ago. He will find a worthy opponent in Evans, who has beaten everything in sight in this territory.

Ray Atkinson of Ellport, golden glove champion, and Tommy Smith of Aliquippa will meet in the semi-final bout at 147 pounds. Other feature bouts will be between Custy Morini of Ellwood City and Al Harge, of Aliquippa at 136 pounds; Mickey Cutie of Youngstown, O., eastern Ohio flyweight champion, and Plum Rush of Washington, Pa., Washington county champion; Tony Adamo of New Castle vs. Bill Basso of Washington, Pa.; Kid Hunt of Beaver Falls, and Charles Arnet of West Pittsburg.

Another interesting feature will be Ray Eberle of Aliquippa, who will be the announcer. Eberle is the man who announces all the fights in Motor Square Gardens, Pittsburgh, and has already handled bouts here.

Police Hold Nine As Result Of Raid

Local Police Drop In On Alleged Gambling Game Here On Sunday Night

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 26.—Nine men were taken to the local lock-up as a result of a raid by police about 9:15 Sunday night. This included the alleged proprietor, "Alabam" Rubino, and eight visitors.

Lieut. E. R. Hartman and Patrolman Chester Young surprised a group of men, when they dropped in at an alleged poker game at "Alabam's place" last night. The raid was indeed made in a clever manner and took the occupants completely unawares. The two policemen had gone to the side of the building, climbed a coal shed, and entered a high window on the first floor from where they dropped to the floor about 12 feet. The occupants were so completely surprised that the policemen were easily able to confiscate cards and quantity of money in change. Others were said to have gotten away through the front door, when the police dropped to the floor. All arrested pocketed money for a hearing to be given today.

L. O. L. NO. 136 TO MEET
ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 26.—Protestant Boys L. O. L. No. 136 will hold its regular meeting in the First National Bank Hall Tuesday evening, Nov. 27. Plans will be made at this meeting to entertain the members of Victory District Lodge which will be held here on Dec. 11. Officers for 1935 will be nominated at the meeting Tuesday evening.

POLICE RECEIVE ACCIDENT REPORTS

No One Is Injured In Three Accidents In Ellwood City On Saturday

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 26.—No one was seriously injured in three accidents reported to Ellwood City police, which occurred on Saturday. Charles F. Harper of New Castle R. F. 7 reported that he was traveling north on Fifth street about 8:10 p. m. Another car driven by Charles H. Liston of North Bessemer, Pa., and going the opposite way, endeavored to make a left hand turn after going through a red traffic light. This car ran directly into the side of Harper's car, overturning it and doing considerable damage.

Mrs. Jack Sherling of R. D. 2 Ellwood was traveling north on Second street about 8:45 p. m. Saturday and had reached the intersection at Spring avenue, when another car had failed to observe the stop sign on Spring avenue and side-swiped the front of Mrs. Sherling's car. The bumper was torn off, the radiator and front fender damaged. The other car had failed to stop to render assistance after the accident. Mrs. Sherling was accompanied by her husband and another couple.

Tressa D. Jerome of Ellwood R. D. 7 was passing a truck along the side of road on the Frisco hill and was over towards the middle of the road, according to the report. She side-swiped the car of Mrs. Frank Klindens of Knox plan who was going in the opposite direction. Considerable damage was done to both cars.

Union Service Is Fine Success

Young People's Council Presents Play In First Presbyterian Church Sunday

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 26.—The union service of the Bell Memorial, First Methodist and First Presbyterian churches to support the Y. P. Council in the presentation of the play, "Bathane" brought a response which filled the auditorium of the First Presbyterian church.

The women of the Woman's Missionary Society of the First Presbyterian church were celebrating their annual praise and Thanksgiving service. A short devotional service was led by Mrs. W. H. Shields, assisted by Mrs. J. C. Turner and Mrs. T. L. Haines. The offertory anthem was sung by a women's double quartet from the Margaret H. Pugh Class: Mesdames Frank Huffman, Floyd Friskhorn, Arthur Grandey, Edward McMillin, Donald Jones, J. C. Beegle, Robert Forbes, Edward Mackasek. The number was well sung and thoroughly enjoyed by all.

Miss Marjorie Streeter officiated at the organ and not only played the service, but also gave a short organ recital before the service which proved a treat to the many who were present a few minutes before the hour for the service. The offering was for the Council and to be used in their efforts for the A. M. E. church and for the boys and girls whom they make happy with their annual Christmas party. The offering was generous.

Bathane was presented by the following cast: Gordon Worth, an American missionary, Harold Burns; Virginia Worth, his wife, Jane Stevenson; Joan Worth, their daughter; Harriet Johnston; Mr. Ordway, an American newspaper man, Charles Rabberman; Mr. Fox, an American oil driller, Charles McCurdy; Bathane, a young Burmese boy, Edward Cable; Ma May, Bathane's sister, Rosemary McCandless. Director, Mrs. Charles Rabberman. The cast proved an all star cast and deeply stirred the emotions of all present.

P. R. R. TRAINS COLLIDE
A Pennsylvania railroad fireman, O. W. Sipe, of near Wheatland, sustained slight cuts when his locomotive collided with the rear of a short New Castle bound freight-train a short distance south of the Wheatland station on the Penn's E. & P. branch early today.

One car of the freight was derailed.

Surprise Honors Miss Ada Graham

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 26.—Miss Ada Graham was agreeably surprised Saturday evening when she returned to her home at Wurttemberg to find a group of friends and relatives assembled there to aid in celebrating the occasion of her birthday anniversary.

The hours were passed in a merry manner with square dancing as the popular diversion. During the evening tempting refreshments were served by Mrs. Roy Graham, assisted by Mrs. Laverne and Mrs. Loren Graham. A prettily decorated birthday cake was a feature of this period.

The guest of honor was the recipient of a collection of lovely gifts.

Curtis Bok Weds In Falls City, Neb.

(International News Service)
FALLS CITY, Neb., Nov. 26.—Curtis Bok scion of the wealthy Philadelphia publishing family and grandson of the late Cyrus H. K. Curtis, and his bride, the former Miss Nellie Lee Holt, were enroute to Philadelphia today.

They were married at the home of the bride's parents here yesterday afternoon.

Bok's father was the late Edward Bok, famed editor and donor of the $100,000 peace prize.

May Change Name Of E. S. & A. Club

E. S. & A. Club will meet tonight in the Clendenin building. At the meeting a decision may result in the name of the club being changed with more closely identifying the club with the Pennsylvania Power company. The program will be sponsored tonight by the Substation employees.

World Recovery Proposals Made

After Study Of Year Commission Recommends Six Major Proposals For Recovery

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Nov. 26.—In a report made after a year's study and hearings in many cities, the commission of inquiry into national policy in international economic relations today recommended to the United States government six major proposals designed to further world recovery and world peace by internal action in this country.

The commission, headed by Dr. Robert M. Hutchins, youthful president of the University of Chicago, urged the government to take as "rapid and dramatic action as possible" to reverse the trend toward economic isolation and to break down barriers to international trade.

Offer Proposals
The report recommended the following major proposals: Adoption of immediate settlement of war debts, to relieve the distrust and tension now prevalent in the world.

Removal of tariffs where no unemployment would result, and lowering of other tariffs subject to proper safeguards.

Announcement by the president that he does not intend to exercise his present powers to change the gold content of the dollar.

Granting by congress of wider powers to the tariff commission. Freedom from governmental restrictions on foreign long-term private loans.

Abandonment at the earliest possible moment of all measures tending to restrict agricultural exports.

State Y. M. C. A. Sessions Open

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Nov. 26.—With several hundred delegates in attendance, the 65th convention of the State Young Men's Christian Association of Pennsylvania opened here today.

Business of the state organization will be transacted today and the convention will close tonight with a banquet, Dr. John R. Mott, former International Y. M. C. A. secretary and now secretary for the World Missionary Alliance, will be the main speaker this evening.

Theodore Buchanan, of Mt. Lebanon, was elected president of the H-Y state council last night. Other officers chosen were vice-president, Jay Davis, Greenville and secretary, George Douteil, Bellefonte.

A business session of the convention will be held this afternoon when expired terms of state committee members will be filled. Consideration of a tentative budget for 1935 and proposals and reports from the sub-committees and discussions of general policies of state association work also will be before the convention.

ONLY TWO ARRESTS MADE ON SUNDAY
Only two arrests occurred from 1:45 a. m. Sunday morning until 4:20 p. m. the same day, according to police. One arrest was for violation of an auto traffic regulation and the other was on suspicion. In police court this morning the mayor after hearing the man's history, ordered that he be given breakfast before being turned into the street.

Chairman Named For Inauguration Of New Governor

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Nov. 26.—Guy Swope, chairman of the Dauphin County Democratic committee, today was named head of the general inauguration day committee which will plan the ceremonies January 15, including George H. Earle as the first Democratic governor of Pennsylvania in 40 years.

The appointment was made by State Chairman David L. Lawrence. Wendell P. C. Morgenthaler, president of the Young Democratic clubs of Pennsylvania, will be chairman of the committee arranging the inaugural ball which will be held in the Zemo Mosque on the night of January 15.

Swope's appointment shattered a precedent of 40 years' standing by which a Dauphin county senator has been head of the inaugural committee. The last chairman was State Senator George L. Reed, of Harrisburg, a Republican.

The inaugural ball, which in the past has been held under the auspices of the 104th military cavalry, will be sponsored by the Democratic clubs of Pennsylvania. The profits of the affair will be given to the families of the five men killed in the Kelyares massacre on the night of November 5.

National Housing Act Modifying Is Needed, Revealed

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Nov. 26.—Modifying provisions in the national housing act must be made in order to insure functioning of national mortgage associations, Walter S. Schmidt, president-elect of the National Association of Real Estate Boards, declared here today.

Arriving for a meeting of the Pittsburgh real estate board, Schmidt disclosed that he had included this information in a letter to Federal Housing Administrator James A. Moffett.

According to Schmidt, provisions of the housing act affecting the mortgage associations cannot be carried out unless the government creates a central mortgage discount bank or guarantees the bonds issued against the mortgages purchased by the mortgage associations.

"The most a mortgage association could make would be 4 1/2 per cent," he said. "Their bonds call for four per cent interest. Certainly no one is going to put money into such bonds unless the government guarantees them."

Teachers Elect On December 7

Friday, December 7 has been set as the date of the annual election of officers for the local branch of the Pennsylvania State Educational Association. A general teachers meeting will be held in addition to the election of officers delegates will be elected for the annual state convention to be held in Harrisburg on December 26 and 27.

ONLY TWO ARRESTS MADE ON SUNDAY
Only two arrests occurred from 1:45 a. m. Sunday morning until 4:20 p. m. the same day, according to police. One arrest was for violation of an auto traffic regulation and the other was on suspicion. ### New Castle High Strives For Win

'Red Hurricane' Will Try To Chase 'Jinx' In Thanksgiving Day Game

Turtle Creek Will Bring Strong Class AA Eleven To Taggart Stadium

New Castle High School "Red Hurricane" football team will try hard to chase the "jinx" Thursday afternoon at Taggart Stadium in the closing game of the 1934 season with Turtle Creek High. The game will start at 2:15 o'clock according to an announcement by Faculty Manager Ralph H. Gardner.

The last New Castle victory was registered a month ago. New Castle dropped Warren, Ohio High, 7 to 0, and since that time New Castle has tied New Ken High, Sharon and Butler.

Need Victory
If New Castle is to continue in the race for the Class AA title this year, they must upset the Turtle Creekers. This looks like a big job. Turtle Creek will be fighting mad Thursday, due to the fact that the locals polished them off at Turtle Creek last year. Coach Ben Haidy can be relied upon to bring a powerful team here. Turtle Creek has always been noted for good football teams.

Furthermore New Castle has scored only one touchdown in the past three games. There must be an end to this kind of business Thursday, or the championship aspirations will bite the dust.

In event of good weather Thursday the largest crowd of the year will no doubt jam Taggart Stadium for the annual "Turkey Day" battle. Turtle Creek will send more than 1,000 fans here.

The students of New Castle High are planning a big parade and demonstration Wednesday evening. The students are also canvassing the homes with tickets for the game.

Scott High Tops Ambridge 6 To 0

Class A Championship Goes To Scott High For Second Straight Year

Scott high of North Braddock won the Class A championship of the W. P. I. A. L. for the second straight year at the Pitt Stadium Saturday afternoon by topping the highly touted Ambridge high team 6 to 0. A crowd of 16,000, the largest to ever see a high school game in Pittsburgh, witnessed the schoolboy battle.

Scott's touchdown was made by Captain Johnny Gross on an 8-yard gallop through the line. Bache was also a big star for the champions. Ambridge played a fine defensive game.

CANTON TOPS MASSILLON
Canton McKinley high school football team topped Massillon high Saturday at Canton 21 to 6 in an upset. Both teams had been undefeated until Saturday, and the Ohio scholastic championship rested with the winners. Canton displayed plenty of power in scoring three times through the big Massillon line.

Seventeen Win Grid Letters

Awards Are Made To Football Men At Westminster College

(Special To The News)
NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Nov. 26.—Seventeen members of the Westminster College football squad won varsity letters for participation in games during the season closed Saturday, the Athletic Council announced. Of this number, six are seniors.

Those who won letters are: Ray Sweeney, Youngstown, O.; William Staples, Butler; Harold Barry, New Castle; Walter Young, Propriet, I.; Robert Scarbrough, McDonald, O.; Irving Franklin, Freeport, L. I.; Richard Watt, Struthers, O.; Merrill Straw, Turtle Creek; Edwin Austen, Etna; Jack Laraway, Erie; Ralph Clark, Providence, R. I.; Anthony Krulatz, Butler; Donald Helmick, Uniontown; James Bailey, Sharon; Robert Arrowsmith, Erie; Abraham Strasberg, Providence, R. I.; and David Mintz, Butler. Student Manager Nelson Greer, New Wilmington, also was awarded a letter.

The six seniors, Sweeney, Staples, Barry, Young, Franklin, and Scarbrough, have all been past season players for three and four seasons. Their loss next year will be keenly felt, but there will be 11 lettermen left as a nucleus for the 1935 outfit. The schedule will be shorter and easier, for few if any new men will be added to the roster. If present plans work out, next year's card will have seven or eight contests, will start Sept. 21, and will end by Nov. 9.

Penn State May Play In Florida On New Year's Day

(International News Service)
STATE COLLEGE, Pa., Nov. 26.—Penn State's football team may play a post-season game on New Year's Day with the University of Miami at Coral Gables, Fla. Athletic authorities here announced today.

Only tentative negotiations have been completed for the contest, but at present it seems likely that the Lions will receive an invitation to play in the South if Miami authorities decide to continue their custom of promoting an annual post-season game with a northern team. In 1932 Manhattan College played at Duquesne, and last season Duquesne received the invitation.

Although Penn State authorities generally frown on athletic contests out of the regular season, it is believed that a New Year's Day game would receive approval since the players would make the trip during the Christmas holidays and would not be absent from classes. Penn State football teams have played only three games in the past after the regular season. In 1921 the Lions defeated the University of Washington at Seattle, 21 to 7, and in 1923 were defeated in a Rose Bowl game at Pasadena by the University of California, 14 to 3. Three years ago Penn State and Lehigh played a charity game on Franklin Field, Philadelphia State winning 31 to 0.

You've got one invitation now... and here's another.

This Thanksgiving, when you sit down to dine, you'll want to look just a little smarter than on the days you are ordering corn beef and cabbage.

And if you'll promise to combine one Winter Co. shirt and tie ensemble with your usual good nature, we'll pledge you'll have the finest Thanksgiving ever.

Not simply shirts and ties... but unusual, exciting accessories... colors and patterns that no one has ever seen before.

Pitt And Tech Get Ready For Game Thursday

Dukes Win Final From Catholic U.; Slippery Rock Loses At Bloomsburg

BUCKNELL NOSES OUT PENN STATE

By VICTOR J. JACOBS
International News Service Sports Writer
PITTSBURGH, Nov. 26.—Many a college football player relaxed for the first time in a couple of months today as the strenuous campaigns of more than half of Pennsylvania's schools came to a close and became history.

It was a great season for some of them. A few will see their names flash in glory. Some will probably make the All-American. A lot of others will just go down in the record as a member of a 1934 squad that tried hard.

Pitt Vs Tech

There are still a few games in the books. Among the best of these is the Pitt-Cornell Tech. fracas Thanksgiving day, with the odds overwhelmingly in favor of the Panthers, the Bucknell-Temple affair at Philadelphia, the Pennsylvania-Cornell battle, also in the Quaker City, and the Washington & Jefferson-West Virginia squabble at Atlantic City.

Four other games are scheduled for Turkey Day, however, these are Albright-Union at Reading; Franklin & Marshall-Gettysburg at Lancaster; Lebanon Valley-Pennsylvania Military College at Chester, and St. Thomas-Davis-Tilkins at Scranton.

But that is to come. This began a survey of what happened Saturday. Of course, there were a few upsets. That had come to be expected this season when the whole football world was set topsy-turvy by the manner in which underdogs came through to win.

One of the unusual features of the week-end was the complete absence of tie scores in the Saturday campaigns. The closest battle of the day was that between Davis-West Virginia, which ended the ball with a 9 to 6 win.

Bucknell Wins

There were five conflicts that saw the final scores separated by only six points. Probably the most exciting of these was the Bloomsburg Teachers-Slippery Rock Teachers battle where the squads were tied 12-all at the half. Bloomsburg came through with a final-quarter score, 18 to 12, while Lock Haven upset Penn State, 13 to 7, in another one of these affairs. The others were Dickinson 9, Muhlenberg 3; Lehigh 13, Lafayette 7; and Geneva 6, Westminster 0.

Most of the high scoring was confined to two games Saturday when Lafayette smashed Mt. St. Marys, 41 to 2, while Pennsylvania Military College romped over Baltimore, 31 to 0.

Dukes Ahead

Duquesne came through with a 14 to 0 win over Catholic University in the only local collegiate game of the week-end. Pitt and Tech both rested awaiting their Thursday rumpus. Susquehanna stopped every move by Swarthmore and ran up a 20-0 victory in the first half. They coasted to victory on that without further scoring. Temple succeeded in drubbing Villanova with a more thorough smashing, 22 to 0, in what was expected to be a close session.

Waynesburg cracked Muskingum's front wall time and again to come through with a 20-0 win, while Lock Haven Teachers managed to clip the wings of Shippensburg Teachers, 13 to 0. The only team which traveled away from home over the week-end was West Chester Teachers, which crashed to defeat, 13 to 7, before the onslaught of Western State Teachers of Michigan. The game was played at Kalamazoo.

College Band Out In New Uniforms

Snappy Blue And White Outfits Worn By Band At Westminster

(Special To The News)
NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Nov. 26.—The Westminster College band appeared at the Geneva local game Saturday attired in snappy new uniforms. The uniforms consist of royal blue coats trimmed in white, cut along military lines. Silver buttons and white piping set the coats, which are of whipcord. Trousers are royal blue with white leg stripes. Overseas caps of royal blue with white piping complete the uniforms.

Professor Donald O. Cameron, bandmaster, has a white uniform, trimmed in royal blue, while Edgar Schaffer, Jeannette, drum major, has a uniform like the band members, with the exception of a shako hat and a white Sam Brown belt. The 40-piece band will play for all home basketball games this year, and will also play for the commencement exercises next June.

Minnesota Win 34-0

Few Upsets Occur In Saturday Games

After the volcanic results of a week ago, anything that could happen on Saturday just past would be an anti-climax. And nothing did happen in the way of deviation from the path of orthodox football. Perhaps Notre Dame was the one exception of any mention when they defeated the Army by a score of 12-6 in Yankee Stadium.

Yale won the Big Three championship when it defeated Harvard 14-0, but only the gristly chuckles of Lady Luck kept Harvard from a tie. Once they were on the 3-4 yard mark after a march and again they were on the one yard line only to fumble. Yale played all her football in the first half.

Columbia Wins

Lon Little and his Columbia outfit took another cut at Syracuse, Colgate being the other. Columbia took their traditional rivals, Villanova into camp with a 22-0 win which is decisive enough for any body. Minnesota won the Big Ten championship in walking away from Wisconsin 34-0 and concluded a season that has stood the Gophers out as one of the best teams in the past decade.

Lehigh and Lafayette battling to see which was the worst team finally concluded with a 13-7 win for Lehigh. Penn State dropped a close one to Bucknell, 13-7 and Davis-Elkins defeated St. Vincent 9-6. Only the vagaries of fate lost for Westminster against Geneva, a crummy pass that was shuttled around in midair finally landing in a Geneva carrier's hands and he galloped over for a touchdown and a win, 6-0.

Illinois-Chicago

Illinois came through to a brilliant win over Chicago 6-0, and Indiana pulled one out of the hat to win over Purdue 17-6. Michigan defeated Kansas 6-0 and Northwestern finished the season at the expense of Michigan, winning 13-6. Ohio State romped over Iowa 40-7 and Waynesburg won from Muskingum in handy fashion 20-6. In the far west Stanford sewed up the Ross Bowl rights with a 9-7 win over California. The game was one of the best of the season, with Stanford helping Stanford a little here and there. On paper any one of several teams east of the Rocky Mountains can beat Stanford this year. Minnesota, Pitt or Alabama could probably take Stanford and Temple or Colgate would give them a run for the marbles.

Saturday was the Saturday before Thanksgiving with a lot of teams remaining idle for the Turkey Day classic. Titles were finally settled to the satisfaction of most fans. Minnesota for the national, Pitt for the East, Alabama for the South and Stanford for the west coast.

Babe Ruth Hits Homer In Japan

ROSS-CANZONERI

(International News Service)
CHICAGO, Nov. 26.—Barney Ross and Tony Canzoneri will fight in the big fight of the year, for the title of the A. M. A. A. U. district and Jimmy Belmont, Bradlock, will meet in the semi-final.

Correct this sentence: "This rich old widower," said the gossip, "wanted a mature woman instead of a fryin' sea gal."

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

Tufts and Trinity are the only two undefeated and untied football teams in the country, while Temple, Western Maryland, Penn Military, LaSalle and Washington have been undefeated but have played the games. Duquesne has scored the most points, 322, in 10 games. Princeton has earned 280 in eight games and Army got 214 in nine games. Temple scored 216 in eight games and Penn Military has not allowed an opposing team to score.

Lord Jim, the only winner of the Hembletonian ever to go under the hammer at the Old Glory sale, will be among the 800 yearlings and proven racers to be sold this week at the fortieth annual auction of trainers and pacers in New York. Lord Jim was bought by E. L. McFarland of Columbus, O., for $75,000 in 1932 when he went through the Old Glory sale as a yearling.

Mickey Walker, former welterweight king and also a former middleweight king, and who got a 15-round draw with Jack Sharkey before Sharkey dropped the heavy-weight championship to Primo Carnera, will fight Tait Littman of Milwaukee in a 10-round bout tonight at Pittsburgh.

The entire Keystone line displayed fine strength. The stars of the game were Leonard, Covelli, Briggs, Bondi, and McCormick. For the East Siders the work of Jones, Neyman and Hawkey was the best. The "Keys" had the ball in the Centennial territory most of the afternoon.

Correct this sentence: "This rich old widower," said the gossip, "wanted a mature woman instead of a fryin' sea gal."

Bears-Giants May Play For Pro Grid Toga

Chicago Bears And New York Giants May Clash On December 9 For Championship

County Basketball Teams Are At Work

Merry Race Will Develop This Year For Championship, Union Defenders

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Nov. 26.—Indications today were that the Chicago Bears and New York Giants, last year's sectional winners, will clash here December 9 in the national football league play-off, as a result of yesterday's developments.

The Giants have to win only one of their two remaining games to beat out the Boston Redskins for the eastern title. They defeated the Redskins 3 to 0 here yesterday on a 14-yard field goal by Ken Strong. The Bears chalked up their 11th straight triumph of the season by beating the other Chicago club, the Cardinals, 17 to 6. Meanwhile the Detroit Lions, who have also won straight games, were blanketed by Green Bay at Detroit, 3 to 0, for their first setback of the season.

With Swede Hanson and Ed Storm scoring touchdowns, the Philadelphia Eagles blanked the Dodgers at Brooklyn, 13 to 0.

Art Strutt Is Leading Scorer

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Nov. 26.—With 108 points, Art Strutt, Duquesne fullback, today enjoyed a lead of eight points over Bill Shepherd, Western Maryland halfback, in the eastern individual college football scoring race. Smith, Grove City, is third with 86.

THE SPORT PATROL

BY JOHN J. MAHER, JR.

LISTEN TO THIS

Here is the low down on the 1934 Southern California football team as a writer on the coast sees it: "The Trojans are weak in charging, tackling, blocking, offensive quarterbacking, defensive quarterbacking, ball carrying, and forward passing." John Huch, young pitcher fanned to Galveston by the White Sox last summer, is ready to testify to the prowess of George Barnshaw as a forwarder. Huch was pitching to the Chicago batteries one day last spring and George came along and said: "Kid, you look pretty good. You ought to go a long way." John did—to Galveston, 1,700 miles away. Use of unslaked lime to mark the field for the Nebraska-Oklahoma game resulted in many painful burns for the players. Captain Stacey of Oklahoma had to leave the game in the fourth quarter when he passed his hand over his forehead to remove perspiration and some of the lime which had stuck to his hands got into his eyes.

Helme Melne, Pirate pitcher, served an apprenticeship as a blacksmith and horsebreaker in his youth. George Spitz, high jumper, can leap within six inches of the pole vault record set by J. W. Pryor of Columbia in 1877. In 45 years of football Notre Dame boasts of 14 teams that went through undefeated seasons. LaCrosse is the oldest North American team game. The Indians played it in the early nineteenth century. Dollie Stark, National league umpire and basketball coach at Dartmouth, is not a college man. In 1876, the first year of the National league, the Chicago club played 12 games with Cincinnati and won them all. Zane Grey, the novelist, once caught a tunaish weighing 750 pounds. In 1822, William Muldoon, the "Fighting Gaul," was a $200 gambler. Ross, the Scotch wrestler, spent his youth in the circus. Lefty O'Doul, Giants' outfielder, seldom hits at a bad ball. In Southern California U. C. L. A. basketball game of 1932, a Bruin player read a newspaper while two U. S. guards snatched 13 minutes passing the ball back and forth between themselves. John Babeich, Brooklyn pitcher, went to high school in Rodeo, Cal., with Coody Gomez of the Yankees. In 1931, the Washington Senators used oil-treated bats in an effort to raise their batting marks. In 1931, the team average fell off 17 points, instead of 10. Bob Fitzsimmons knocked out Jim Corbett for the heavy-weight championship when he weighed only 154 pounds. Iron Man Joe McGinnity pitched 630 innings in two years. Al Benezet scored three knockouts in one evening in 1910. In the Ohio State-Western Reserve game, Dick Heekin, Buckeye halfback, ran 92 yards in 12 seconds.

In the Princeton-Navy game of 1930, the Midgies were penalized 110 yards in the fourth quarter. In 1931, a San Mateo, Cal., high school outfielder, reached down for a grounder and came up with a 48-inch snake. The batter got a home run. Trainer Andy Leshaw uses nine miles of gauze and adhesive tape each year in treating the Chicago Cubs. Jim London, wrestling champ, includes six quarts of milk in his daily training diet. Chinese caddies are paid the equivalent of 3 cents a round. Fritz Crisler, a Chicago U. graduate and former Minnesota coach, is the first man not a tiger alum to be given the job of head coach at Princeton.

At 100 years in the first half of the Pitt-Minnesota game were the Gophers closer than four yards to a first down.

Geneva Tops Titans 6 To 0

Geneva Scores On Pass For Only Touchdown In Closing Game Of Season

LARGEST CROWD OF YEAR AT GAME

(Special To The News)
NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Nov. 26.—Geneva College football team eked out a 6 to 0 victory. College Field Saturday afternoon over the Westminster eleven in the closing game of the 1934 season for both teams. The largest crowd of the year witnessed the battle, which was played under good weather conditions.

To give you some idea of how evenly matched the two teams were, Westminster nine first downs and Geneva nine first downs. In the first half of the game it was all Geneva with the Beedemen running up seven first downs to two for the Titans and in the second half the Titans reversed the first down score, but outside of the pass that went for a touchdown neither team came close to scoring.

It was a battle of about evenly matched lines and outside of a dash of about 25 yards for a Geneva man that didn't count on account of a violation there were not any long runs through by any of the backfield men. It was a defensive game from start to finish.

Eagles Club Is Ransacked And Found On Fire

POLICE HOPE TO APPREHEND ROBBERS

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 26.—When the fire and smoke was cleared away in the Eagles club on Seventh street by the Ellwood City fire department at 2:45 o'clock this morning it was revealed that the place was completely ransacked.

Lieut. E. R. Hartman of the local police was attracted by the yelling of Lloyd Thomas on Seventh street, where he resides, and upon investigating discovered smoke issuing from the Eagles' club. Thomas resides across the street from it and had set up a hue and cry upon observing it. Lieut. Hartman and the fire department arrived at the scene and the flames had been extinguished and the smoke had sufficiently cleared away. Lieut. Hartman with Officers Chester Young and K. M. Musser, found the grill room of the club in complete turmoil.

Upon closer examination they found the cash register and a vending machine broken open and the contents taken. A safe was also broken open and the valuables taken. The remainder of the contents were strewn on the floor.

The thieves gained entrance into the building by forcing a side door and another one leading into the grill room. Evidently it was the intent to cover up the crime by setting the building on fire. Fire Chief H. T. Plante stated that there was some difficulty in checking the flames, which had worked into the interior of the walls and floor. Local police made a complete canvass of the clubs and lodges in this vicinity, in case the fire had been started to distract attention from similar robberies. There was no evidence of such a situation. Damage to the building was estimated at $150.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Herman of Pottsville and Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Gallaher and daughter, Imogene, of Ellport, were Sunday guests at the home of Mrs. Herman's brother, Fred Knepp of Enon Valley.

Attempted Hold-up Frustrated Here

Shot Of Negro Bandit Just Misses Woman Passenger In Car Of Ellwood Man

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 26.—Local, county, and state police have increased their efforts to apprehend a tall negro bandit, who has been terrorizing this section with hold-ups.

At 12:35 a. m. Sunday, a negro endeavored to hold-up Hershel Tritt of Ninth street on the Ellwood-Wampum road. Tritt was enroute to this city with a lady friend, when they observed a man lagging them down. Tritt slowed his car up and a tall colored man with a pistol in his hand jumped on the running board of the car and ordered Tritt to stop. Tritt instantly stepped on the gas. The thug raised his hand to fire, as Tritt ordered his passenger to duck and did likewise. The bullet just missed her. She was cut on the forehead by flying glass as the bullet went through both windows. The negro was knocked loose as the driver increased the speed of his car.

Tritt immediately came to the local police station and made a report. The state highway patrol at Beaver Falls was notified and later conducted an investigation.

Miss Jennie Tomei Weds Sam Sapienza

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 26.—One of the prettiest weddings of Thanksgiving week occurred this morning at 10:30 in the Italian B. V. M. church on Fourth street when Miss Jennie Tomei, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Tomei of Beaver avenue, and Samuel Sapienza, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Sapienza of Zelienople, were united in marriage by Rev. Fr. Vincent Galliano, in the presence of a large circle of relatives and friends.

The bride was charmingly attired in a stylish white satin gown with corresponding accessories and she carried a bouquet of calla lilies. Miss Virginia Sapienza was maid of honor and was attired in a blue satin gown. Bridesmaids were Misses Yolanda Ricci, Angelina Tomei and Julia Figliore, who were attractively attired in green, coral and yellow taffeta gowns.

James Carozza, Lewis Quazraza and Fred Palestini, all of this city, served as ushers.

A wedding breakfast for the bridal party and approximately 50 relatives and friends was given in the church basement following the congratulatory period.

Mr. and Mrs. Sapienza left this afternoon on a motor trip through New York state and upon their return home they will reside in Zelienople, where the former is associated with his father in the grocery business.

HENRY KETTERER FUNERAL

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 26.—Funeral services for Henry Ketterer, whose death occurred Wednesday evening at the home of his daughter, Mrs. A. S. Nelson of Ambridge following a heart attack, were held Saturday afternoon from the Burry's Lutheran church.

Mr. Ketterer was 82 years old having been born on July 10, 1852, nine years ago and he is survived by three sons and seven daughters. Interment was made in the church cemetery.

His wife preceded him in death nine years ago and he is survived by three sons and seven daughters. Interment was made in the church cemetery.

Burgess Turner Heads Sportsmen

NINE COUNTIES IN ORGANIZATION

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 26.—Burgess Turner of Oil City, Pa., well known sportsman of the district, was given an honor Sunday afternoon at Oil City, when he was unanimously elected as president of the Sportsmen Council, Division F. This organization consists of representatives of nine counties in the northwestern part of the state.

Burgess Turner was elected following the resignation of Dr. Sanderson yesterday. Previous to this the former was director of Lawrence County and is the president of the Ellwood City Rod and Gun Club.

The organization at this time went on record as favoring a Game and Fish Commissioner for northwestern Pennsylvania, and unanimously approved Jared Reis of New Castle and Charles French of Ellwood City to the above respective commissions. These two would represent nearly 75,000 sportsmen of northwestern Pennsylvania. Mr. French is secretary of the local Rod and Gun Club.

Youth Injured In Peculiar Manner

Steel Bill File Penetrates Stomach Of Herbert Balter In Fall Saturday

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 26.—Herbert Balter, 16, of Pittsburgh Circle, Ellwood City, escaped a critical injury in a peculiar accident at the store of his father on Lawrence avenue Saturday afternoon.

In some manner young Balter had slipped and fell. He landed on a steel bill file, which penetrated his stomach several inches. The steel file had just missed a vital spot. The injury was not serious and he was discharged from the hospital Sunday.

Dinner, Shower For Mrs. Jack Sherling

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 26.—Mr. and Mrs. Jack Sherling (Miss June Van Horn) were the guests of honor at a beautifully appointed dinner on Saturday evening, given by the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Sherling, at their home on the New Brighton road, in honor of the marriage of their son, which was an event of early November.

Yellow "mums" were effectively used in the decorations and covers were arranged for 12. The hostess was assisted in serving by Mrs. Lee Palen of New Castle.

After an informal social period the entire group attended a dance at Middle Lancaster, where Mr. Sherling is one of the musicians. On Wednesday evening Mrs. J. A. Keeler entertained employees of their restaurant at a bridge party at their apartment in the Manos building in honor of Mrs. Sherling, who is employed there.

Three tables were in play during the evening and at the close of the games lovely prizes were awarded the winners. The hostess served a tasty luncheon.

The guest of honor was then presented with a collection of lovely and useful gifts and she responded in a charming manner.

Miss Sara Eiler Given Surprise

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 26.—When Miss Sara Eiler entered the Culp store room at Ellport Saturday evening she was taken completely by surprise to find a circle of friends had gathered there for the purpose of making merry on the occasion of her fourteenth birthday anniversary.

The hours passed quickly and were kept merry with a wide variety of games, music and contests holding the attention of everyone. A delicious luncheon featuring the traditional turkey was served by Mrs. Jacob Culp assisted by Mrs. M. H. Long.

Before departing for home the guests, numbering twenty, presented the honor guest with a number of beautiful and useful gifts in memento of the happy affair.

Auto Of Local Man Is Stolen

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 26.—Local police received the report of a car owned by Edward Schweiger of Glen avenue, this city, stolen in Beaver Valley Sunday evening at 8 o'clock. It was a black 1931 Pontiac sedan with red wire wheels and a rear tire carrier. The car bore Pennsylvania license No. 73616.

The 180 year old grape vine at Cumberland Lodge, Windsor Great Park, England, bore nearly 800 bunches this year.

Great Amateur Fight Card At Shelby Tuesday

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 26.—Shelby auditorium, Ellwood City, will be the mecca for the boxing fans of this territory Tuesday evening when the outstanding amateur pugilists in all divisions of this district will vie for honors. A card that cannot help but appeal to the competitive spirit of sportsmen has been arranged by Matchmaker Joe Lattiano.

The show, which will probably be the last of the season, will begin promptly at 8:30. Leading amateurs in nine fast bouts or 27 rounds of boxing will hold the attention of the crowd throughout. If the last fight show here was any indication, Shelby auditorium will be filled to capacity tomorrow night. This whole section will be represented Tuesday by worthy boxers.

Winding up the splendid card of nine bouts will be the main one, between Joe Evans of Ellport, Western Pennsylvania golden glove champion and Sammy Angott of Washington, Pa., state featherweight champion. Angott had reached the semi-finals in the Olympics three years ago. He will find a worthy opponent in Evans, who has beaten everything in sight in this territory.

Ray Atkinson of Ellport, golden glove champion, and Tommy Smith of Alliquipp will meet in the semi-final bout at 147 pounds. Other feature bouts will be between Cusky Morini of Ellwood City and Al Harge, of Alliquipp at 136 pounds; Mickey Cutie of Youngstown, O., eastern Ohio flyweight champion, and Plum Rush of Washington, Pa., Washington county champion; Tony Adamo of New Castle vs. Bill Basso of Washington, Pa.; K. Hunt of Beaver Falls, and Charles Arket of West Pittsburg.

Another interesting feature will be Ray Eberle of Alliquipp, who will be the announcer. Eberle is the man who announces all the fights in Motor Square Gardens, Pittsburgh, and has already handled bouts here.

Police Hold Nine As Result Of Raid

Local Police Drop In On Alleged Gambling Game Here On Sunday Night

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 26.—Nine men were taken to the local lock-up as a result of a raid by police about 9:15 Sunday night. This included the alleged proprietor, "Alabam" Rubino, an eight visitor, and a local E. R. Hartman and Patrolman Chester Young surprised a group of men, when they dropped in at an alleged poker game at "Alabam's place" last night. The raid was indeed made in a clever manner and took the occupants completely unawares. The two police men had slipped to the side of the building, climbed a coal shed, and entered a high window on the first floor from where they dropped to the floor about 12 feet. The occupants were so completely surprised that the policemen were easily able to confiscate a large quantity of money in change. Others were said to have gotten away through the front door, when the police dropped to the floor. All arrested posted bond for a hearing to be given today.

POLICE RECEIVE ACCIDENT REPORTS

No One Is Injured In Three Accidents In Ellwood City

On Saturday

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 26.—No one was seriously injured in three accidents reported to Ellwood City police, which occurred on Saturday. Charles F. Harper of New Castle R. F. 7 reported that he was traveling north on Fifth street about 8:10 p. m. Another car driven by Charles H. Liston of North Bessemer, Pa., and going the opposite way, ended up on the left hand turn after going through a red traffic light. This car ran directly into the side of Harper's car, overturning it and doing considerable damage.

Mrs. Jack Sherling of R. D. 2 Ellwood City was traveling north on Second street about 8:45 p. m. Saturday and had reached the intersection at Spring avenue, when another car had failed to observe the stop sign on Spring avenue and side-swiped the front part of Mrs. Sherling's car. The bumper was torn off, the radiator and front fender damaged. The other car had failed to stop to render assistance after the accident. Mrs. Sherling was accompanied by her husband and another couple.

Tressa D. Jerome of Ellwood R. D. 7 was passing a truck along the side of road on the Frisco hill and was over towards the middle of the road, according to the report. She side-swiped the car of Mrs. Frank Klindienst of Knox plan who was going in the opposite direction. Considerable damage was done to both cars.

Union Service Is Fine Success

Young People's Council Presents Play In First Presbyterian Church Sunday

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 26.—The union service of the Bell Memorial, First Methodist and First Presbyterian churches to support the Y. P. Council in the presentation of the play "Barnum's Boy" a response which filled the auditorium of the First Presbyterian church.

The women of the Woman's Missionary Society of the First Presbyterian church were celebrating their annual praise and Thanksgiving service. A short devotional service was led by the pastor, the service assisted by Mrs. J. C. Turner and Mrs. T. L. Haines. The offertory anthem was sung by a women's double quartet from the Margaret H. Pugh Class: Mesdames Frank Huffman, Floyd Friskhorn, Arthur Grandey, Edward McMillin, Donald Jones, J. C. Beagle, Robert Forbes, Edward Mackasek. The number was well sung and thoroughly enjoyed by all.

Miss Marjorie Streeter officiated at the organ and not only played the service, but also gave a short organ recital before the service which proved a treat to the Sunday school. A few minutes before the hour for the service. The offering was for the Council and to be used in their efforts for the A. M. E. church and for the boys and girls who they make happy with their annual Christmas party. The offering was generous.

Bathane was presented by the following cast: Gordon Worth, an American missionary, Harold Burns; Virginia Worth, his wife, Jane Stevens; Joan Worth, their daughter; Lieut. E. R. ## Surprise Honors Miss Ada Graham

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 26.—Miss Ada Graham was agreeably surprised Saturday evening when she returned to her home at Wampum to find a group of friends and relatives assembled there to aid in celebrating the occasion of her birthday anniversary.

The hours were passed in a merry manner with square dancing as the popular diversion. During the evening tempting refreshments were served by Mrs. Roy Graham, assisted by Mrs. Lawrence and Mrs. Loren Graham. A prettily decorated birthday cake was a feature of this period.

The guest of honor was the recipient of a collection of lovely gifts.

Curtis Bok Weds In Falls City, Neb.

(International News Service) FALLS CITY, Neb., Nov. 26.—Curtis Bok, son of the wealthy Philadelphia family and grandson of the late Cyrus B. Curtis, and his bride, the former Miss Nellie Lee Holt, were enroute to Philadelphia today.

They were married at the home of the bride's parents here yesterday afternoon.

Bok's father was the late Edward Bok, famed editor and donor of the $100,000 peace prize.

World Recovery Proposals Made

After Study Of Year Commission Recommends Six Major Proposals For Recovery

(International News Service) NEW YORK, Nov. 26.—In a report made after a year's study and hearings in many cities, the commission of inquiry into national policy in international economic relations today recommended to the United States government six major proposals designed to further world recovery and world peace by internal action in this country.

The commission, headed by Dr. Robert M. Hutchins, youthful president of the University of Chicago, urged the government to take as "rapid and dramatic action as possible" to reverse the trend toward economic isolation and to break down barriers to international trade.

Offer Proposals

The report recommended the following major proposals:

Adoption of political measures, such as immediate settlement of war debts, to relieve the distrust and tension now prevalent in the world.

Removal of tariffs where no unemployment would result, and lowering of other tariffs subject to proper safeguards.

Announcement by the president that he does not intend to exercise his present powers to change the gold content of the dollar.

Granting by congress of wider powers to the tariff commission.

Freedom from governmental restrictions on foreign long-term private loans.

Abandonment at the earliest possible moment of all measures tending to restrict agricultural exports.

State Y. M. C. A. Sessions Open

Convention Under Way At Harrisburg—Business Meeting This Afternoon

(International News Service) HARRISBURG, Nov. 26.—With several hundred delegates in attendance, the 65th convention of the State Young Men's Christian Association of Pennsylvania opened here today.

Business of the state organization will be transacted today and the convention will close tonight with a banquet. Dr. John R. Mott, former International Y. M. C. A. secretary and now secretary for the World Missionary Alliance, will be the main speaker this evening.

Theodore Buchanan, of Mt. Lebanon, was elected president of the Y. M. C. A. state council last night. Other officers chosen were vice-president, Jay Davis, Greenville and secretary, George Dettell, Bellefonte.

A business session of the convention will be held this afternoon when expired terms of state committee will be filled. Consideration of a tentative budget for 1935 and proposals and reports from the sub-committees and discussions of general policies of state association work also will be before the convention.

F. R. R. TRAINS COLLIDE

A Pennsylvania railroad fireman, O. W. Sipe, of near Wheatland, sustained slight cuts when his locomotive collided with the rear of a short New Castle bound freight train a short distance south of the Wheatland station on the Penn's E. & P. branch early today.

One car of the freight was derailed.

Chairman Named For Inauguration Of New Governor

(International News Service) HARRISBURG, Nov. 26.—Guy Swope, chairman of the Dauphin County Democratic committee, today was named head of the general inauguration day committee which will plan the ceremonies January 15 inducting George H. Earle as the first Democratic governor of Pennsylvania in 40 years.

The appointment was made by State Chairman David L. Lawrence. Wendell P. C. Morgenthau, president of the Young Democratic clubs of Pennsylvania, will be chairman of the committee arranging the inaugural ball which will be held in the Zumbo Mosque on the night of January 15.

Swope's appointment shattered a precedent of 40 years' standing by which a Dauphin county senator has been head of the inaugural committee. The last chairman was State Senator George L. Reed, of Harrisburg, a Republican. Swope's appointment, which in the past has been held under the auspices of the 104th military cavalry, will be sponsored by the Democratic clubs of Pennsylvania. The profits of the affair will be given to the families of the five men killed in the Kelyares massacre on the night of November 5.

National Housing Act Modifying Is Needed, Revealed

(International News Service) PITTSBURGH, Nov. 26.—Modifying provisions in the national housing act must be made in order to insure functioning of national mortgage associations, Walter S. Schmidt, president-elect of the National Association of Real Estate Boards, declared here today.

Arriving for a meeting of the Pittsburgh real estate board, Schmidt disclosed that he had included this information in a letter to Federal Housing Administrator James A. Moffett.

According to Schmidt, provisions of the housing act after the mortgage associations cannot be carried out unless the government creates a central mortgage discount bank or guarantees the bonds issued against the mortgages purchased by the mortgage associations.

"The most a mortgage association could make would be 4 1/2 per cent," he said. "Their bonds call for four per cent interest. Certainly no one is going to put money into such bonds unless the government guarantees them."

Teachers Elect On December 7

Friday, December 7 has been set as the date of the annual election of officers for the local branch of the Pennsylvania State Educational Association. A general teachers meeting will be held in addition to the election of officers delegates will be elected for the annual state convention to be held in Harrisburg on December 26 and 27.

ONLY TWO ARRESTS MADE ON SUNDAY

Only two arrests occurred from 1:45 a. m. Sunday morning until 4:20 p. m. the same day, according to police. One arrest was for violation of an auto traffic regulation and the other was on suspicion. In police court this morning the mayor after hearing the man's history, ordered that he be given breakfast before being turned into the street.

LOSES HIS LEG

(International News Service) KITTANNING, Pa., Nov. 26.—Fifteen year old Bobby Dummire's football playing days were over today. Surgeons amputated his right leg below the knee yesterday—the leg he injured a week ago in a neighborhood football game—to save his life.

Blood clots formed following the injury, necessitating the operation. Bobby was the district's only seriously injured football victim this season.

Banks Of Nation Ask Roosevelt To Clarify Program

Would Have President Clarify Future Course Of Building Stimulation

(International News Service) WASHINGTON, Nov. 26.—Reduced to a virtual state of abject confusion, the banks and vast credit organizations which have agreed to cooperate with the federal housing administration today expected President Roosevelt to clarify the future course of his efforts to stimulate private building construction.

The confusion was precipitated last week by the announcement of Secretary of the Interior Ickes, as public works administrator, that he has recommended a gigantic low-cost housing construction program to be financed with FWA funds and be in competition with private capital. This caused James A. Moffett, federal housing administrator, to state such a program would defeat the purpose of the housing act.

Council To View Scene Of Accident

Council met in city hall today and decided to journey to East Washington street near Luton street for the purpose of making an examination relative to a claim for damages arising out of a recent auto accident. It was claimed by T. H. Hitchcock that his son was driving an auto and that a traffic sign was so low it struck and ruined the top of the auto. The council will decide whether or not the driver was guilty of contributory negligence. It cost $25.00 to repair the top of the auto. Hitchcock claims. Hitchcock said, "I know you gentlemen to be fair-minded and will give me justice."

President Considers Legislative Program

By EDWARD B. LOCKETT
International News Service Staff Correspondent.

WARM SPRINGS, Ga., Nov. 26.—President Roosevelt today studied plans and data presented to him within the past few days with a view to formulating the legislative program which his new deal will send to the new congress in January.

Politics were the order of the day, with the separate leader, Senator Joseph T. Robinson of Arkansas, the Democratic leader of the senate, and Senator Pat Harrison of Mississippi, chairman of the senate finance committee, as with him.

The impending action of the new congress on the soldiers' bonus was one of the matters considered. Apparently, Mr. Roosevelt has decided that this is an issue which must be met at the session of congress which will convene in January, and is prepared to meet the issue with a decision.

Unprejudiced officials of the administration were of the opinion that the new congress would probably enact legislation calling for immediate payment of the remaining portion of the bonus. To all intents and purposes, the administration not only is prepared to meet such a situation, but expects it. Officials near the White House would not venture the opinion that such action was inevitable, but on the other hand, they obviously did expect such a move.

Should legislation calling for payment of the bonus be enacted, it would be the job of Harrison's finance committee to dig up the money to pay the bill.

Observations In 7th Ward

Stan Treser, former councilman, and one of the men who surveyed the Madison-Liberty intersection some time ago, said today that a storm sewer will not be necessary at that point if a re-grading job is done properly. He explained that proper drainage could be achieved if the flooded point was repaved to a right level and slant.

Although the sale of turkeys is always large on Thanksgiving, a local market owner says the demand is even greater at Christmas. As a general rule folks ask for chickens at Thanksgiving and the turkey gets its glorification at Christmas. Last year proved an exception to that rule, however, so a marketer never can be absolutely sure.

Wednesday will be the last day of school at Mahoning and throughout New Castle. Local college students are already returning to their homes here for the Thanksgiving season.

BACK TO WORK

John Robinson of near East Brook returned to his duties at the Mahoningtown postoffice last week, after an absence of several weeks due to illness.

GIRL SCOUT TROOP

Mahoningtown Girl Scouts will meet at 4 p. m. Tuesday at Mahoning school.

SEVENTH WARD PERSONALS

Miss Lucille McGuire, of North Cedar street, returned home late last week from a motor trip in Michigan with friends.

Miss Helen Anderson, who is a patient in a Pittsburgh hospital, is expected to spend Thanksgiving at her home, West Madison avenue. She will arrive here Wednesday and return to Pittsburgh Friday.

Hershey Auxiliary Service Of Thanks

Mrs. A. B. Fankhouser and Mrs. F. L. Orlin have arranged a most interesting program for Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock in the auditorium of the First Presbyterian church when the Hershey Auxiliary has its annual praise and Thanksgiving service.

All members of the congregation and friends will be welcome at this time. Special music numbers in keeping with the service will be sung.

If you would be slightly ahead of the times, wear thin black hosiery both for daytime and evening.

A Message to Boys & Girls Who Love Their Mothers

With Christmas just around the corner, it's almost time to think what you're going to give mother this year.

As a rule, the things she likes cost a lot of money—more than small folks can afford. But here something she'll like and will use and will be delighted to get, and it's not really expensive.

For only 25c and two coupons from Fairlawn Supreme Coffee, you can get mother a beautiful enameled vanity case, with her very own initials put on the top. The top can be had in any bright color she wants, probably to match her party dress or evening gown.

If you tried to buy this useful gift in a store it would probably cost $2.00 so you can see what a big bargain this is.

Christmas will be here before you know it, so you had better get those coupons now and send them in. Mother can get Supreme Coffee at any Fairlawn Store.

Plan To Revise Waterway Treaty

Many Of Material Objections To St. Lawrence Plan Will Be Removed

OPPOSITION IS STILL VERY KEEN

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26.—A new St. Lawrence waterway treaty, eliminating many of the material objections to the pact rejected by the senate last spring, is being negotiated by the American and Canadian governments.

Contrary to American rumors, the new pact will be materially different from the one submitted to the last senate. It will face just as stiff opposition as the original treaty but the fight may develop over secret agreements, rather than on the local issues previously raised.

Changes Proposed

Among the changes will be:
1. An outright declaration of American sovereignty over Lake Michigan.
2. A release of the American government from sole responsibility for excess costs, which might reach $500,000,000.
3. Elimination of all reference to the flow of water at Chicago for the drainage canal there.

These changes might pacify the opposition of Illinois, whose senators, Lewis and Dieterich, led the successful battle to defeat the first pact. Lewis declined to say whether he would support or fight the new treaty until he has had a chance to study the complete agreement. He said:

"If this be true, it removes from the treaty the provisions upon which the great controversies revolved that resulted in the treaty's rejection last March. However, I cannot now say what will be the fate of the new treaty."

Juniors Rally Sunday Afternoon

Calvary Presbyterian Church Wins Banner For Highest Percentage Of Attendance

Members of the Junior Christian Endeavors from the First Christian, the First Congregational, Reformed Presbyterian, Rose Point Reformed, Mt. Hermon, Mahoning Presbyterian, Enon Valley and Bessemer Presbyterian churches attended the rally held Sunday afternoon in the First Christian church under the leadership of Miss Myrtle Riley. There were over 200 children and 500 adults in attendance.

The Rev. D. L. Ferguson of the Highland U. P. church gave the address of the afternoon, speaking on missionary heroism and fortitude. A period of song opened the program with Griff Thomas as the leader and Emma Patton at the piano.

The Bessemer Presbyterian church juniors were in charge of the devotional exercises and acquitted themselves like veterans, with a duet by two of the children. Doris Garner of the Reformed Presbyterian church gave a reading and little May Schlumberger of the Calvary Presbyterian church also spoke.

The Calvary Juniors presented an interesting play, "Color Blind", which was well received.

A spirited contest waged between the societies for the prize banner, which was given for the highest percentage of attendance. This was won by the Calvary Presbyterian church juniors, who will keep it for the next six months.

Judges were the Rev. R. T. Williams, Mrs. S. Smith and the Rev. D. C. Schnebly. Dr. G. S. Bennett pronounced the benediction.

Renew Plan To Free Aviation

Would Divorce Aviation From Army And Navy Branches Of Service

EXPANDED AIR FORCE PROPOSED

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26.—A new drive to free military aviation from domination by other branches of the army and navy will be started in the 74th congress.

Rep. John J. McSwain (D) of South Carolina, chairman of the house military affairs committee, announced today he will propose two legislative steps to this end.

With the administration opposing creation of a separate department of national defense, with navy, aviation and army branches, aviation enthusiasts plan temporarily to limit their fight to intermediate proposals.

Need Efficiency

Characterizing the new general headquarters air force as a step in the right direction, McSwain said: "It is an organization for a swift and concerted effort to place aviation forces where most needed. Legislation introduced by me in the last session clearly contemplated this first step but it also included two additional steps necessary to the highest efficiency of our air power as an agency of defense."

These two other steps are a separate promotion list for aviation and a separate budget with separate administration. There is less reason why air pilots should be under the general staff of the army than that the fleet should be. Air power is more distinct from ground forces than are battleships.

McSwain plans to introduce legislation authorizing an expanded air force. With 1,800 military planes now authorized, the new program probably will call for 3,600 planes.

President Considers Legislative Program

By EDWARD B. LOCKETT
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WARM SPRINGS, Ga., Nov. 26.—President Roosevelt today studied plans and data presented to him within the past few days with a view to formulating the legislative program which his new deal will send to the new congress in January.

Politics were the order of the day, with the senate leader, Senator Joseph T. Robinson of Arkansas, the Democratic leader of the senate, and Senator Pat Harrison of Mississippi, chairman of the senate finance committee, as the conferees who were to meet with him.

The impending action of the new congress on the soldiers' bonus was one of the matters considered. Apparently, Mr. Roosevelt has decided that this is an issue which must

Plan To Revise Waterway Treaty

Many Of Material Objections To St. Lawrence Plan Will Be Removed

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26.—A new St. Lawrence waterway treaty, eliminating many of the material objections to the pact rejected by the senate last spring, is being negotiated by the American and Canadian governments.

Contrary to American rumors, the new pact will be materially different from the one submitted to the last senate. It will face just as stiff opposition as the original treaty but the fight may develop over secret agreements, rather than on the local issues previously raised.

Changes Proposed

Among the changes will be:

1. An outright declaration of American sovereignty over Lake Michigan.
2. A release of the American government from sole responsibility for excess costs, which might reach $500,000,000.
3. Elimination of all reference to the flow of water at Chicago for the drainage canal there.

These changes might pacify the opposition of Illinois, whose senators, Lewis and Dieterich, led the successful battle to defeat the first pact. Lewis declined to say whether he would support or fight the new treaty until he has had a chance to study the complete agreement. He said:

"If this be true, it removes from the treaty the provisions upon which the great controversies revolved that resulted in the treaty's rejection last March. However, I cannot now say what will be the fate of the new treaty."

Observations In 7th Ward

Stan Treser, former councilman, and one of the men who surveyed the Madison-Liberty intersection some time ago, said today that a storm sewer will not be necessary at that point if a re-grading job is done properly. He explained that proper drainage could be achieved if the flooded point was repaved to a right level and slant.

Although the sale of turkeys is always large on Thanksgiving, a local market owner says the demand is even greater at Christmas. As a general rule folks ask for chickens at Thanksgiving and the turkey gets its glorification at Christmas. Last year proved an exception to that rule, however, so a marketer never can be absolutely sure.

Wednesday will be the last day of school at Mahoning and throughout New Castle. Local college students are already returning to their homes here for the Thanksgiving season.

BACK TO WORK

John Robinson of near East Brook returned to his duties at the Mahoningtown postoffice last week, after an absence of several weeks due to illness.

GIRL SCOUT TROOP

SEVENTH WARD PERSONALS

Miss Lucille McGuire, of North Cedar street, returned home late last week from a motor trip in Michigan with friends.

Miss Helen Anderson, who is a patient in a Pittsburgh hospital, is expected to spend Thanksgiving at her home, West Madison avenue. She will arrive here Wednesday and return to Pittsburgh Friday.

Renew Plan To Free Aviation

EXPANDED AIR FORCE PROPOSED

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26.—A new drive to free military aviation from domination by other branches of the army and navy will be started in the 74th congress.

Rep. John J. McSwain (D) of South Carolina, chairman of the house military affairs committee, announced today he will propose two legislative steps to this end.

With the administration opposing creation of a separate department of national defense, with navy, aviation and army branches, aviation enthusiasts plan temporarily to limit their fight to intermediate proposals.

Need Efficiency

Characterizing the new general headquarters air force as a step in the right direction, McSwain said: "It is an organization for a swift and concerted effort to place aviation forces where most needed. Legislation introduced by me in the last session clearly contemplated this first step but it also included two additional steps necessary to the highest efficiency of our air power as an agency of defense."

"These two other steps are a separate promotion list for aviation and a separate budget with separate administration. There is less reason why air pilots should be under the general staff of the army than that the fleet should be. Air power is more distinct from ground forces than are battle ships."

McSwain plans to introduce legislation authorizing an expanded air force. With 1,800 military planes now authorized, the new program probably will call for 3,600 planes.

Mrs. A. B. Fankhouser and Mrs. F. L. Orth have arranged a most interesting program for Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock in the auditorium of the First Presbyterian church when the Hershey Auxiliary has its annual praise and Thanksgiving service.

A Message to Boys & Girls Who Love Their Mothers

With Christmas just around the corner, it's almost time to think what you're going to give mother this year.

As a rule, the things she likes cost a lot of money—more than small folks can afford. But there's something she'll like and will use and will be delighted to get, and it's not really expensive.

For only 25c and two coupons from Fairlawn Supreme Coffee, you can get mother a beautiful enameled vanity case, with her very own initials cut on the top. The top can be had in any bright color she wants, probably to match her party dress or evening gown.

If you tried to buy this useful gift in store it would probably cost $2.00 so you can see what a big bargain this is.

Christmas will be here before you know it, so you had better get those coupons now and send them in. Mother can get Supreme Coffee at any Fairlawn Store.

Members of the Junior Christian Endeavors from the First Christian, the First Congregational, Reformed Presbyterian, Rose Point Reformed, Mt. Hermon, Mahoning Presbyterian, Enon Valley and Bessemer Presbyterian churches attended the rally held Sunday afternoon in the First Christian church under the leadership of Miss Myrtle Bailey. There were over 200 children and 500 adults in attendance.

The Rev. D. L. Ferguson of the Highland U. P. church gave the address of the afternoon, speaking on missionary heroism and fortitude. A period of song opened the program with Grift Thomas as the leader and Emma Patton at the piano.

The Bessemer Presbyterian church juniors were in charge of the devotional exercises and acquitted themselves like veterans, with a duet by two of the children, Doris Garner of the Reformed Presbyterian church gave a reading and little May Schlumberger of the Calvary Presbyterian church also spoke.

The Calvary Juniors presented an interesting play, "Color Blind", which was well received.

A spirited contest waged between the societies for the prize banner, which was given for the highest percentage of attendance. This was won by the Calvary Presbyterian church juniors, who will keep it for the next six months.

Judges were the Rev. R. T. Williams, Mrs. S. Smith and the Rev. D. C. Schnebly. Dr. G. S. Bennett pronounced the benediction.

Apart from a few thousand Aborigines only 4,850 people now live in the Northern Territory of Australia, which covers more than 500,000 square miles, according to a census just completed.

Unprejudiced officials of the administration were of the opinion that the new congress would probably enact legislation calling for immediate payment of the remaining bonus and purposes. The administration not only is prepared to meet such a situation, but expects it. Officials near the White House would not venture the opinion that such action was inevitable, but on the other hand, they obviously did expect such a move.
